To the Members of the Class of 1905:—

As this Class Report is the most important compilation of 1905 information until our 25th Anniversary, I have been most anxious to make it as complete as possible. From now for the next fifteen years most of us will be perfecting ourselves in the callings which we, after ten years of testing, have finally decided upon, so that no great changes may be expected in the Class as a whole, until with at least $100,000 we again present ourselves for inspection to our Alma Mater in 1930. Therefore, it has been my desire to give in this publication a complete account of the important happenings in the life of each member of our class, so that in years to come we may look back and trace the early history of many distinguished men.

It has been difficult to get everyone to give me the information I desired, as many have written only a few lines, and a few have failed to send me any news whatsoever. Fortunately, however, a large proportion of the Class have responded amiably to my repeated requests, and to this faction I am indebted for any value that the Report may have.

Please keep me continually posted as to your whereabouts, and also notify me of important events in your lives. In every issue of the Harvard Graduates' Magazine under "News from the Classes" you will find in tabloid form the news of 1905.

Sidney Curtis has been a great help to me in the publication of this report, and I take pleasure in hereby acknowledging my deep gratitude to him for his assistance.

Sincerely yours,

SAMUEL NEILSON HINCKLEY.

JOHN MOSELY ABBOT

Born	Westford, Mass., April 27, 1884.
Parents	Abiel Jacob Abbot, Alice Mosely Abbot.
School	St. Mark's School, Southboro, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1904.
Degrees	A.B., 1905 (04).
Unmarried
Occupation	Efficiency Engineer.
Address	(home) Westford, Mass. (business) P. O. Box 214, Newark, N. J.

I am an efficiency engineer. My business consists of analyzing factory costs and introducing new methods in management and manufacturing with the idea of making these same costs less. In this capacity I have done work in several different lines of business, scattered geographically all over the country. This continually brings up a succession of new problems to be solved. I find this thoroughly interesting and I enjoy it. I could have wished that the school of Business Administration had been established when I was in college as it would have helped me very much in what I am now doing.

(business) 56 William St., New York, N. Y.

Started work at once after leaving Harvard as machinist in construction of motor boats operated by fuel oil. Not successful enterprise. From that I entered the construction end of the Ozone machine business. This proved most interesting and fairly lucrative; but the company failed. Next I hit the investment trail and was connected with an embryo banking concern which also went broke. A veritable hoodoo, I. This brings me to 1910 and the time when at last I found a good berth in a strong investment banking house where I have worked ever since with much contentment. In 1911, I took a wife with whom I am on most friendly terms in spite of the sad fact that my family numbers but two. But hope springs eternal. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Buffalo Country Club, Essex County Country Club, Squadron "A" Club.

Upon graduating in 1905, in fact my senior year, also, I spent in the Graduate School and the Lawrence Scientific School, a portion of the time being an Assistant in Engineering, I received the degree of S.B., in Mechanical Engineering in 1907. Then I accepted the position of rodman with the Charles River Basin Commission. This position I resigned, did considerable private engineering work, and then in December became designing engineer for the Office, Bank and Library Co., of Boston. The following May, 1908, I became first assistant engineer for Ingalls & Kendrick, Inc., of Boston. In December of that year I became chief engineer for McLean, Cousens Co., of Boston which position I held till April, 1910, when I became chief engineer of Smith, Alden & Co., of Boston. I relinquished my position in December of that year on account of poor health, and for five months did considerable research work in engineering, followed in April, 1911, by a position with Densmore & Le Clear, Engineers and

ROGER NASH BALDWIN

Born	Wellesley Hills, Mass., Jan, 21, 1884.
Parents	Frank Fenno Baldwin, Lucy Cushing Nash.
School	Wellesley High School, Wellesley, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A.B., 1905 (1904) A.M., 1905.
Unmarried
Occupation	Secretary, Civic League.
Address	(home) 3739 Windsor Place, St. Louis, Mo. (business) 911 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

On leaving college I spent a year in Europe, with my family, in travel and study, returning in the summer of 1906 to attend the Harvard Summer School, preparatory to taking a position in St. Louis as Instructor in Sociology at Washington University, and as head of a large neighborhood house in the congested district of the city. I began that work in the fall of 1906, continuing to hold the University appointment for three years, when the department was enlarged and combined with a professional training school for social workers (the School of Social Economy) of which I have been a director since its foundation.

In December, 1907, I was appointed Chief Probation officer of the Juvenile Court of the City of St. Louis, giving up my position as head of the neighborhood house. In that work I had charge of investigation of all cases of negligent or delinquent children coming into the court and the probationary oversight of some 1500 children under the guardianship of the Court. I had fourteen assistants in the work. In September, 1910, I became Secretary of the Civic League of St. Louis, a large citizens' organization devoted to the welfare of the city, and particularly to the improvement and extension of our city government. This work has taken me into every activity of local government and also into state affairs. Practically every problem of the community comes within the field of activity of the organization. I was one year (1912-13) President of the State Conference for Social Welfare (at that time known as the State Conference of Charities and Corrections) and Chairman of the Social Service Conference, a body of some three hundred persons active in social service work in the City of St. Louis. I was Secretary of the National Probation Association, representing judges and probation officers 1908-10, and Secretary of the special committee of that association which prepared an exhaustive report on Juvenile Courts and Probation.

In my civic work I have a number of other obligations, being the Advisory Editor of the National Municipal Review, the local representative of The Survey and chairman or member of a number of standing committees of the National Conference of Charities and Correction. I was also Secretary of the Children's Commission, appointed by the Mayor to devise a proper system of caring for unfortunate children in the City of St. Louis. The recommendations of this committee are now being carried out by the City. I have kept bachelor quarters in St. Louis with various Harvard men during my eight years here. Author: "Juvenile Courts and Probation" (MacMillan & Co., 1914). Joint author with Bernard Flexner. Various articles for civic publications and various reports on subjects of local interest to St. Louis and Missouri. both '05 men. The next year I was back at college specializing in mathematics, pedagogy and psychology. I found the place sadly changed even in that short time, as life in the Graduate School was very different from that in College. The following year I taught in the high school in Chattanooga, and after a summer in the mountains of West Virginia, I came west to Los Angeles and have been here ever since. I am teaching mathematics at Harvard School, a day and boarding school of about 150 pupils. There are several '05 fellows in the vicinity, and I frequently see Olmstead, Henneberger and occasionally meet Gring. Last summer I married and am living at home for the first time after ten years in boarding schools. Member: University Club of Los Angeles.

ROBERT EDWARD BARRETT

Born	Framingham, Mass., June 28, 1881.
Parents	Frederick Barrett, Laura Maria Nutting.
School	Framingham High School, Framingham, Mass.
Years in College	1902-1904.

After leaving Harvard in June, 1905, I entered the employ of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on the Engineer Corps, employed in the construction of the Charles River Dam and the incidental park improvements in the vicinity. During my employment by the Charles River Basin Commission my duties consisted in the design of steel and masonry structures and hydraulic works. In September, 1907, I entered the employ of the Board of Water Supply of the City of New York. This Board was just beginning the construction of the $160,000,000 Catskill water supply to supplement the inadequate supply from the Croton reservoirs. During this employment three years were spent on the design of the system and two years on construction of rock tunnels for water supply beneath the island of Manhattan.

In January, 1913, I entered the employ of the Directors of the Port of Boston in charge of design, which position I am holding at the present time. While here designs have been made for the construction of the $4,000,000 pier constructed by the State at South Boston. Preliminary and contract plans have also been made for the construction of the largest dry dock in the world estimated to cost $3,250,000 and plans for a pier to be constructed in East Boston at a cost of $1,000,000. Comprehensive plans have been made as a guidance for the development of Boston harbor as a whole. RECORDS OF THE CLASS

In June, 1905, I left for Schenectady, N. Y., accompanied by Douglas L. Furness (1904), to enter the testing department of the General Electric Company. I worked in the factory for two years, at the end of which time I was transferred to the engineering department. There I spent about six months when I entered the office of Stone and Webster at Boston, Mass. I spent about five months in their office. In the summer of 1908 I left and went to the Stone and Webster property at Fort Worth, Tex., where I remained until the fall of 1909. In November, 1909, I left for Everett, Wash., where I was connected with the local Stone and Webster property.

In 1911, I took up some work in the engineering department of the General Electric Company at their principal office at Schenectady, and remained in that department for some six months at the end of which time I entered the Power and Mining Department at Schenectady. In October, 1912, I went to Minneapolis, Minn., where I assumed charge of the work of the local office of the General Electric Company pertaining to industrial applications. I spent several months of the time I was there in the office of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company. In March, 1914, I left Minneapolis to enter upon work in the Power and Mining Department of the Chicago office of the General Electric Company, where I specialized on certain power applications. In July, 1914, I was hurriedly called to Butte, Mont., to handle work for the General Electric Company there. The work in this state is principally mining and hydro-electric plants but we also have a considerable amount of work on irrigation projects, etc., and have recently obtained a contract for electrifying 114 miles of the C. M. and St. P. Ry. Occupation	Archaeologist (North African).
Address	(home) 31 Lime St., Boston, Mass. (business) Peabody Museum, Cambridge, Mass.

My time since leaving Harvard has been almost wholly passed in the field in Syria, Egypt, Tripoli, the Libyan Desert, Nubia and the Sudan. During the past ten years I have been on a number of expeditions, chiefly English ones. Recently I have begun to specialize in the ancient cultures of the southern Mediterranean (North Africa) where I hope to continue excavating for some years. In the spring of 1914, I was appointed Curator of African Archaeology and Ethnology in the Peabody Museum, a post which allows me enough freedom to carry on my field work as I had planned. Born	Overisel, Mich., March 21, 1884.
Parents	David Birkhoff, Jane Droppus Birkhoff.
School	Lewis Institute, Chicago. Ill.
Years in College	1903-1905.
Degrees	A.B., 1905; A.M. (postponed) 1906; Ph.D., (University Chicago), 1907.
Married	Margaret E. Grafius, Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2, 1908.
Children	Barbara, Aug. 16, 1909; Garrett, Jan. 10, 1911.
Occupation	Teacher.
Address	(home) 49 Shepard St., Cambridge, Mass.

After leaving Harvard in 1905 I studied mathematics for two years at Chicago, received my Doctor's degree in that subject in 1907. I then taught for two years at Wisconsin. From Wisconsin I went to Princeton, where I was preceptor from 1909-1911, and professor of mathematics for the year 1911-1912. Since that time I have been assistant professor of mathematics at Harvard University.

My main interest lies in mathematical research and my successes, such as they are, have been in that direction. The thing which I have done which has attracted as much attention as any one thing, was to prove a simple geometric theorem — announced by the celebrated French mathematician, Henri Poincaré, as presumably true shortly before his death, which was important in certain problems of dynamics. I am at present an associate editor of the Transactions of the American Mathematical Society, and have done other similar editorial work. Author: Various mathematical articles here and abroad. Member: Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity, American Mathematical Society, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Circolo Matematico di Palermo, Berliner Mathematische Gesellschaft.

After graduation I spent two years in the Harvard Graduate School, and acted as assistant in history i.e., in Harvard College and Radcliffe. The next two years I studied law at Boston University Law School, receiving my degree and passing bar examinations in 1909. In the fall of that year I entered the office of Warren Hoague James & Bigelow at 84 State St., Boston, remaining there one year, since which time I have practiced law on my own account in the Tremont Building, Boston. An unusually large number of bankruptcy cases have fallen to my care and in this way my practice has been mostly in the United States Courts. I travelled in Europe during part of Senior year, then worked in Philadelphia for newspapers and for the Curtis Publishing Company. I was in the Graduate School, 1906-1907, and passed the next year at the Sorbonne in Paris as Exchange Fellow and Lecteur pour l'anglais. Then more travels in France, and freelance magazine work in Philadelphia and New York. Successively I worked on the editorial staffs of The Nation and The Independent, where I was for a time literary editor. In 1913, I left The Independent to join Collier's Weekly as editorial writer, and I am still at that job. I spent some good weeks in Ireland last summer, but instead of Civil war breaking out while I was there to watch it the European war broke instead, and I was denounced as a German spy, arrested at Cleggan, County Galway, searched and removed to the Barracks at Clifden. In spite of such persecutions, I enjoyed Ireland and root for the Allies. Author: Edited "Letters from an American Farmer," by St. John de Crèvecoeur; E. P. Dutton & Co., 1912. Occupation	Life Insurance Agent.

Address	(home) 16 Bemis Road, Wellesley Hills, Mass. (business) 30 State St., Boston, Mass.

After graduation I went to work with my father who was the author and publisher of the Blakeslee Sunday School Lesson Series. An attack of typhoid fever, followed by a slow convalescence, was a stroke of good luck in that it resulted in an extended European trip in 1906. In 1911, the lesson series were sold to a New York firm. I remained in Boston, taking up work with the Provident Life and Trust Co., of Philadelphia, as special agent, an occupation which has proven very congenial. My particular avocation is the Single Tax movement. Since the fall of 1914, I have been living at Wellesley Hills. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Maugus Club of Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts Single Tax League.

Occupation	Teacher.
Address	Chestnut Hill Academy, Chestnut Hill, Pa.

After graduation in 1904, as of 1905, I decided to get an idea of practical law before going back to Harvard Law School, and so worked for a while in an office in Providence, R. I. After three months of it, I went into special journalistic work, doing a little of everything on "The Real Estate Register and Trade Journal," published in Providence. But that did not prove any better, as far as a liking was concerned. Came to Chestnut Hill Academy in the fall of 1905 as instructor in French and Latin and have been here since. In the past ten years nothing very important has happened to me, except an operation for ulcer of the duodenum. Have been in France and spent most of my summers fishing in different parts of New England and Canada. I probably shall teach a few more years and then will return to a poultry and fruit farm. Member: Harvard Club of Philadelphia.

After leaving college, I entered the employ of The Bourne Fuller Co., of Cleveland, iron and steel merchants, and manufacturers, and operators of several rolling mills, blast furnaces, and coke plants. I have been associated with that company ever since. I at present hold the position of assistant treasurer of that company. I have spent most of the past ten years in or about Cleveland, but have twice travelled rather extensively in Europe since leaving college. In the fall of 1907, I married Miss Frances Payne Bingham of this city and have the further distinction of having two sons, aged five and three, who have both declared their allegiance to Harvard by the color of their hair.

Aside from being assistant treasurer of The Bourne Fuller Co., I am treasurer of the Searight Supply Co., of Uniontown, Pa., and director in the following companies: The Cleveland Trust Co., The Standard Welding Co., The Iceless Refrigeration Co., all of Cleveland. I am also a director of the Mayfield Country Club and a member of the sub-vestry of Trinity Cathedral of this city. In civic work I am a member of The Tax Commission, recently appointed by the City Council; and in philanthropy work, a member of the Executive Committee of the Associated Charities of this city, and a member of the Finance Committee of the Visiting Nurse Association of Cleveland. Member: Union Club, University Club, Tavern Club, Country Club, Mayfield Country Club, Harvard Club, all of Cleveland; Harvard Club of New York.

Address	(home) 2 Antrim St., East Boston, Mass. (business) Brooks cor. Bennington Sts., East Boston, Mass.

After leaving college with my Bachelor's degree, I entered, in the fall of 1904, the Harvard Medical School and continued until my graduation in 1908. From June, 1908, to June, 1909, my time was spent as interne at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Boston, Mass. Being born under an unlucky star, I was early doomed to eke out a living by the honest sweat of my brow. I therefore entered into the general practice of medicine, and have not yet made my exit. In the fall of 1910, I found a mate who was willing to share my sorrows, which have thus far consisted of a healthy boy and a pair of bouncing twins. I consider myself the Ty Cobb for the years 1912, 1913.

By misrepresenting my abilities I have succeeded in becoming a medical examiner for the John Hancock Life Insurance Co., New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., and the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Co. At present I am a member of of the Child Hygiene Department of the Board of Health of the City of Boston.

After graduating from college in 1905, I entered the Harvard Medical School, from which I graduated in 1909. I entered the Massachusetts General Hospital in March, 1910, on the West Medical Service, under Dr. Frederick C. Shattuck and graduated August 1, 1911. Until the end of the following December, Mrs. Bowditch and I travelled, visiting the chief medical centers in Scotland, England, Holland, Germany, Austria and France. In the course of the trip we looked up Dr. Paul Lamson, 1905, who, not content with "dreaming of the happy land" had settled in Würzburg — doing chemical analysis, he said.

In February, 1912, I hung up my shingle at 636 Beacon St., Boston, and lived here till September, 1913, then moving to my present address in Brookline. In July, 1912, I became assistant to Drs. H. D. Arnold '85 and Ralph C. Larrabee '93, which position I still hold. From February, 1912, to June, 1914, with the exception of six months at the end of 1912, I was visiting physician to the Massachusetts Babies Hospital in Jamaica Plain. This institution was closed in June, 1914. Member: American Medical Association, Massachusetts Medical Society, Aesculapian Club, Harvard Travellers' Club, Massachusetts Reform Club, American Ornithologists Union, Nuttall Ornithological Club, Harvard Medical Alumni Association.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

In June, 1905, I went abroad meeting Roger Derby in London. After two months in France, Spain and Italy we sailed from Brindire to Bombay. Morris Tilden, Jr., joined us in Italy and we three travelled together to Japan. Tilden went on to San Francisco about a month ahead, Derby and I following, arriving home in June, 1906. From September, 1906, to June, 1909, I tried without success to become a note broker. I had a serious illness and was knocked out for a year. In January, 1910, I went to the Massachusetts Agricultural College for the short course and studied dairy farming. In the spring, I took over the management of Millwood Farm, Framingham, and am still here in the dairy business with a herd of 250 cows. I served two years on the Board of Selectmen of Framingham, being chairman the second year. Member: Somerset Club, Boston; Harvard Club, Boston, Harvard Club, New York.

Ten short years ago I drifted into the United States Geological Survey, but jumped out at the first chance to teach at Yale. There I got the fever of work, and by that I mean incessant, grinding toil, that leads to rheumatism, tonsilitis. and the rack. There is such a frightful abyss between A in college and an A in the work of life. But "poco a poco," as the greasers say, things came my way and geography (newest of subjects) had an assured place at Yale (most conservative of institutions). Then came a wholly unexpected turn of events. After July first I shall be director of the American Geographical Society in New York. This doesn't mean much to you, "dear classmate?" Well, come up to Broadway at 156th Street and make it mean more. The door will be open and a cane-bottomed seat always at my immediate right.

What a moving story I could relate of danger by fire and flood, in my travels in South America! Well, I shall not relate it. I am like Horace's singers,

"Asked, they ne'er begin, Unasked, they ne'er leave off."

or words approximately to that effect. A little matter of two thousand miles by muleback through the Central Andes. A year and a half all told. Three expeditions. Camp at temperatures 4 degrees F. below zero. Fun? Don't you believe it. Leave your wife and kids for a month and it's hell. What do you suppose it is like for a half-year at a time? "But by this road they came." (Philexo. xxii, ch. v, 29.)

My soul's delight is in my two boys. I still go about with the haunting fear of a young father lest two such sweet flowers of Heaven be seized by the hand of fate. Red-cheeked, full-throated, sturdy, masculine, noisy boys! In ten years I have come to Heaven's gate thus: a wife, two sons, the joy of incessant work and the friendships and recognition that sweeten toil. I have written the following books: "Forest Physiography," "South America," "The Andes of Southern Peru," "Well-Drilling Method," U. S. Geol. Sur., "Water Resources of East St. Louis," State Geol. On graduating from college I taught Greek, Mathematics and elementary science in the East Maine Conference Seminary at Bucksport, Me. The total Greek department consisted of two pupils and myself and, though I studied Greek five years in High School and four years in college, this is all the direct use I have made of it; yet I do not regret taking it. The next year I taught History, Latin and English at the Powder Point School at Duxbury, Mass. The life here was largely that of a jailer, with every fourth Sunday off, and did not suit my nature at all. Accordingly I made up my mind that I had had enough private school work to last me all my life, and I turned down their offer with a raise of salary to become principal of the Rutland, Mass. High School at a considerable shrinkage of salary. I never regretted this step, for I had been in Rutland but four months when Westport, Conn., offered me a place as principal of its High School which position I accepted in January, 1908. I remained there four years, teaching Science and Mathematics, and then moved to Worcester, where I have since been located teaching Physics in the North High School. Have published two pamphlets: "The Critical Years, Fourteen to Sixteen" (1910); "Discipline, Its Ways and Means" (1911) Member: Alpha Phi Sigma of Harvard, Worcester Harvard Club.

In the summer of 1905, I began work in the Kilburn Mill, New Bedford, Mass., and shortly afterwards went to the Wamsutte Mills in the same city. Here I remained for over a year working as a laborer and learning the manufacturing business. In 1907, an opening in Grinnell Willis & Co., New York, to sell cotton goods was offered me, which I accepted. After almost a year of this work I decided to give up the selling end of the business and return to the manufacturing end, which to me was more congenial. Accordingly I again entered the mill as a laborer — this time at Lowell, Mass., in the Merrimack Mills. Here I remained until 1908 when I went to the Androscoggin Mills, Lewiston, Me., as Superintendent. In the spring of 1911, I accepted the position of General Manager of the French Broad Mfg. Co., Asheville, N. C. In the fall of the same year the owners of this company wished me to assume the duties of general manager of some of their other plants in the South. Accordingly I took charge of the Valley Falls Mfg. Co., Spartanburg, S. C., the Palmetto Cotton Mills, Columbia, S. C., the Lexington Mfg. Co., and the Saxe Gotha Mills in Lexington S. C. While occupied in this work I was elected president of these four mills and was also elected president of the Middleburg Mills, Batesburg, S. C., and of the Southern States Warehouse Co. In addition to these new duties I retained the managership of the French Board Mfg. Co., although I was not an officer of the company. Naturally the nature of my work in the South caused me to travel a great deal, as the plants of which I had charge were very scattered. Furthermore they were very small and their financial standing was none to strong.

When I was offered the position of assistant treasurer of the Pepperell Mfg. Co., of Biddeford, Me., with a chance to live at home in Boston, and the opportunity to connect myself with one of the largest and strongest cotton mills in the world, the chance seemed too good to pass by, although the work in the South was of a constructive nature and extremely interesting. Consequently I resigned my position in the South and last fall (1914) moved home to Boston to assume the new duties at which I am now working, and which are most congenial. In the fall of 1905, I entered the office of Bradley dan Tyson, Boston, and remained with them, learning about the care of real estate property, until June, 1908, when a severe illness compelled me to withdraw from business. The next winter I spent mostly in the South to regain my health, and the following summer went shooting in British East Africa, accompanying an expedition that was collecting specimens for the Agassiz Museum. In the summer of 1910, I began doing social work for the Associated Charities of Boston in the South Boston district, and in the autumn was transferred to District 11 of the same organization. From there, in the fall of 1911, I was transferred to the joint department of the Boston Provident Association and Associated Charities for Helping Homeless Men and remained in this branch of social work until close to the time of my marriage. After that date I spent several months abroad and during the following winter was appointed Deputy Treasurer of Harvard College, a position that I now hold. I am a trustee of the Boston Floating Hospital, a member of the Board of Managers of the Farm and Trades School, member of the Board of Managers of the Boston Provident Association, a director of the Paul Revere Trust Company, Boston, and a vestry-man of King's Chapel, Boston. Early in the summer of 1905, I went to work for the Reading Rubber Company, and Sanford Mills at Reading, Mass. For nearly six years I learned how cloths are coated with rubber and artificial leather compounds, and incidentally learned how to equalize the strain between the selling and manufacturing end of a business. For the next three years I went in business for myself, manufacturing soaps and chemicals. This venture was neither a great success nor a failure. I made a little money (not too much) and gained what I consider a whole lot of valuable experience, for naturally I had to become familiar with every detail of the business. It seemed to me (and still does) that the principles involved in my small business were pretty general in their application. In February, 1914, I sold out to my partner and went to work for the United States Rubber Co., starting for them a new department manufacturing Carriage and Automobile Top Cloth. I am very glad to get back in the "Rubber Game" and hope I will have no further changes to report. I was abroad for four months in 1912, chiefly in England.

I was a member of Battery A.M.V.M., for five years and served one year in the Common Council of Malden, Mass., one year as alderman and one year as chairman of the Board of Aldermen. I have also held several party offices entailing some work and little "fame". I left Harvard at the end of my first year to enter Columbia, where I studied while earning the wherewithal by teaching in the Horace Mann School. The "Horrid Mann" and its bantlings of opulence soon wearied me. At the end of a year I went into a settlement in "Hell's Kitchen," where I earned small emoluments in turning the gangs of the neighborhood into basket-ball teams, and in shifting the interests of various Mickies and Izzies from ash-barrel dumping and city-lamp smashing to back hand-springs and front somersaults in the gymnasium. My first night in the gymnasium was spent in the duties of what was locally known as a "bouncer." The boys had been accustomed to rolling-up my predecessor in the gymnasium mats and throwing him under the shower-bath. Such careless use of myself did not appeal to me as the best means of gaining the respect and affection of my pupils, hence the "bouncing" of a few reckless spirits, who insisted that a broken basket-ball goal or smashed chandelier did not matter much, as "te swell guys on Fit Avenye kin pay for it, anyhow, wat te 'ell!" At the end of two years I graduated from Columbia with the degree of B.S., and left the settlement house with a signet ring presented by the boys I had to throw out the first night, and paid for by the dimes and nickels of all my angels of "Double Fift' Avenye," sometimes called Tenth Avenue. It was the first, last and only present I have ever received from anyone unfortunate enough to have to try and learn something from me. I had never understood it. Some day when I am President of Harvard I will give them all iron crosses for their goodness of heart. Sometimes, when a he or a she tells me what I seem like to him or her, I get the ring out of the safe deposit box, and think of what a decent chap I must have been once.

My next scene of efforts was in one of the city high schools, teaching physiology half my time, and the other half exercising the boys in the back yard of the school. When the weather was bad we forgot our hygiene and exercised in a dusty basement. That school-year I earned enough money to be able to take a vacation from summer work, the first time since I had been a kid that this had happened to me. I read the advertisements "See America First" — and hot-footed it for Europe. Reason: fare to Europe $45; America, represented by California — $75. I got so much for my money that I have made seven trips, the last time fooling a party of friends into letting me show them the way to invest American dollars in the appreciation of Gothic cathedrals — before they became German ruins. I might here modestly remark that a lady known as Mrs. Tom Browne acted as chaperone of this party. Curious to say, she happened to be the youngest member of the "Brownies" as we were called in contrast with the famous tourists known as the "Cookies." So young looking was she that a guide one day told me that my "daughter" had gone into a near-by room. I immediately developed a violent distaste for the whiskers I had been cultivating in conformity with European tastes. I might say that this was not my wife's first appearance on foreign soil. Two years before that we had spent what the French call a "lune de miel" in a little town on the coast of Normandy — St. Valery en Caux, an eighth century town, where D'Artagnan landed after his necklace quest, some of you Dumas readers may recollect. My wife thought it a very romantic place, thatched cottages, ivy covered walls, gardens everywhere perfuming the air, tree arched roadways, and numerous and secluded lovers lanes. I agreed with her for I had picked the place out two or three years before, after subjecting it to one or two minor tests. Go to it! Put the name in your notebooks, you never know when you may need it.

I have stopped for five minutes to try and think of some offices of honor, profit and trust I may have held. As I mentioned in my letter of five years ago, I was a trustful depositor in two banks now in receivers hands — hands with a strong grip, judging from the way nothing escapes from them. My job has been my chief office of honor, trust, and profit. Since 1905, I have been in the Commercial High School in Brooklyn, where I am now chairman of the department of physical training. This is a very swell job, I would have you know. I am the envy of all the small boys in the neighborhood who take off their hats to me and tell their friends they know me. I have a sneaking idea that they think more of my ability to stand on my hands than they do of my ability to stand up under a pile of work. My wife tells me to cut it off — that Hinckley won't print such a lot of stuff. Now she says that she never uses such slang, — also reminds me that I must tell you that we have bought a new home at 1221 President St., Brooklyn, N. Y., where any '05 man who can think back ten years and remember her husband is welcome to call. In the summer of 1905, I started work with the Edward T. Harrington Co., real estate brokers, located at 293 Washington St., Boston. I remained there until May, 1909. During this time, although the firm business was selling real estate on a commission basis, I became very much interested in buying and selling real estate on my own account. In May, 1909, I went into the law office of Raymond M. Adams, and immediately started the study of law with Professor Frank L. Simpson of Boston University. I studied with him evenings for two years and a half, and was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1912. Since that time, I have done considerable law works specializing in conveyancing probate law. Handling probate estates and trust funds has always been a considerable part of our business. Besides this I have made a specialty of buying and selling suburban real estate, having bought and sold about sixty-five houses in the past year. In November, 1913, we formed the Greater Boston Mortgage Corporation, a $250,000 corporation for the investing of money in mortgages. I am a director and assistant treasurer of this corporation. I am also a director in the Wonder-Mist Company, another Massachusetts corporation. During my college course I was much interested in social service. Besides taking courses under Professor Peabody and Dr. Brackett, I entered the Boston School for Social Workers from which I graduated in 1907. After that I took up the study of religious work in Oberlin Seminary, receiving the B.D., degree in 1910. For four years I was pastor of a Congregational church in Ohio. Then I came to New York to assume charge of the statistical work in connection with the Men and Religion Forward Movement. Under my direction the data setting forth the religious and social condition of nearly one hundred cities of this country were collected and made graphic by means of charts, etc., and were otherwise interpreted. When the Forward Movement was completed I acted as field investigator in the Bureau of Social Service of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., with headquarters in New York. The Board of Home Missions found the need of knowing accurately the progress of its work, both in mission fields, and difficult city fields so they provided me with a separate office with the title Research and Statistics. But owing to the criticism of religious-social work, and the consequent falling off of receipts, my office was discontinued the first of this year. I suppose the thing I have developed most since leaving college is the ability to collect, assemble and present facts having to do with social and religious progress. It may be interesting to know that the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company had me design and execute a set of 32 charts presenting the progress of their works. These charts are on exhibition in the San Francisco and San Diego expositions.

NEWELL BLY BURNS

Born	Plaistow, N. H., Aug. 20, 1882.
Parents	William Henry Burns, Elizabeth Margaret George.
School	Holten High School, Danvers, Mass.
Years in College	1902-1905.
Degrees	A.B., 1905; M.D., 1909.
Unmarried
Occupation	Medicine and Institutional Management.
Address	North Reading State Sanatorium, North Wilmington Mass.

I entered Harvard Medical School in the fall of 1905, graduating June, 1909. The following year, 1910, I spent in New York City doing hospital work. I obtained a diploma for service as assistant resident physician at The Manhattan Maternity Hospital. I next took up work at Presbyterian Hospital. This work was interrupted by an indisposition of health which culminated in a severe attack of rheumatic fever, the second visitation in my case of this malady. Usually one has three — or less — such attacks and is then eligible for the necrology page. Therefore, since 1911, I have been up here in the pine woods avoiding such things and localities which predispose to rheumatism. My official designation is assistant superintendent and physician at the North Reading State Sanatorium (for tuberculosis). I like institutional work very much and intend to make it my business. It is not a kid-glove occupation nor is it subject to an 8-hour schedule, rather oftentimes to 16 or 24 hour shifts. I have written several articles upon medical subjects, especially pulmonary tuberculosis, in various medical journals. Member: The American Medical Association, The Massachusetts Medical Society, The American Hospital Association, The American Sanatorium Association, Amity Lodge and Holten Royal Arch Chapter of Masons.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

The year 1905-1906, I was a student in the Harvard Graduate School. From 1905, to September, 1907, I was organist at the First Parish Church, Malden, Mass. In September, 1907, I accepted the position of instructor of pianoforte and theory at Morningside College, Sioux City, Ia., which position I held three years also being organist at the First Congregational church in Sioux City. In July, 1910, I sailed for Europe and enjoyed one year of study and travel abroad. Besides spending the winter in Paris, I travelled in the spring and summer in England, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy, sailing from Naples to Boston in June, 1911. Arriving in Boston in July, I accepted immediately a position in the Conservatory of Music of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn., one of the five schools which exchanges professors with Harvard. The following year I accepted a better position in De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., but only remained there one year being called to the position of the head of the piano department of West Virginia University at Morgantown in May, 1913. I began my duties in September of that year and have thoroughly enjoyed the work since that time. Besides the teaching I find time and opportunity for concert work, some recent appearances being with Kitty Cheatham in Uniontown and Greensburg, Penn., and at the Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Author: song "Sorrow's Tears," 1904, C. H. Thompson, Boston, Publishers. Member: Harvard Club of West Virginia, Musician's Club of New York.

Following the idea I had of going into the teaching profession, in the fall of 1905, I began work at Heathcote Hall, a boys' preparatory school at Harrison, N. Y. Each summer, however, I returned to Cambridge to continue playground work which I had begun my sophomore year in college and I found that it always held for me some vital interest which I seemed unable to find in the artificial conditions necessarily connected with boarding-school life.

After four years at Heathcote I therefore determined to look into the field of social service and was given excellent opportunity by receiving the South End House Fellowship from Harvard. For two years I was holder of the Fellowship and by combining study at Harvard with actual service in the field of South End House activities, under the direction of Mr. Robt. A. Woods, I received the degree of A. M., in 1909. Through my work in the settlement I had become much interested in the movement of making education REAL and after an additional year as director of the educational work of the settlement became convinced that vocational guidance was the lever by which teachers were to make a definite start in the direction of helping to bring about a much needed change in the point of view of education.

In the fall of 1912 there was an experiment being started in Boston called The Placement Bureau and the opportunity it provided of seeing what the public schools were doing in vocational guidance work immediately attracted me to it. I was able to obtain a position as boys' secretary and helped for a year in the placement and follow up work in the five schools selected for the experimental work.

Occupation	Executive Assitant (Cataloguing and Classification).
Address	(home) 5 Elm St., Hanover, N. H. (business) Dartmouth College Library, Hanover, N. H.

From June, 1904, until September, 1910, I held positions in the order and catalogue departments of the Harvard College Library, during a part of which time I was under appointment by the Corporation of the University. In 1910, I came to Hanover, and took charge of the cataloguing and classifying in the Dartmouth College Library. This is my present position. During my stay here, I have been to Boston but twice, in 1911 and 1914. But I have been so fortunate as to be sent as representative of the Dartmouth College Library to meetings in Ottawa and New York City.

I have been at work for some time on two things of importance, outside my official activities. The first is a bibliography of Daniel Webster, the second a classification for workers in the social science. Neither is published, but both are progressing very satisfactorily.

This year I am engaged in Sunday School work, but do not know whether it be what you would call an office of trust. Author: Sources of commercial information [Library Journal, 1910 (?)]; Arrangement of cards under place names in a dictionary catalog, (Library Journal, February, 1913); The group index, or catalog at the shelves (Library Journal, June, 1914); Training for cataloging work (to be published in American Library Association Proceedings, 1915). Finishing college at midyears in our Senior year, I travelled in Europe up to commencement. My business career started with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., where I was for a year. I then entered the employ of S. D. Loring & Son, bankers, and a couple of years later associated myself with Estabrook & Co., bankers, with whom I have been since.

clude directorships in the New Amsterdam Casualty Co., of New York, the American Indemnity Co., of Baltimore, the Bigelow & Dowse Co., of Boston. Shortly after announcing my engagement to be married I was made a trustee of the Home for Aged Couples located in Roxbury, Mass.

My interest in Harvard I have kept active, so far as I could, by occupying for the last two years the office of Secretary of the New England Federation of Harvard Clubs and recently I have been appointed a member of the committee appointed by the Overseers to visit the Graduate School of Business Administration.

In politics I still remain a republican and am treasurer of the Brookline Republican Town Committee. Member: Exchange Club, Boston, Boston Harvard Club, Harvard Musical Association, Boston.

Nothing of particular interest to add since making last report. As there stated, after obtaining my A.B. degree in 1905, went to Harvard Law School for one year, leaving there in the summer of 1906. Almost immediately thereafter entered a law office in Kansas City, Kan., as a partner, although not really admitted to practice in the state at that time. Was formally admitted to practice in the state and Federal Courts in January, 1908, and remained in general practice in Kansas City, Kan., until January 15, 1913. During this time, served as Assistant Attorney General for Wyandotte County, Kan. for about two years, resigning at the end of that period. In January, 1913, became general counsel for Federal Casualty of Detroit, Mich., in which position I have since remained. Member: Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity, Fellowship Club of Detroit.

In June, 1910, Francis T. Colby went to British East Africa, where he engaged his own men and ran his own party without a white hunter. He returned in October. In June, 1911, he was admitted to the Suffolk Bar. On August 1, 1911, he went into the law office of Mr. Samuel Thorne, Jr., in New York. In January, 1912, he was admitted to the New York Bar; has practiced law in Mr. Thorne's office ever since. On August 1, 1914, he sailed for Europe on law business. Early in September he went to Paris to help the Embassy and volunteered at the American Ambulance Hospital in Paris. Seeing the need of treating the wounded as soon as possible after receiving their wounds, he asked for money for cars and volunteers to operate them. By December 1st he had seven cars. On December 7th he was sent to Belgium where he was attached to the First Division of Belgian Cavalry. At that time he had nine cars in his charge. As the time ran out for his volunteers they were replaced by Belgian soldiers. As Francis T. Colby's enlistment had expired with the American Ambulance Corps, he offered his services to the First Division of Belgian Cavalry, where he is now operating with the nine cars that he raised with the assistance of his friends and by his own efforts.

Very truly yours,

The fall after graduation I entered the Harvard Law School, but withdrew after a few weeks on account of bad eyes. I travelled during the winter and spring of 1906, in Italy, France and England, colliding with genial classmates at frequent intervals. Returning to Louisville in the summer I "read and listened" to law in the office of Augustus E. Willson, one-time partner of Justice John Marshall Harlan of the U. S. Supreme Court, and from 1908 to 1912 Governor of Kentucky. Re-entering the Harvard Law School in the fall of 1906, I graduated with the class of 1909, — a humble servant of the law. Not heeding the "call of the wild" as did a number of my Law School classmates, and turning a deaf ear to the allurements of practice in New York, I attempted to strike a happy medium between the big (New York) and the comparatively small (my native town, Louisville), and came to Baltimore where, in October, 1909, I entered the law department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., and for a year and a quarter was engaged almost exclusively in practice before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In February, 1911, I became a member of the law firm of Smith, Parker & Coleman, Baltimore, still retaining my connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. In March, 1913, I resigned from this firm to become a partner in my present firm, Lemmes, Bowen & Lemmes, but still retain my connection with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co.

There has been little diversity in my life thus far, because I have had a jealous mistress, — the law. My only "offices of honor or trust" are the following which I now hold: I am a member of the Board of Managers of The Federated Charities of Baltimore; an instructor on Negotiable Instruments in the University of Maryland Law School, a member of the Grievance Committee of the Bar Association of Baltimore City, and secretary of the Harvard Club of Maryland.

My vacations have been spent mostly on Long Island (Easthampton) and hunting in the New Brunswick woods. My chief avocations are: first, working for the improvement of the condition of the poor (including lawyers); second, writing, mostly on law and related subjects; third, fox hunting, for I thoroughly believe that nothing is better for the inside of a man than the outside of a horse. Besides, the Aeneid of Virgil ends with a death, and a chase is not complete without it; fourth, but by no means least, attempting to increase the influence of Harvard in a community where, although I am confident there are as many if not more of the durable satisfactions of life to be had than in any other place in the United States, Harvard receives frequent blows "under the belt" given not often through malice, usually simply from habit. Princeton "owns" Baltimore by heredity and geographical nearness. Yale claims second place, but Harvard is making her fight for it. Best of all, there are a number of 1905 men in the fight,—most of them indigenous, but a few transplanted, like myself. I only wish there were more of us here. But I shall see you all at the Reunion. Address	(home) 413 Aberdeen Ave., Hamilton, Canada. (business) Spectator Building, Hamilton, Canada.

After graduation I was engaged as salesman by F. W. Bird & Son, of East Walpole, Mass., paper and roofing manufacturers, and for two years I extolled the merits of "Bird's Neponset Products" throughout New England and New York State. When the firm started a branch factory in Hamilton, Ont., they gave me an opportunity to share in a peaceful invasion of Canada. This meant a year in British Columbia and the prairie provinces of the Northwest. Also a taste of 40 below zero weather that made an opening in a warmer climate appear rather attractive, so my next year was spent in the Southern and Southwestern States. After this thawing out, I returned to the Canadian office, and travelled for three years through Ontario, spending considerable time among the new mining and construction camps in the North.

In the hope of sharing more bountifully in the returns that this rapidly developing country has to offer, I decided in 1912 to enter the real estate and insurance business for myself. While Harvard men do not seem to be very thick on this side of the line we have a membership of fifty in the Harvard Club at Toronto, and try to get together several times a year. For about two years after leaving college I was employed in a crucible steel foundry, working through various departments, as clerk in office, bench moulder or floor moulder, core maker, machinists apprentice and assistant to shipping clerk, etc. During this time and until two years later, I was organist and choir director in a local church. After serving this general apprenticeship I travelled three months in the South for recreation, and spent several months longer in out-of-door life, recuperating from the severe effects of foundry life. In the autumn of 1907, I purchased an interest in the Boston Pressed Metal Co. of Worcester, a small company producing pressed metal parts and specialties. After a year of general work I became superintendent, which I remained until about a year ago, when my duties practically became those of manager. A business trip to England from February to June of this year made an agreeable change and a welcome vacation from several years' continuous work. Member:

After graduation, I went to the Yale Forest School and received the degree of M.F., 1906 (1907). I entered the Forest Service as forest assistant in July, 1906, and until March, 1907, when I returned to finish my course at Yale, I was stationed on the Bighorn National Forest in Wyoming. For short periods during that year I was on the Medicine Bow National Forest and the Coconino National Forest near the Grand Canyon in Arizona. On returning to the Forest Service in July, 1907, and until September, 1909, I was located in Colorado, most of the time on the Rio Grande and San Juan National Forests in the southern part of the state. In September, 1909, I became assistant professor of forestry in the Colorado School of Forestry, a department of Colorado College, and in 1910, became director of the school. As director of the school I was a member of the Colorado Conservation Commission, in which the states' rights controversy in conservation affairs created interesting experiences. In 1912, I became director of the ranger school of the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University. Since October, 1913, I have been in part with the Forest Service at Washington, D. Having received a four year degree in three I stayed on in college in the Graduate School and succeeded in finally getting a one year degree in two, after which I transferred to the Divinity School, under the delusion that Unitarians were as liberal in practice as they are in theory.

After graduating in 1908, and while waiting for a "call," I went on the road with The Ben Greet Players for a season as business manager. I got the seasoning all right, but as my intentions had been since entering college to go into educational work either of adults through the pulpit or of children through the schools, I applied for a position as teacher in the Stone School, Cornwall-on-Hudson, where I had spent four enjoyable years as a boarding scholar. Securing this, I quit "trouping," to put in a summer at the Harvard Physical Education School. After a year at Stone's I returned for a second summer to the summer school, intending to go back in the fall but receiving a tempting offer to go to the Michigan College of Mines, in "the Copper Country" as physical director and instructor in first aid, mine rescue work, and camp sanitation. I enjoyed the life here very much. It was a radical change but exhilarating and was particularly interesting because in addition to my work I got deeply involved in the socialist movement, with which I had been very sympathetic all through college. Here I joined the Socialist Party, became manager of a propaganda lecture course, and then nominee for congress on the socialist ticket. About the same time I also received an invitation to leave the college. Soon after I was appointed one of the national organizers of the Socialist Party to tour New England, making daily propaganda talks to audiences varying from twenty in some local socialist's home, to three or four hundred in the "opera house". This suited me to a T but it was only a short time job after which I got back into the teaching business again, first as a substitute at Milton Academy, then at the present place, the Longwood Day School, Brookline. Having some ideas on the possibilities of educating boys to a very large extent without their knowing they were receiving the deadly germ, through reaching them by helping them to work out various interests they had, such as "wireless," photography, nature studies, carpentry, etc., it seemed best to test them first in a summer camp, so I started one at Readfield, Me., where I am every summer. Nothing of importance: an article in American Educational Review, (1910) occasional outbursts in "Life", "Smart Set", and intermittently in various socialist papers and periodicals.

After leaving college at the end of my Junior year, I went to work with Messrs. Crocker, Burbank & Co., in the paper manufacturing business. I returned to receive my degree with the class in 1905. I remained in the paper business five years, after which time I renounced paper-making for the study of architecture. In June, 1909, went to Paris with my family, was received at the Ecole Superieure des Beaux Arts in 1911, and having passed through the second, midway in the first class, I am now within striking distance of the Diplôme of the School; am unable to continue until the war ends as the school is closed. CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

After leaving college I took the course in the Harvard Law School, and then spent a year in a Boston law office. After that I went to Kansas City, remaining there till 1909, when I came to Chicago, and settled down to practice law. I was with the firm of Sheriff, Dent, Dobyns & Freeman until last summer, when I started practicing independently, as I am now doing.

In 1914, I received the Progressive Party nomination for Associate Judge of the Municipal Court of Chicago. I entered into an earnest campaign, and as Col. Roosevelt would say, "Had a bully good time," but was perfectly sufficiently defeated by my Democratic Apponent. Politics is a fascinating pursuit, but it is no thing for a man who is not going to make a business of it, or who is not independently circumstanced.

There are no particular thrills in practicing law in Chicago, and consequently I have nothing to tell about myself that is of much interest. We are living in a time and a country where work is the overwhelming element in life, and whereas man's work determines his tastes, manners and pleasures. Accordingly, all that I can say of myself is what any other member of the legal profession could as well say of himself: I work hard, play little and am doing fairly well. Member: Sons of the American Revolution, Chicago Bar Association, City Club of Chicago, Chicago Progressive Club, Chicago Harvard Club.

I entered Harvard Medical School in the class of 1908, graduated in that year and after doing out-patient work in the Boston hospitals during the summer, entered the Boston City Hospital as house officer in October. After two very profitable and enjoyable years I left the hospital in July of 1910. I then rested for about a month and returned to the same institution as admitting physician for about six weeks. Leaving the hospital in October I started practice of medicine in Norwood, Mass., taking the practice of another physician who was obliged to go South for his health. After his return seven months later I opened an office in Dedham, Mass., where I remained three months. I did not like the town or perhaps the town did not like me, for I cannot say I did a thriving business, so I came to Waltham where I have practiced ever since. While I was a medical student I became afflicted with an illness from which I believe I will never recover (at least I hope not). It is rather a common heart affection and on April 23, 1913, I took the only treatment known to medicine. The treatment in this case was known as Miss Gertrude Quinn of Waltham. My case has since been greatly relieved although the heart condition was greatly aggravated on Dec. 24, 1914, when I received a little seven pound Christmas present in the form of a beautiful little blue-eyed boy, "Our New-born King." So now with a happy little family and enough practice to keep me out of mischief my life up to date is an open book. I hope that the future may be as pleasant as the past, that my heart condition may never be cured and that every member of 1905 may be as happy as I am. Offices held, president Waltham High School Alumni Association, 1914; member Waltham Planning Board, 1914.

"Your mother-in-law is dead" so ran a despatch. "Shall we embalm, cremate or bury?" Quickly the answer came back, "Embalm, cremate and bury. Take no chances." My tendency is not to hand over my "life", but the fear of all three of these disposals compels me, after dunning everybody else, to write. Another year will probably find me in a changed occupation, hence my hesitancy not to write a story now. I do not want to record here, however, that whatever hopes I may have for the future and whatever realizations of success may come with tomorrow, even a realization of the most optimistic hopes can never wipe out the memories of my work with the Harvard Alumni Association and the deep love of continued service for Harvard which my close connections have created.

In detail the last report covers my work since leaving college: first as instructor in argumentation and public forms of address then as Business Manager of the Harvard Alumni Bulletin and Assistant Secretary of the Harvard Alumni Association since it was established eight years ago. I have continued to address Harvard Clubs, to speak at High Schools, to act on various committees and to serve Harvard in manifold ways. I have been in close connection with undergraduate life as well as with graduate activities. As coach of the Harvard Debating Team I have watched with pleasure two Harvard teams win both sides of the Intercollegiate debate the same evening. In an unofficial capacity I have been an advisor to many deserving boys in college. One gets an unusual amount of return in happiness in working with these boys in college, in trying to extend to them what Dean Briggs aptly calls human sympathy, and in living again with them the life of the college student.

For several years I have operated successfully a boys' camp on the old site occupied for twenty years by Dr. Talbot at Squam Lake, New Hampshire. Sometimes this camp has been criticized because among the Councillors have been such men as "Charlie" Brickley, captain of the football team of this year, "Eddie" Mahan, captain of next year's football team, "Bill" Bingham, track man, and one of Harvard's greatest leaders today, "Tom" Enwright, the captain of this year's freshman football team, "Billy" Murray, the president of the present freshman class and other men who are leaders in Cambridge. The camp is not, however, as has been suggested, a recruiting station for Harvard athletics. A large number of the camp boys are going to Yale. A Harvard-Yale football game leaves them always in a generous and sportsmanlike frame of mind— glad if Yale can win; but happy enough, if Harvard wins, in the success of their individual Harvard friends.

My present plans are unsettled. As I look back upon ten years of service in interests entirely related to Harvard, I shall always remember the eight years with the Alumni Association and the four years spent with 1905 as the best of my life. Wherever I go I shall always hope to serve Harvard whenever time will permit. There is a big work here. The surroundings are most cherished and lovable, and they make one realize more than anything else could the solid satisfaction of being a Harvard man.

Scowls from Sam Hinckley at the last 1905 luncheon, a threatening letter from Sid Curtis, and I start apprehensively to write a connected story. Apprehensively, because Sam's parting injunction "make it interesting" rings in my ears; for, while my life is full of fun and interest to me, these last ten years are marked by no unusual fortune or special achievement which would rouse interest in so distinguished a class. What is one untravelled and without literary, or other distinction, to dwell upon — unless it be money and the means of getting it — a secret well guarded and perhaps of little worth when told.

Having secured a degree in three years, I made the mistake of leaving college at the end of Junior year, a mistake because it separated me from 1905, in the heyday of its youth, and came to New York on that liveliest of all hunts — the search for a job. The hunt ended when Grinnell Willis '70, an old crew man, now a cotton goods merchant, took me into his office, my visible assets having reached the sum of $1.42. However, other incentives to be a merchant developed, and are still developing. My work is to distribute the cloth made by cotton mills in the South and East, and except for an occasional hurried trip to a mill, keeps me in New York. No one in the firm has yet seen fit to resign in my favor, but I might lay claim to being the head of a department. Search for adventure led me to join K. Co., Seventh Infantry N. G. N. Y., but during my seven years service, the metropolitan police seem to have been able to cope successfully with all riots, unaided by my efforts. The only risk a soldier's life has had for me has been the manual (be) labor (ing) necessary to instil in Tom Ybarra, a grain of respect for the authorities who enlisted me. Further search took me to Canada one fall on a moose hunt. Net result was the capture of a four pound brook trout. Since then I've aimed to things nearer the fence than the moon and have had better results in the Adirondacks and the South. Last spring the wanderlust took me fifteen miles out of town where I have a garden patch to farm, and endeavor to make one blade of grass grow on the lawn where three blades grew before. Also I discuss fertilizers learnedly with friends on the morning train.

I have a most friendly feeling for Sam and Sid in spite of scowls and threats — they actually want to print this while I would have to buy space anywhere else for it. Is any class-mate who chances to read this reminded of the host's remarks to Chaucer's Monk?

I spent the winter of 1909-10 studying in Paris. In April, 1910, I returned to Constantinople for newspaper work. I went to Turkey with my wife just as the Italo-Turkish War broke out in September, 1911. Since that time Turkey has had only a few months when not nominally at war. The Balkan cloudburst came in October, 1912. Two years later Turkey entered the European conflict. During 1913 and 1914 I was correspondent for the London Daily Chronical. In January, 1915, I received an appointment from the Associated Press as their Constantinople correspondent.

Address	(home) 10 Bellevue Place, Auburn, N. Y. (business) The Auburn Publishing Co., 34-36 Dill St., Auburn, N. Y.

On leaving college, I became a reporter on the Auburn Citizen, Auburn, N. Y., and in September, 1913, was made editorial writer, which post I now fill. I represent the Associated Press and the leading New York papers in this territory. From November, 1, 1905, until March, 1906, I was seriously ill of typhoid fever in the Auburn City Hospital. Have written about a score of special articles for Sunday magazine and news sections of New York papers— none of them imperishable. On election night, 1908, in carrying election returns I turned a corner and ran my head through a glass door that somebody had closed in the dark, and fourteen stitches were required to help restore my beauty, without success. In the summer of 1910 an insect, supposedly a spider, bit my right ear and infection ensued. The net result was the absence of half an inch of ear when the surgeon's cocoon was removed. In my general newspaper work my duties took me into the electrocution chamber of Auburn Prison a score of times, more or less, and I have become an ardent opponent to capital punishment. In politics I am an Independent Democrat. Was associated with many civic movements here, a member of the Cayuga County Direct Primary League, Secretary of the Cayuga County Woodrow Wilson Club, am now Democratic County Committeeman from my district, and have been delegate to city and county conventions. In the past fall and winter, I have been in charge of Red Cross appeals in this city and have managed other relief appeals incident to the war. Have been member of the executive committee of the George Junior Republic Association, but resigned recently.

P. S.— I was projected into fame recently when my editorial selection of an All-American team for 1914 was read and approved by a Harvard football mass meeting in ratification of the result in New Haven. The editorial appeared in the Auburn Citizen of December 3rd, 1914. The editorial is too long to print. It is enough to say that the article is now well known by almost all Harvard men and that it did add lustre to Dapping's achievements. Editor.

Married	Katherine Myrl Bressler, South Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 7, 1907.
Children	Mary Eleanor, March 14, 1910.
Occupation	Teacher.
Address	(home) 302 Bloomington St., Greencastle, Ind. (business) DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

Immediately after Commencement in 1905, I went to Woods Hole, Mass., where, as for two previous summers, I was employed at the station of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries. In September, I accepted a position as Assistant in Zoology in the University of California and made a quick trip to Berkeley. The college year there was well filled with excitement of various kinds culminating in the earthquake in April which abruptly closed the academic year. I spent the summer at the biological station of the university at La Jolla near San Diego, Cal.

The fall of 1906 I spent at Columbia University in technical work with a little graduate study on the side. During the spring following I taught biology in the High School at Paterson, N. J.

That summer I was in the service of the Bureau of Fisheries at Woods Hole, and in the fall became Professor of Biology at Sweet Briar College, Va., where I remained except for summers at Woods Hole, until the fall of 1909, when I returned to Cambridge for graduate work in connection with an instructorship in Zoology in Radcliffe. My graduate work was in the fields of Zoology and Genetics. In the fall of 1912, having completed the work for Ph.D., I went to Clark College, Worcester, Mass., as Assistant Professor of Zoology. Two years later, I shifted to a professorship in Zoology with charge of the department of Biology at De Pauw University, Greencastle, Ind., where I am at present. Address	(home) 128 E. 19th St., New York N. Y. (business) 5 Nassau St., New York, N. Y.

After graduation from the Law School in 1908 I started work as assistant United States attorney for the Southern district of New York under Henry L. Stimson. In May, 1910, I joined the staff of District Attorney Charles S. Whitman. In the fall of 1912, I resigned to take up private practice; and January 1st, 1913, formed a partnership with Louis F. Reed and Ralph W. Gwinn. During the winter of 1913, most of my time was spent as assistant counsel to the Curran aldermanic committee investigating the police department. Since that time my practice has been "general" in every sense of the word, varying from the defense of men charged with crime in New York to the investigation of commercial matter calling for personal visit to the black republic of Haiti in the midst of an active military revolution. My vacations have been passed abroad or in canoeing in Canada among the Crees and Ojibways. Publications: Nature sketches in Harper's Magazine published in 1905 and 1906. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Bar Association of New York County, Seventh Infantry National Guard, New York.

1911 left me in the coffee business. Shortly thereafter I transferred my activities to the manufacturing and refining of cotton seed oils and products, becoming secretary-treasurer of the Southern Refining and Mfg. Co. of New Orleans, La. This takes practically all my time and with the exception of about a month each summer spent in Maine, I can be found in New Orleans. It is rather different from most cities and, I think, would amply repay a visit. My travels have led me quite often through Texas, and even as far as the Pacific slope and thence east to our old stamping grounds. I wish I could be with you this Decennial, but it seems as if I could not be. I am marrying Miss Jeanette Barr of Virginia and New Orleans on May 11th, 1915. The class Committee asks us to render an account of ourselves after ten years absence from the leading strings of the Alma Mater and, with the thoroughness of the German General Staff, sends a list of questions so searching that to answer them throws one into an introspective mood that has made me, for one, feel very melancholy. In ten years time I have not thought so much about myself as I am thinking now, but perhaps this self searching will lead to good for I find many irregularities and omissions in my career. First, I discover that I am not married, was never divorced, my wife has not died and I have not married again. I have no children, though there is room for five on the reportsheet, and none of them have died or been born, nowhere and at no time. I find only three occupations that seem to be recognized. You can either be or not be a lawyer, a minister or a stock broker. I am a farmer, but we will pass this over rapidly. What have I done since leaving college? Well, first I went round the world with John Bowditch and Sam Tilden and put the finishing touches on my knowledge of geography. When I got back I felt convinced that the world was round but had serious doubts about other facts concerning it that I had been taught at school and college. Then I went treasure hunting with Guy Scull '98, Sam Boylston '05, Stephen Noyes '03 and Hayden Richardson (I forget his class). We found no treasure — which is perhaps just as well. Then I went back to Harvard and ran the Appointments Office for two years and wondered how I ever managed to get a degree.

Three years ago I shook the dust of the North off my feet and repaired to the Sand Hills of North Carolina where I bought 2,000 acres of land and commenced to make myself a farm. I am still making it and expect to be engaged in that same occupation for a number of years to come. It is the best section to live in I know, has the healthiest climate, the best soil and people in the world and as long as Broadway doesn't move from its present location I look forward to many pleasant and profitable years to come.

As an avocation I am interested in the development of the surrounding community. Ordinarily in rural America more care is taken of the health of young pigs than of young children. We are trying to correct this fault in the Sand Hills, and though we treat our pigs with great consideration we are, at the same time, building better schools for the children and trying to give the hook to the hookworm.

We are also trying to solve some of the economic problems of the South, to introduce less wasteful methods of agriculture, teach the people to diversify their crops and to cooperate in marketing. I believe we are making rapid progress, but then I am an optimist.

P. S. After reading this sketch please don't write and ask for a job on the farm.

After leaving college in the summer of 1905, I decided to become an illustrator of no mean ability, and in fact I rather expected that not long after I entered the game Arthur I. Keller would be rolling his own cigarettes. I entered the Art Students League of New York in the fall of 1905 and worked in the classes there two years. During this time my talent got into print only at rare intervals. On one occasion I made some very life-like drawings of dead men for a medical treatise. I decided in 1908 that a little business knowledge added to art would assure me of unheard of success, and I worked for an advertising concern at office boy wages. In 1909, thinking that perhaps it was art itself that was keeping me out of the "Who's Who," I went to Cleveland to sell olive oil. I think olive oil must have been invented in Cleveland; it was there in large quantities when I arrived. I returned to New York and to my drawing in 1910 and I have been doing magazine and book illustrating ever since. I come into contact with vulgar trade only on such occasions as when I make advertising drawings.

I attended the University of California as a student in the mining engineering department from August, 1905, to April, 18, 1906, the date of the big earthquake of San Francisco, which earthquake abruptly ended the academic year, and shook me and many others out of college, never to return. The summer of 1906 I spent in and around Nome, Alaska, as assistant to a party of mining engineers. From October, 1906 to June, 1907, I worked for the People's Water Company of Oakland, California, first in surveying parties, then in the town office. For the next year I was a bookkeeper in the San Francisco National Bank of San Francisco, which institution has since merged with The Bank of California. I left this position in order to go to Washington, D. C., and try the competitive examinations for the position of an assistant paymaster in the U. S. Navy. Having been successful, I was commissioned on July 23, 1908, an assistant paymaster with the rank of Ensign. I have since received the following promotions: on February 13, 1911, Assistant Paymaster, with the rank of Lieutenant, Junior Grade; on August 23, 1912, Passed Assistant Paymaster with the same rank; and on July 1, 1913, Passed Assistant Paymaster, with the rank of Lieutenant.

I served on the Atlantic Station from August, 1908, to September, 1911, the first six months of this time under instruction on the U. S. S. North Carolina, and the remaining two and one half years, as Pay Officer of the gunboat Paducah. I was then transferred at my own request to the Pacific Station, and have served on this station up to the present time, in the following capacities: during the first nine months as Assistant General Storekeeper at the Navy Yard, Mare Island, California; during the summer of 1912 as Pay Officer of the submarine tender Alert and the submarines F-1 and F-2; and from September 1, 1912 to the present time as Pay Officer of the third class cruiser Cleveland. For the last year my ship has been patrolling the west coast of Mexico, and I very much fear I shall still be marooned here at the time of the great Decennial. I served as one of the counsel for the Legal Aid Society of Louisville, Kentucky, during its separate existence and prior to its merger with the Associated Charities of Louisville. In December, 1912, I was elected Master of my Masonic Blue Lodge, serving during the year 1913 as such. In the fall of 1911, I became very much interested in bee-keeping and have kept bees from that time to date, it proving a most interesting as well as lucrative pastime and hobby. In the spring of 1914, I was one of the lecturers in the Bee-keeping Course given by the local Y. M. C. A., under the supervision of its educational department. The only thing I have to fear (?) is that it may be true that a newspaper by way of comment on my address before the Kentucky Bee-keeper's Association last January had to say, "Mr. Dietzman is a bee-keeper—also a lawyer."

Articles "Bees and the Law" read before the Kentucky Bee-Keeper's Association, January 5, 1915, and printed in the "Bluegrass Farmer" of Lexington, Ky., on January 11, 1915, and to be printed in the "Home and Farm" of Louisville, Ky., in February, 1915. the third of May, 1908, I was ordained deacon in the Episcopal Church by Rt. Rev. Wm. N. McVickar, Bishop of Rhode Island. In September, 1908, I went to Ashland, Ore., to take charge of Trinity Church, a small mission. I was in charge of Trinity Church until June, 1911. Bishop Scadding, of Oregon, advanced me to the priesthood on December 20, 1908. My mother died in the spring of 1909, and I returned East for the summer, returning to Oregon in September. In the summer of 1910 I spent five weeks on a missionary tour through the undeveloped counties of south-western Oregon, starting from Grants Pass and driving to Crescent City, Cal., then turning north as far as the Umpqua River, and rejoining the railroad at Drain. In September, 1910, I was drafted to Portland, Ore., to take charge of Trinity Church in that city for seven weeks, during the absence of the rector. In January, 1911, I made a hurried trip home to Providence, R. I., to be present at my sister's wedding. After eleven days in the East I returned to Oregon. That spring I received and accepted a call to become rector of St. George's Church, Central Falls, R. I., and took charge of the parish on the second of July, 1911. I am still here, exceedingly busy, and happy in my work. In January, 1913, I received and declined a call to become rector of St. John's Church, Providence, R. I. In July, 1914, I went abroad with my father, and was in Paris at the outbreak of the war. We got over to England without trouble on the thirteenth of August, and came back to America on the "Laconia", sailing from Liverpool September 1st. Address	(home) 716 Duck St., Stillwater Okla. (business) Alcott Building, Stillwater, Okla.

After leaving Harvard I taught history and economics at the college at Marion, Ind., for one year. I was then elected vice-president of the college at Danville, Ind. I served in this place three years when I was elected president of the school. The college at Danville is a well established school that enrolls about 1200 students a year. On the account of ill health I left here at the close of 1909. I moved onto a farm in Oklahoma to seek health in nature, and succeeded. I am now strong and am superintendent of the city schools of Stillwater, Oklahoma. We have an enrollment of about 900 children. A part of the year I teach in the State A. & M. College of Stillwater.

metallurgy. Remained here until June, 1910, when circumstances arose which made it necessary for me to remain in Boston.

February, 1911, I entered the employ of Cobb, Bates & Yerxa, the well-known grocers of Boston. For a month I was in their Malden store. Then until October in the Causeway Street, Boston, store. For a while I tried my hand at being a salesman with my headquarters at the wholesale store on Summer Street. Prolonged sickness forced me to drop work until March, 1912, when I returned to business, this time with the Beacon Trust Co., 20 Milk Street. I began as messenger, then worked in the check teller and the statement department, and am now with the third teller department.

October 14, 1913, I married and moved to Arlington. Publications: Descendants of Nathaniel Durrell of Kingfield, Me. I served my apprenticeship in the shops of the Long Island R. R. Co., later being appointed Electrical Inspector and then instructor of Engineers on the Electrified division of that road. In 1906, I was placed in charge of the Pennsylvania R.R. Co's electric locomotives which were being tested on the same divisions of the Long Island R. R. In the Fall of 1906 I went to Pittsburg with the Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co., and built several of the New York, New Haven & Hartford electric locomotives. From there I went to Chicago as Railway Construction Engineer for the Westinghouse Co. Just prior to this Chicago appointment I was married in Boston, Mass. In 1908 we went east to Stamford, Conn., where I had charge of certain reconstruction work on the New Haven road. Leaving there in 1909 I became connected with the sales department of the Westinghouse Elec. & Mfg. Co., as sales engineer on railway and power station work. In 1912, I was appointed manager Railway & Lighting Div. of the Detroit office of the Westinghouse Co., remaining there until September, 1914. I resigned that position to become Asst. Sales Manager of the Diamond Power Specialty Co. of Detroit, Windsor, Ont., London, England and (up to that time of the war) Berlin, Germany.

Children	Eleanor, April 9, 1911.
Occupation	Orchardist.
Address	R. F. D., No. 3, Medford, Ore.

The story of my life since leaving college would hardly be called interesting, except to myself, for a constant struggle to rise from debt, while monotonous, is hardly without its moments of excitement. My preliminary heats were with the Chicago Varnish Company as salesman for some six months; two years with the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. as agent under Saml. T. Chase of Chicago, who cheers for the same Alma Mater; one year in the Freight Department of the Louisville & Nashville R. R., and two years with the American Surety Co. in Chicago. My railroad career was particularly interesting in that I probably lost more than I gained as the wrong side of the ledger showed some twenty pounds of flesh to say nothing of an appendix.

Finally, in the spring of 1911, I persuaded five friends in Chicago to purchase an orchard in the Rogue River Valley, near Medford, Oregon, and to allow me to manage it for them with the hope of future remuneration for all parties concerned. If the great war does not kill off all the possible eaters of pears and apples we expect to fulfil our hopes.

The only position of honor or trust that has been accorded me was when I was stated as stakeholder in a small betting transaction. I might add for your information that the winner received the money.

The loyal Harvard men of this Rogue River Valley are hoping that the meeting of the Associated Harvard Clubs in San Francisco in 1915 will bring many of our long lost brothers to visit in Medford, Oregon, on their way out or back,

I sent on one message on loose yellow paper, which was, no doubt thrown out of the competition. I send another statement of facts in brief form.

I began the practice of landscape architecture in Cleveland, Ohio, after leaving the graduate school with the M. L. A. degree. My partner Chas. P. Punchard, Jr., a Boston man, was taken sick in the winter of 1912 necessitating his moving out of town and later withdrawal from the firm whose name was "Evans & Punchard." For the last three years I have been in California in the winter time practicing landscape architecture and I have found it a very pleasant place to be. Last summer I accepted the call to take up for a period the teaching of landscape design at the University of Illinois, and so with my wife and two-year old daughter I moved to the corn belt. The work is very interesting though it does not allow one as much time for work on special lines of investigation as one might suppose. Publications: Articles for *Am. Whitcomb Field,

Born	Boston Mass. July 14, 1882.
Parents	James Baldwin Field, Sarah Ash'on Callender.
School	Academy, Milton, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A.B., 1905.
Died	Nov., 20, 1912, at Roseburg, Ore.

From Harvard Graduates Magazine, March, 1913.

"By the death of Whitcomb Field at Roseburg, Oregon, on Nov. 20, 1912, the class of 1905 lost one of its most beloved members and Harvard one of her most loyal sons. Although in ill health during most of the time since graduating from the Harvard Law School in 1908, he never failed to take an active interest in his class and University. Outwardly of a singularly sunny disposition he rarely showed the anxiety and despair that were constantly haunting him. Always ready to help anyone in trouble, he had boundless sympathy for all who were in distress. On the other hand his frank, straightforward way of looking at things gave him an utter contempt for cowardice and selfishness. He was a friend that could be counted on in any extremity.

"After leaving the University he worked first for the law firm of Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, and then for the law firm of Fish, Richardson, Herrick & Neave, both of Boston. At the time of his death he had been compelled to give up his law work on account of ill health, and was living on a small ranch at Roseburg, Oregon.

"As editor of the Crimson, Ivy Orator, and one of the leaders in his class, Whitcomb Field is known to a large body of Harvard men. To his classmates who knew him best his death means the loss of one of the truest friends and noblest men that ever entered Harvard University.

"In college he was vice-president of the Political Club, Secretary of the Signet and O. K., president of the Amphadon, librarian of the Pudding and the Institute, member of the Dickey, Memorial, Spee and other clubs."

After graduating from the law school, I spent one year (1908-1909) in Washington, as secretary to Mr. Justice Holmes of the U. S. Supreme Court. Since that time I have been practicing law in Boston. I was married in the fall of 1911, and shortly afterwards entered into a partnership for the general practice of law with Herbert S. Allen, '03, and Frederick D. Webster, '06. Webster has since left us, but Allen and I are continuing under the firm name of Allen & Fish. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Travellers Club, Battery A. F. A. M. V. THEO MERRILL FISHER

Born	Chicago Ill., June 2 1881.
Parents	Alonzo G. Fisher, Fannie De F Crafts.
School	Colorado Springs, Colo. High School, and Roxbury, Mass., Latin School.
Years in College	1901-1902.
Unmarried
Occupation	Local Entertainment Manager.
Address	639 N. Royer St., Colorado Springs, Colo.

I had one year at Harvard, my freshman year at Lawrence Scientific School. I then returned to my home in Colorado Springs, Colorado, and had two years of special work along general cultural lines at Colorado College of this city, Ill health prevented a complete college course and very great activity until more recent years. While still in college here I made considerable investment in local real estate and farm lands in the eastern part of the state; also in mining properties. I still retain many such interests. As my health has improved I have been much more active and finally been able to carry on an occupation. I consider my chief work that of "Local Entertainment Manager." To be explicit, this consists in arranging for the appearance here of different lecturers, singers, orchestras, bands, special motion picture features and the like. I have made a place for myself along this line and my motto, "Attractions of Quality," is sustained by the exceptional character of the entertainments I offer my patrons. I find the work of great interest and am conscious of filling a little nook in life all my own. Early efforts were frequently very unfortunate from a financial standpoint for I failed to balance altruism against practicality in many instances. Experience has taught me what I can and can not do. I have done some magazine work of a special nature during the past few years: largely page feature articles with pictures (photographs of my own taking) of "Sleeping Porches," bungalows etc., for Ladies' Home Journal, Suburban Life, etc. I have also had occasional separate photos accepted by Colliers Weekly and Outlook. My literary activities, if such they may be termed, have been along this line exclusively, although I am now planning work of a more serious nature. My interest in western farming conditions and especially in dry land and irrigated farming has led me to undertake some articles which I am now doing with the hope of acceptance by different periodicals. I also am doing a few articles now and then in the way of correspondence for "Musical America" and "Musical Leader." I am keenly interested in all social matters and am a radical in my social philosophy being one of the "57 varieties" of Socialists. The religious aspects of socialism interests me most and I may try my hand at some writing along this line.

I have attained by out-door life and sane habits a very considerable degree of health since leaving college. I only wish that I might have had my present strength during the time I had for university training. I missed not only the knowledge but the fellowships of those possible four years. I am glad to be able to record my conquest not only of health but of the timidity and self-consciousness which were associated with physical weakness. My year at Harvard was a great experience, but it would have been a far greater if I had made the friends I should have made.

My recreations are walking, photography and study of social questions. Member: National Geographical Society

Since graduation I have tried my hand at various lines of business, including wholesale uniforms, shoe manufacturing and the Engineering Dept. of the American Tel. & Tel. Co. None of these seemed to be the thing for me, so I returned to Cambridge to attend the Law School. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1910, and entered the law offices of Rackermann and Brewster of Boston, where I remained about a year. Then I opened an office in Salem, Mass., my home town. At first I practiced alone, but I am now associated with Robert W. Hill, Tufts '04, LL.B. '10 (Harvard), at Salem.

I have served three and one half years in the Second Corps of cadets, M. V. M., and held the rank of second lieutenant when I resigned.

I suppose the most interesting and exciting event which I have witnessed occurred on June 25th, 1914, when an area of about 260 acres of my town was burned. I was among those who lost their homes, but was fortunate in saving from the house, which was closed for the summer, some few articles with which to start a new home. Since then Dame Fortune has smiled upon us, in the form of the arrival of a future son of Harvard, so we are not "down hearted." Member: Salem Billiard Club.

From college I went to the Law School and from the Law School came to Lawrence where I have practiced law ever since. There is little else that I can say about myself.

I have been chairman of the civic department of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and as such have been more or less active in civic affairs. I assisted in organizing and took part in our great Flag Day here in 1912. I had a little something to do with the inventing and creating of our School for immigrants wherein foreign born people living here can be taught in their spare hours something of our history and institutions and prepared to become American Citizens. I originated and put into effect the plan of public reception to new citizens of foreign birth which has been rather widely copied. I originated and put into effect a plan for a series of reunions of the Alumni of our high school. I assisted in the perfecting of the plan of the Lawrence Development Corporation and incorporated this company. The plan of the organization is to sell stock to persons of small means at a small par value, payable at the rate of fifty cents per month and with the money thus obtained to erect factory buildings from which the stockholders who are to a considerable extent the employees of the concerns which occupy the buildings, shall get a profitable return. All officers, attorneys and agents of the company with the exception of clerks, work without compensation. The plan is an experiment but shows indications of success.

I have been interested in several athletic clubs, some of which I have assisted in reorganizing to some extent, and have been able in one or two instances to get for the members who are men of about college age working here, some of the advantages of out door life which we had on Soldier's Field in college days.

I have done what I can to promote the New England Federation of Harvard Clubs and the Harvard Club of Lawrence of which I have been secretary.

I am a trustee of the Lawrence Bar Association Library, president of the Lawrence High School Alumni Association and have been Commodore of the Lawrence Canoe Club, chairman of the civic department of the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and secretary of the Lawrence Harvard Club.

I have not travelled but am viewing every day as I may say, with a microscope, a small field in the possible area of human investigation. In a city like Lawrence which is considerably ahead of other cities in democracy and industry there are many interesting problems to which I can give my spare time. I hope some day to get a chance to work out the answers as I see them in a practical way.

THOMAS EDWIN FORREST

Born	New York City, N. Y., Dec. 10, 1882.
Parents	Thomas Francis Forrest, Victorine Louise Ramel.
School	Columbia Institute, New York, N. Y.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A.B., 1905 (1906).
Married	Caroline Edna Morrill, Boston, Mass., June 3, 1911.
Children	Thomas Edwin, Jr., July 4, 1912.
Occupation	Stock Broker.
Address	(home) 417 Riverside Drive, New York City, N. Y. (business) 60 Broadway, New York City, N. Y.

The first three years after leaving Cambridge in 1906, I spent learning something of the bond business with Lawrence Barnum & Co., travelling on various occasions to Maine, Western Pennsylvania, and finally having the towns between New York and Albany for my territory. The summers of 1908 and 1909, I spent in Europe, rarely off the tourists' beaten path, and invariably running into representatives of Harvard.

In June, 1909, I succeeded to my father's seat on the New York Stock Exchange, and traded there as a free lance until April, 1912, when I organized the firm of Forrest, Davis and MacDonald, for a general commission business. Other fields of endeavor would doubtless have been more productive — we, in this one, have been forced to watchfully wait for something to happen.

On June 3, 1911, I married Miss Caroline Morrill of Boston, and on July 4, of the following year, Thomas Edwin, Jr., was born; a big, healthy specimen he is, and I hope will be well qualified to represent Harvard, 1935. Member: Harvard Club, New York Club, Knollwood Country Club.

In the fall of 1904, I entered the traffic department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. For a little over a year I worked in the general office at Boston and then was transferred to the division office at Lowell, Mass. At the end of six months another transfer took me to Fitchburg, Mass., where I remained about two and a half years, first as district service inspector, and later as district traffic chief. In the spring of 1909, I resigned to take a position with the Grant Yarn Co., of Fitchburg. In January, 1910, I became a member of the staff of Gunn, Richards & Co., a firm of production engineers and public accountants and in February, 1914, with a number of others, started a business of the same character, operating under the title of Cooley and Marvin Co., with headquarters at Boston, Mass.

After running errands for a New York bank for a few months, I learned enough about high finance to double my salary and earn $10.00 a week as financial expert in a publicity concern. Apparently my financial ability was not appreciated for I was made manager of the New York office. That or the panic of 1907 was enough to force the business to be sold in 1908. I decided that the American Express Co., needed my services to sell Travelers Cheques; and, after having some difficulty in persuading them, spent two years with them. In the autumn of 1910, I was elected a director and vice-president of Raymond and Whitcomb Co., first making certain of the election by purchasing enough stock to gain control of the company. As I have somewhat increased

During the winter of 1906, I worked in the offices of Stone and Webster in Boston, but I realized in a few months that I was not adapted to that sort of work, so I got out before I was invited to leave. In the fall of 1907, I became instructor of French, German, and English, at the Harvard School, Chicago. While there I did graduate work in German and English at the University of Chicago. I took an active part in the French and German Clubs at the University of Chicago. During 1908-1909, 1909-1910, I taught French, German, and English at the Mauer School, Stamford, Conn. During the summer of 1909, I studied psychology at the Harvard Summer School.

During the summer of 1910, I took a trip through Colorado and Yellowstone Park. On this trip I visited Butte, Mont., and secured a position as instructor of French in the high school. The following summer I went to Berkeley, Cal., and studied French and Spanish at the University of California. After the school session I took a trip to Alaska from Seattle, going as far as Sitka and Juneau.

The next summer I spent on a "hike" through Glacier National Park, in northern Montana. With my colleague Mr. Eugene Corrie, I tramped over 300 miles in the six weeks we spent in America's most beautiful park. We wrote a pamphlet describing our trip. The Great Northern Railroad Co., bought the article and pictures — we got the money, so we have not worried much over the fact that it has not yet appeared!

During the summer of 1913, I taught in the newly organized summer school of the Butte High School. I taught only French, German, Latin, English and Algebra. After the school term I took a trip to the Canadian Rockies and the Selkirk mountains, spending some time at Spokane, Wash., also. This year I had planned to spend in France in study, but just as I was prepared to leave Butte last summer war was declared, so after my work in summer school I took a trip to Boston, New York, Washington, and Pittsburgh.

This year I have joined the Butte Symphony Orchestra. I am assistant conductor of the Butte Choral Club, and I am

Graduated from Harvard Law School in 1907, and entered the office of Henry D. Tudor, Esq., with whom I was associated until 1912, when I formed a partnership with Nathaniel C. Nash, Jr., under the name "Goodale and Nash." Our progress has exceeded our original expectations, and we have little or no time for outside interests. For a year I was secretary of the Massachusetts Single Tax League, and still do a small amount of writing for newspapers, etc., on the subject of taxation and land administration. Most of my leisure time, however, I spend on a small plot of rocks and oak trees in Weston, — raising blueberries and blisters and making one gypsy-moth grow where two grew before. In short, I have little to write about, but can make a strong showing in any competition where the rating is based on happiness and contentment.

After graduation I travelled in the United States and Europe until September, 1906, when I entered the Harvard Law School. I continued at the law school for two years and then came to New York to enter business. In 1909, I started a suburban land development in New Jersey with twelve fireproof houses. Since then I have further developed this land and have made a study of the question of small houses and land development for people of moderate means. With improvement in general business conditions I intend to extend my activities this year to Long Island, N. Y.

My life since leaving college has been uneventful and spent almost entirely in New York City. My business has been real estate in various branches, ranging from country residences near the city to mortgages on Manhattan Real Estate. This has been healthful and interesting but not too profitable. As this goes to press I am taking up an entirely new line in partnership with a life-long friend and shall soon be engaged in selling a new and patented material which has the good qualities of both hard rubber and celluloid, but which does not burn. This seems like a chance to make a very decent income and I am eager to prove it. Aside from business, as I am still a bachelor, my interests have been more or less of a stag order. I spend more time in connection with my duties as a machine-gunner in Squadron A, than in any or perhaps all other pursuits and feel that I shall be an enthusiastic trooper for some years to come. I have kept my hair

Address	(home) 23 Monmouth Court, Brookline, Mass. (business) 55 Kilby St., Boston, Mass.

Immediately after graduating from college I went abroad with my classmate Francis T. Colby, and spent three months travelling through England, France, Belgium and Holland. After getting home I went to work in November, 1905, with Amory, Browne & Co., Dry Goods Commission Merchants of Boston, Mass. I remained with them until September, 1906. when I acquired typhoid fever which laid me low for the better part of a year. While recuperating I spent about two months at Nassau in the Bahama Islands, and later that same spring spent about a month on a ranch in Colorado. In July, 1907, I again went back to work with Amory, Browne & Co. I remained in the employ of Amory, Browne & Co., until September, 1910, when I became connected with the Skenandoa Cotton Co., of Utica, N. Y., manufacturers of cotton yarns. For the next three or four months I worked in the mill at Utica, N. Y., and on January 1, 1911, I opened an office for them in Boston, for the distribution of their products throughout New England. I have been connected with this concern ever since.

For recreation, I play a good deal of tennis throughout the spring and summer at the Longwood Cricket Club, and in the fall, manage to put in a few days shooting. During the past two winters I have played a good deal of squash racquets at the Harvard Club of Boston and have found it a most excellent means of keeping in shape. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York, Longwood Cricket Club, Longwood Covered Courts Club.

Children	William Brainerd, July 25, 1914.
Occupation	Headmaster, The Gring School for Boys.
Address	Santa Barbara, Cal.

Upon leaving the college, I spent a year at the law school. The three succeeding years I lived in San Francisco, where I engaged in the banking business. This work was not congenial to me so when in 1910, an opportunity was offered for the opening of a boys' school in Santa Barbara, I entered the field of education. For the first year I was associated with two other men but since then have conducted the school as headmaster. Member: Harvard Club of Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara Country Club.

Occupation	Secretary, Young Men's Christian Association.
Address	(business) Y. M. C. A., Manila, P. I. (permanent) 124 East 28th St., New York, N. Y.

During the college years 1905-1906 and 1906-1907, I served as graduate secretary at Phillips Brooks House. In 1908, I came to the Philippines as a foreign secretary of the International Committee of Young Mens' Christian Associations, and have been here ever since, with the exception of a few months of furlough. My work has been in connection with the construction and administration of a new building for Americans and Europeans, and recently of two buildings for the Filipino business and student communities respectively. I have also visited many of the more important provincial towns, to make known the activities of the association and to raise money for the new buildings.

For the drawbacks and deprivations of life in the tropics and so far from home, Manila offers some compensations. There are months of beautiful weather to offset the hot season and the typhoons. There is a large colony of good, live Americans doing their best to establish American ideals of government, education, trade and morals in the far East. The Filipino people have responded well, and in them the Malay race is having its first real opportunity to make a bid for nationality, to demonstrate the desire and capacity to belong among the progressive, self-governing peoples. Here, as in Southern California a few decades ago, the Spanish types and ideas are passing away.

It has been worth while to spend these years helping to plant a constructive, world-wide movement, the Young Men's Christian Association, in a new country. Member: Delta Upsilon Fraternity, Harvard Club of the Philippines.

In 1905, thoroughly educated in general and quite unfit for anything in particular, I found myself with a great desire to study medicine and without any funds whatever. It goes without saying that I had no credit. I decided to follow in the footsteps of practically all great men and teach school, which I did for three years at Belmont School in California where I had previously prepared for College. Foolhardy investments in wildcat gold mines in Nevada finally produced an annual income of $250 upon which I at once retired from active business and entered the Harvard Medical School in 1908. While there I was at various times Chief Prospector, Student Librarian, Vice President of my class, member of the Innominate, Boylston and Aesculapian Clubs, Chairman of the Class Day Committee and Poison Ivy Orator. I specialized in the Science and Art of Public Health and upon my graduation in 1912 I was appointed director of the Massachusetts Exhibit at the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography. After the close of the Congress, I was made assistant in the Department of Public Health of the Harvard Medical School and received the degree of Dr. P. H. in 1913. In that year I was promoted to Instructor in Public Health which position I resigned in April, 1914, to become Director in Panama of the International Health Commission of the Rockefeller Foundation.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

I have been in Panama about nine months organizing under the Government of Panama a sanitary department with the object of eradicating hookworm disease and promoting permanent sanitation in the interior. If any of you have a hankering to travel in a tropic land as yet untouched by tourist or globe-trotter, but teeming with undescribed fauna and flora, ravaged by all sorts of interesting but ill-known parasitic diseases, crowded with the unobliterated foot-marks of turbulent Spanish Conquistadores and English pirates of the Main, I invite you to visit me. The Canal Zone is not Panama—interesting to be sure, but I can show you (about) where Morgan hid his ingots of Spanish gold; and we shall walk with Columbus in Nombre de Dios, and probably die in Porto Bello with Sir Francis Drake. Publications: "Anaphylaxis"; article in Wood's Handbook of Medicine, Wm. Wood & Co., 1913; Medical Reviews and articles in medical periodicals; articles and pamphlets on "Uncinariasis and Sanitation" published in Spanish by the Government of Panama, 1914, 1915. Member: Aesculapian Club, Boston, Phi Beta Kappa, Harvard, Medical Association of the Isthmian Canal Zone, Fellow, American Medical Association, (Alpha Omega Alpha, Harvard).

Address	(home) 251 West 89th St., New York, N. Y. (business) 299 Mercer St., New York, N. Y.

After leaving college in 1904, I began work immediately. In 1907, I started in business for myself with my brother and owing to a moderate amount of success was able to marry in 1911. Otherwise my life was quite uneventful, except that a year later a new member of the family arrived.

Unfortunately I have not seen many members of my class but I am now looking forward with great anticipation to the reunion in June.

THEODORE SEYMOUR HALL

Born	Honolulu, T. H., Feb. 16, 1880.
Parents	William Wisner Hall, Elizabeth Van Cleve Hall.
School	Berkeley High School, Berkeley, Cal.
Years in College	1901-1902.
Married	Ruth Houghton, Oakland, Cal., Nov. 16, 1909.
Children	Seymour Houghton, Nov. 17, 1910; Winslow William, May 15, 1912.
Occupation	Secretary and Manager, Oakland Street Improvement Bond Co., Bond Broker.
Address	(home) 409 Staten Ave., Oakland, Cal. (business) First National Bank Building, Oakland, Cal.

In the Fall of 1902 I went to St. Louis, having left college for the purpose of entering the employ of Simmons Hardware Co., in order to learn the business, later returning to Honolulu as soon as practicable, to relieve my father. In the latter part of 1904 went to Honolulu, remaining only nine months, then left for San Francisco. I remained there but a short time, when I returned to Simmons Hardware Co. in St. Louis, late in 1905. In the spring of 1907 went to Berkeley, California, to engage with others in the real estate business. The panic of that year had its effect and I engaged in the mortgage business. Giving this my full thought and attention my business grew until I was suddenly called back to Honolulu on account of my father's health. Married before I sailed, arrived in Honolulu, November, 1909, and took charge of the automobile department of E. O. Hall & Son, Ltd. After the death of father in May, 1910, negotiated the sale of E. O. Hall & Son and returned early in 1911 to Oakland, Cal. Engaged again in the mortgage business. Began the study of California Street Improvement Bonds, and worked out the Trust Receipt plan of marketing these securities. Organized and became secretary and treasurer of the Oakland Street Improvement Bond Company, later helped organize a mortgage company. Publication: "Standardized California Street Improvement Bonds," Copyright 1915, Hall-White Co., Publishers. Member: California Alpha of Phi Delta Theta, Harvard Club, Athenian Club, Oakland, Calif.

CHARLES MAYO HARRINGTON

Born	Worcester, Mass., Jan. 21, 1867.
Parents	Frank Waters Harrington, Sarah Abigail Mayo.
School	Classical High School, Worcester, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1904.

Occupation	Civil Engineer.
Address	(home) 34 Coburn Ave., Worcester, Mass. (business) 33 City Hall, Worcester, Mass.

Leaving college in May, 1904, I spent nearly three years in Port Antonio, Jamaica, British West Indies, as told in the 1911, class report. I was married, July, 3, 1905, at the parish church in Port Antonio, to Clara Belle Bradshaw, who travelled alone from her home in Worcester, Massachusetts to join me. We remained in Jamaica until 1907, passing through the famous terrible earthquake of that year, unharmed. After returning to the United States I held several short engineering appointments and in September, 1907, entered the building department of the American Optical Co. of Southbridge, Mass., as engineer and draughtsman, during the construction of some new factory buildings. On Jan. 1, 1909, I came to the office of the City Engineer of Worcester, Mass., as draughtsman, passing the Mass. Civil Service examinations for the grade of senior draughtsman in February, 1910, and I am still in this position.

The years since the 1911 report have been rather prosaic compared to the adventurous days in the tropics, but they have been filled with good work, and blessed with good health and happy home life. Publications: The Crack of the Bat. Verses, Base Ball Mag., Jan., 1915; Letters from Jamaica, West Indies, Worcester Evening Gazette, 1906-1907; Letters from Jamaica, West Indies, Worcester Daily Telegram, 1906-1907; Lectures Jamaica, Illustrated; A Mountain Trip in Jamaica; The Great Jamaica Earthquake; Engineering Experiences in the Tropics, Harvard Eng. Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 945 Beacon St., New Centre, Mass. (business) 262 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

The first three years after leaving college I spent in the Harvard Law School, and since 1908, I have been in the practice of the law. I am associated with my father, Albert L. Harwood, with William F. Bacon, '85, LL.B. '89 and Robert D. Brewer, LL.B. '07. I have found the law to be a most attractive profession, and results have been as satisfactory as I deserve. Outside of my profession my interests have centered largely in affairs of my home town.

FITCH HARRISON HASKELL

Born	Ashtabula, O., Oct. 30, 1883.
Parents	Marshall Harrison Haskell, Fanny Catharine Fitch.
School	Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.
Years in College	1901-1906.
Degrees	A.B., 1905; S.B., 1906; M.S., (M.I.T.), 1907; D.P.L.G (Ecole des Beaux Arts,) 1911.
Unmarried
Occupation	Architect.
Address	(home) 27 W. 44th St. New York, N. Y. (business) 101 Park Ave., New York N. Y

After taking the B. S. degree in Lawrence Scientific in 1906, and the degree of M. S. in Tech in 1907, I went abroad for four years of which over three were spent in the Ecole des Beaux Arts, January, 1908 to Febraury, 1911, when I received the D. P. L. G.

The summer of 1907 I was in Paris and in Brittany. In 1908, in Normandy and England on a bicycle trip. In 1909, I came home for a visit and in 1910 took a more extended trip through Italy, Touraine and England again on a bicycle when we had time. The summer of 1911 was spent mostly in Italy, with a few weeks for France, Germany and England.

In October I came to New York and after a few months in two other offices, I entered that of McKim Mead & White, architects, where I have been for nearly three years. At present I have the interesting work of designs for the addition to the Harvard Club. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Ohio Society, Societ  des Architectes Diplomes par le Gouvernement, Beaux Arts Society.

LEONARD HATCH

Born	Hartford, Conn., Oct. 1, 1882.
Parents	Franklin Samuel Hatch, Helen Gage Hatch.
School	Worcester Academy Worcester, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1906.
Degrees	A.B., 1905; A M., 1906.
Unmarried
Occupation	Writer.
Address	Walpole, Mass.

After getting an A. M. in English in 1906 and acting as an assistant in the Harvard English Department during 1906-7, I came to New York City. Here I made my headquarters for a couple of years while free-lancing, writing regularly for Collier's Weekly and occasionally for other papers and magazines. At the beginning of 1910, I entered the editorial offices of the Youth's Companion in Boston where I remained for a year and a half, leaving July, 1911. During the greater part of the rest of that year I was in Canada: part of the time travelling with a classmate, W. B. Blake; part of the time living in a fisherman's family at a little eight-house, mail-twice-a-week settlement on the Bay of Fundy,—perhaps the most enjoyable period I have had since leaving college. The first part of 1913, I spent on a farm in central Massachusetts, and the following winter (1913-14) I was at Walpole, Mass., which is my regular mail address. The Spring of 1914, I passed in Washington, D. C. During each of the last five summers I have spent considerable time in Vermont. Except for the deviations noted above, I have oscillated regularly between Boston and New York, and it is impossible to say in which city I feel less at home. During the last seven years I have been writing editorials regularly for Collier's Weekly. I have also had stories, feather-weight essays and verse printed in Scribner's, Century, Atlantic Monthly, American Magazine, Independent, Harper's Weekly, and Collier's, in addition to a certain amount of pot-boiling stuff in other papers. Member: Harvard Club of New York City.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

Children	William Peace, Aug. 15, 1912; Adeline, Dec. 8, 1913; Margaret Burnet, Feb. 8, 1915.
Occupation	Manager of a Manufacturing Department of a Chemical Manufacturing Concern.
Address	(home) 404 Oak St., Syracuse, N. Y. (business) Care The Solway Process Co., Syracuse, N. Y.

After leaving college, I spent the summer in the woods in Maine and Newfoundland. In October, 1906, I started in as an apprentice at the Bullock Electric Co. in Cincinnati, but left in the course of a few weeks owing to my belief that the course would not give me the experience I was seeking.

I then worked for a short time in the factory of the Triumph Electric Co., in Cincinnati, my work being a "job in the testing room," but consisting chiefly of sweeping the floor and cleaning cuspidors. This job merely lasted until another one could be found, and, fortunately, this soon turned up in the form of a job with the high sounding title of "Assistant to the Chief Engineer" with the Cincinnati Traction Co.

During this period my first college room-mate, Basil Rowe, died at his farm on Long Island. His family lived in Cincinnati, and I visited them a great deal.

I also became a member of the Guentico Boat Club where many pleasant Saturday afternoons and Sundays were whiled away.

In the spring of 1907, during a two weeks leave of absence, I made a trip to California on some personal business, and included a three days horseback trip in the foot hills back of Santa Barbara.

In June, 1907, I left the Traction Co., and spent the summer at my home in Peace Dale, taking a short trip in the woods north of Lake Huron.

On October, 1st, 1907, I entered the employ of The Solway Process Co. of Syracuse, and after working through all the engineering and manufacturing departments, I was, on January 1st, 1913, given the position of manager of Dep't of Special Manufacturer and C. C. Dept., which position I have held to the present time.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

My family and I spent the summers at Skaneateles Lake which is near enough to enable me to get in and out to work every day. Member: University Club of Syracuse, Harvard Club of Syracuse, Century Club, Onondaga Golf and Country Club, Iagoo Hunting and Fishing Club, Sedgwick Farm Club.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

Years in College 1901-1905.
Degrees A.B., 1905.
Unmarried
Occupation Real Estate.
Address (home) Readville, Mass.
(business) 60 State St., Boston, Mass.

After fulfilling the necessary number of courses for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the middle of my senior year, I entered the Graduate School for the remainder of the college year. The following autumn I entered the Harvard Law School, but was unable to finish the year owing to the necessity of an operation on my back, and a subsequent trip to Florida.

In the following autumn I entered the real estate business with Cabot, Cabot, & Forbes, at 60 State St., Boston, where I have remained to the present time.

During the summer, besides several trips abroad, I have enjoyed numerous short cruises along the New England coast with various members of my class.

I am also the proud possessor of a farm, not very far from Boston, where the ever thirsty earth helps to absorb any small rewards which may result from my arduous labors in the city. Member: Somerset Club, Harvard Club of Boston and New York, Eastern Yacht Club, Tennis & Raquet Club.

WALTER SYLVESTER HERTZOG

Born	Shamokin, Pa., March 20, 1881.
Parents	Theodore Burr Hertzog, Fayetta Von Schminkey.
School	High School, Shamokin, Pa., 1896-1900.
Years in College	1902-1905.
Degrees	A. B., 1905.
Married	Sadie Rosselle Dinger, New York, N. Y., April 21, 1906.
Children	Walter Sylvester, Jr., May 29, 1907; Dorothy Beatrice, March 31, 1909.
Occupation	Department of History and Government, Hollywood High School, Los Angeles, Cal.
Address	(home) 318 North Maryland Ave., Glendale, Los Angeles Co., Cal. (business) Hollywood High School, Los Angeles, Cal.

Three years ago I bid good bye to a group of my classmates at the New York Harvard Club, and started for the "Far West," and I have not seen a single '05 man from that day to this.

In September, 1906, I began teaching Latin and French at the Mt. Pleasant Military Academy, Ossining, N. Y. In November of that year the Harvard Varsity played at West Point. I asked the headmaster to grant me a leave of absence in order to see the game. Upon his refusal, I told him to go to Hoboken, packed up my grip, attended the game, and then went to Mercersburg Academy, Pennsylvania. Here I taught German and French. After two years experience in the educational field, I returned to New York City and spent two years in the Graduate School of Political Science, Columbia University, 1907-1909. The year 1909-1910 I was a student at Columbia Law School. After visiting some of the "law factories" on Nassau Street and Broadway and seeing the future "Chief Justices" working on the "Brief Gallies" at $5 to $8 per week I decided to forsake the law and return to my first love — teaching.

During my three years at Columbia, I served as sociological expert for the "Committee of 100" in its investigation of Tammany Hall. In 1911, I discovered a copy of a book which belonged to Harvard College Library in 1676. I presented it to the University Library as a gift from the "Class of 1905." During the year 1910-1911, I was head of the English Department, Cutler School, New York. After my varied experience in New York I came to California where I have been teaching for the past three years in the Hollywood High School, Los Angeles.

Last year I went into Lower California, Mexico, for a little excitement and had several exciting experiences with Huerta's soldiers but managed to get back safely to California. Last summer during my vacation I hit the trail for Death Valley, Cal., and the Mojave Desert where I prospected for gold and had the time of my life.

During my week ends and short vacations I am kept busy fishing for the "leaping tuna" at Catalina Island or hunting big game in the High Sierras. This is the life for me. When I am not busy at school I am occupied at my place in Glendale where my orange trees and grape fruit require my care and thought.

In June I hope to hit either the Santa Fe or the Oregon trail for Cambridge. Member: National Institute of Social Sciences, Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity (Columbia Chapter), Harvard Club, New York City; Harvard Club, Philadelphia, Pa.; Society of New York, American Sociological Society, American Numismatic Society, Pennsylvania German Society, and numerous State and County historical societies.

Occupation	Principal of High School
Address	Lebanon, N. H.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

The fall after leaving college I began life real seriously by first joining in wedlock, and second by taking up my life vocation. The fall of 1905, found me located at Kingston, N. H., where I held the position of sub-master and instructor in science in Sanborn Seminary. After a second year at this institution I moved with my family, now increased by one, to Wayland, Mass., where the position of high school principal was open to me. The next three years were spent in Wayland and the children now numbered three. From Wayland, Mass., the family moved to Lebanon, N. H., where the head had been elected principal of the local high school. The last five years have been spent in Lebanon and the new generation now number five assorted as follows: boys, 3; girls, 2; total, 5.

The triennial and sexennial together with other Class hilarities have offered considerable recreation and also served as reminders of the college days of a decade ago.

At the present time I am very much interested and occupied with things of an educational value. The school problems of community and state are at once interesting and of permanent value along the line of welfare. The educational problems of the State of New Hampshire are unique, and this state is foremost in its attempt to rationalize public school education and give the school a functioning value in the life of the students and through the students a functioning value in the community and the state. It has been my pleasure to become a participant in this good work, being an Institute lecturer working for the improvement of the science teaching in the state.

So much and enough until the next report. Member: Local clubs and societies, Theta Gamma Mu Fraternity, Educational Clubs.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

School	Emerson Institute and Preston's Private School, Washington, D. C.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Married	Elinor Hoyt, Washington, D. C., Dec. 12, 1906.
Children	Philip, Sept. 22, 1907.
Died	March 27, 1912.

In the fall of the year 1905, Mr. Hichborn entered the law school of the George Washington University and graduated with the class of 1908. He was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in 1908, and was engaged in special work in the office of the Attorney General of the United States. He then formed a connection with Messrs. McKenney, Flannery and Hitz, lawyers, of Washington, D. C., which continued until March, 1910, when he formed a partnership with Samuel E. Swayse for the practice of law which continued until the date of his death.

Mr. Hichborn indulged recreatively in short story writing. His first published story, and one of his best, appeared in the New York Herald, entitled "Brutus Cow Poney". Some of his best writings appeared from time to time during the years 1905 to the date of his death in the following magazines: Pearsons, Metropolitan, Cosmopolitan and the Munsey publications. His most marked success seems to have been made in the narrow field of stories about horses and life centering around mans' best friend. A compilation has been made of these stories about horses and hunting and published by authority or direction of the United Hunt Clubs of America entitled "Hoof Beats". "Hoof Beats" is now in the second edition with new cover and title page. Many other articles and short stories Mr. Hichborn wrote for, [Metropolitan, Cosmopolitan, Pearson's, Munsey Publications, Short Story Magazine, All Story Magazine, New York Herald. Member, in college: The Harvard Union, Zeta Psi Club, Institute of 1770, Hasty Pudding Club and was the Editor of Harvard Lampoon. After college: Century Club, Washington, D. C.; Chevy Chase Club, Chevy Chase, Md; New York Harvard Club.

Occupation	Analyst.
Address	(home) 305 Middle St., Braintree, Mass. (business) Room 501 State House, Boston, Mass.

Immediately after leaving Harvard, I obtained a position with the Massachusetts State Board of Health, as assistant analyst in the food and drug laboratory which position I still hold. The work consists in the examination of foods and drugs to determine whether the samples under test conform to the requirements of the Massachusetts law. Especial attention is given to the analysis of milk. It is collected in all parts of the State from both dealers and producers. We have also done a large amount of analytical work on milk of known purity. Member: American Chemical Society.

Address	(home) 51 West 55th St., New York City, N. Y. (business) 25 Broad St., New York City, N. Y.

For the first seven years after graduating from college I worked in the banking house of Moffat and White, and its successor White Weld & Co. In March, 1912, I left White Weld & Co., to become a partner in the stock exchange house of Burrill and Stitt, where I specialized in bonds.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

During the past four years I have been keeping very close to my business and have only taken small vacations each year, generally for not more than one month during the winter. I have visited Palm Beach, Fla., Cuba, and Bermuda in my holidays and this fall took a short trip to Asheville, N. C.

I have taken a great deal of interest in the Singers Club of New York, of which I have just been elected Vice-President and have written a "Drinking Song" which has been presented by the Club.

The most important event of my life was my marriage to Miss Catherine Livingston Hamersley on October 22, 1914, in which occasion I was most ably assisted by seven of my classmates.

As secretary of the class of 1905, I have had the greatest pleasure in communicating with classmates in every part of the globe. Author: "Drinking Song," words and music by S. N. H. Published by G. Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 549 Union St., Hudson, N. Y. (business) 601 Warren St., Hudson, N. Y.

After completing my college work in June, 1904, I spent my senior year in the Harvard Law School. I entered the New York Law School in the autumn of 1905, received my degree there in 1906 and was shortly thereafter admitted to practice law in New York State. The summer of 1906, I spent in Europe. I practiced law in New York City for four years, the last three years of which I was with the firm of Parker, Hatch and Sheehan. I came to Hudson, N. Y., (my native city) in the autumn of 1910, and have since practiced law here.

Shortly after leaving college I became interested in the militia, and enlisted in the Seventh Regiment of New York, in which organization I served nearly five years. Later I was transferred to the Tenth Regiment with headquarters at Albany, and received a lieutenant's commission in this regiment. I obtained my discharge in 1912, owing to ill health. I have since regained my health and have had a very active practice for some time. Member: Harvard Club, New York City, Elk's Club, Hudson, N. Y., Columbia County Society of New York City, Twenty-third Separate Company Veteran Corps, Veterans Organization Company F., Seventh Regiment N. Y.

Address	(home) 96 Abbott Road, Wellesley Hills Mass. (business) 23 Wormwood St., Boston, Mass.

Immediately after graduating I entered the employ of the Columbia Counter Co., of Boston, my father's business. After leaving the business I became travelling salesman which took me all over this country. Later I became vice-president and superintendent.

September 26, has always been a lucky date for me, I was born, entered college, and was married on that date.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

Again, on September, 26, 1911, we moved to Tifton, Ga., where I am interested in a fifteen hundred acre tract of land. This I saw-milled, then cleared a large part and planted in grafted pecan nut trees. We now have one of the finest young nut orchards in Georgia. The planting of the trees was most interesting as each tree-hole was blown out with half a pound of dynamite. The life was ideal, out-of-doors summer and winter.

While in Tifton I was a member and director of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of several farmers' committees. In the summer of 1913, we returned North to live, as the orchard was well under way. We are now living in Wellesley Hills, Mass. I have started the Columbia Welting Co., for manufacturing good-year welting for shoes.

If filling space will make a better class book — here goes. Left college in Sophomore year on account of sickness. Six months later decided to enter business. First "stab" at banking, next bonds, next brokerage — became a member of the Boston Stock Exchange and then went broke like a good many others. Left for Fort Worth, Tex., for no particular reason, "hooked-up" with Armour & Co., the beef "pedlers" and from there travelled North, East, South and West putting in jail some of their employees who aspired to do Mr. Armour's banking without special appointment. In my travels about I always met an '05 man. From Armour & Co., was transferred to the National Packing Co., Chicago in the capacity of collecting bad debts — fine job(?) — transferred to New York City where I “threw up the sponge” and quit in 1907. Returned to Boston and went into the investment line; made some money and returned to New York City, where I tried to “pull off” a bond deal but it pulled me off instead. Just after the panic in 1907, I secured a job trading in New York City bonds, got a better job travelling through Connecticut for a bond house; sold one bond and the man died before delivery was made. Returned to Boston and became interested in advertising. Wrote a little “stuff,” sold a little space and then took a position with Walker-Longfellow Co., Boston. Had a pleasant but short business career with these people after which I went in the advertising business in Boston for myself where I am today. I forgot to state in the meantime or about five years ago I paid a minister to tie the marriage knot. This proved to be the best thing I ever did. Have no children but am very happy with the one who was brave enough to enter the fight with me. Two years ago I became deeply interested in Bible prophecy to which I have given some study and if anyone wants light on the events which are happening in the world today, let them study the books of Daniel and Revelation. I believe in the soon coming of Christ and some people think I am a Jew because I keep the Seventh-day Sabbath but that is the only day I find any authority for in scripture. I am a strict vegetarian and find it of great value from a physical standpoint. I am a member of no clubs except the Pilgrim Publicity Association of Boston, nor did I make any fraternities while in college, therefore, I should style myself as “distinctly unpopular.” Would be glad to hear from any of the class of 1905.

In September, 1905, I went to Northwood, N. H., to teach Latin and French at Coe's Academy. I was elected the following year to take charge of the work in French at Cushing Academy, Ashburnham, Mass., where I remained three years, resigning in 1909, in order to study abroad. I had travelled in Europe during the summer of 1907, and now planned six month's work at the University of Paris. By January, 1910, I had begun my studies at the Sorbonne. My stay, however, was a brief one. Within a few weeks the news of the sudden death of my mother obliged me to give up my work in Paris and return to America.

After occupying myself during the remainder of 1910 with various kinds of out-of-door work, at the beginning of 1911, I received my appointment as assistant educational director at the Lynn (Mass.) Y. M. C. A. I was married August 30, 1911, and went to live in Wakefield, as a result of becoming a member of the faculty of the High School in that town. My next position was the principalship of the Norton (Mass.) High School, during 1913-1914. Last fall was elected to my present work as sub-master in the High School at Somerville, Mass.

Occupation	Lawyer
Address	(home) 19 Browning Ave., Boston, Mass. (business) 78 Devonshire St , Boston, Mass.

In the fall of 1904, after completing in three years the requirements for the degree of A. B., I entered the Harvard Law School with the class of 1907. I received the degree of LL. B. in June, 1907. During my law school course, I was also engaged in teaching in the evening schools of the City of Boston. I passed the Massachusetts bar examination prior to my graduation from the law school, and was admitted to the bar in February, 1907.

Since leaving the law school, I have been continuously engaged in practice in Boston, spending the first three years in the office of Hallowell & Hammond. After that I started out for myself in the general practice of the law and have since been very actively engaged in the same. Member: Bar Association of the City of Boston, Boston City Club, New Century Club, Boston, Commonwealth Lodge, K. of P., Harvard Improvement Association, Dorchester.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

I left college at the end of Sophomore year and have been in banking business ever since, with first a trust company and then selling bonds with Millett, Roe & Hagen in the Boston office.

I have had a very quiet life uninteresting to any but myself and have never held any public office although I tried for the legislature (State) from the 3rd Plymouth District, but was snowed under. I have lately become interested in the Boy Scout movement, and find myself giving most of my spare time to it, and strongly advise others upon whom time may hang heavy to take it up.

PAUL DINSMORE HOWARD

Born	Clinton, Mass., Oct. 4, 1882.
Parents	Frank Everett Howard, Ella Francis Dinsmore Howard.
School	Clinton High School, and Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1905.

Married	Sarah Lilian White, Newton. Mass., June 18, 1914.
Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 48 Cedar St., Clinton, Mass. (business) 340 Main St., Worcester Mass.

After leaving college I entered the law school where I studied for two years. The year following I was admitted to practice in Massachusetts and entered the law office of Charles M. Thayer in Worcester, Mass. In the fall of 1909, I opened an office for the general practice of law in Worcester and also a night office in Clinton, a town of 15,000 people, ten miles from Worcester, where I resided at the time. In October, 1911, I entered into a law partnership with Amos T. Saunders under the firm name of Saunders & Howard, with offices in Clinton and Worcester.

Most of the time since leaving the law school I have been actively interested in politics, having served on the Republican Town Committee for five years and at present being Vice-President of the Worcester County Republican Club.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

I have been elected Moderator for the Town of Clinton for the last three years and at present hold the position of Town Solicitor.

In January, 1913, I was appointed assistant solicitor to the Committee on Rules of the Massachusetts House of Representatives which position I still hold, and the duties of which require considerable time during the legislative sessions. In July, I was appointed secretary of the Joint Special Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature, appointed to revise the rules and practice of the General Court. This work was finished last January, the report being filed on January 15.

Most of my time since leaving college has been spent in tending to my business, with the accompanying lack of excitement and variety naturally attendant thereto. Publications: Report of the Joint Special Recess Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature on Legislative Procedure; 1914, Massachusetts State Printers, Boston; Edited and revised the By-Laws for the Town of Clinton, 1913, Clinton W. The demand for my life to date reminds me of "Much Ado About Nothing." Let the printer have a rest. I am well and hearty, but am not writing a history of my life. If I ever do write one it will be when I think my living here is about completed, and that it has been worthy of record upon the pages of time. I am not at all sure, however, that I shall write one then. Should I ever do anything worth talking about, I am likely to conclude to let others do the talking. This is my counsel—no fee.

Occupation	Banker and Broker.
Address	(home) 327 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. (business) 53 State St., Boston, Mass.

On leaving college in June, 1905, I took a trip of three months abroad with my family. About the middle of October of that year I started business in the employ of the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co. I worked in that trust company two weeks, and on Nov. 1st, I entered the banking and brokerage office of Messrs. Schirmer, Chapin & Emmons at 79 Milk Street, Boston. I worked in this office for a little over three years, filling the various clerical positions in that line of business, and on March 22, 1909, I entered the banking office of Messrs. Parkinson & Burr as a general investment man. I worked in that capacity until January 1, 1914, when I was admitted to partnership in that firm. I have made my headquarters in Boston since leaving college, and have done my business in this city except for frequent day trips to New York, where my firm maintains an office.

I have taken an interest in active exercise and I have found that it works in well with my business. The form of exercise which has proved to be best suited to my business hours are racquets and squash racquets, which provide a concentrated form of active exercise. This is especially true of squash racquets, which I have played fairly regularly during the last ten years, and in which I won the championship of the United States in 1912 and 1914. Member: Tennis & Racquet Club, Boston Athletic Association, Harvard Club of Boston, Nahant Club, A. D. Club, Sphinx Club, Hasty Pudding Club, Institute of 1770, Varsity Club of Harvard.

Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 6638 Greene St., Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa. (business) 405 Bulletin Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

I finished the necessary work and left college, under leave of absence in 1904. I then entered the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, and in 1907 received my degree and was admitted to practice in Pennsylvania. Since then I have passed through the usual three years of starvation period, plodded and built up a practice, married and built up a family. I pass my time, leaving my house in the morning for my office, leaving my office for the courts, returning to my office again and once again returning home. I have won no very great cases, but then I have the consolation of knowing that I have never lost any. I plod on and live with visions and hopes of big cases, and big rewards.

Alderman-at-large, city of Woburn, 1908, 1909, 1910.
Mayor of Woburn, 1915, except during Decennial Week, when an interregnum will have to be arranged for.

Most important personal information concerning myself, except as noted on the regular form, is that I am acquiring a large supply of baldness on the top of my head, from which it follows that, although I am the youngest mayor in Massachusetts, I don't look it. I issue a defy to all our 1905 medicos to find a cure for baldness, and if any of them can produce such a cure, I will give him a free "ad" next time Sam Hinckley gives us a chance to express ourselves in print.

Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 14 Rue Raynouard, Paris, France. (business) 31 Boulevard de l'Opera, care Donald Harper, Paris, France.

Left college at mid-year of senior year. Travelled until the fall and then entered the Columbia Law School, where I studied for two years and a half, but did not take a degree. After leaving the law school I passed the New York bar examinations and went to work at the head office of the Legal Aid Society. Practiced here till 1910 when my father died and my mother was ordered to Europe for her health. Travelled for a year with her, returned to New York and had to go again to Europe in 1912. This time for two years. Returned again to New York and in 1914 was called to Paris to be employed by an "American Lawyer" Donald Harper, whose firm are the foreign correspondents of O'Brian, Boardman & Platt of New York City. Before going I was admitted as a practicing lawyer to the Supreme Court of the United States, being introduced by Senator Root. I expect to make my permanent residence in Paris.

Born	Chicago, Ill., March 22, 1883.
Parents	Benjamin Campbell Jones, Nettie Louise Roberts Jones.
School	Hopkinson School, Boston, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1904.
Degrees	A.B., 1905 (1904); A.M., 1905.
Married	Jessie Mae Orton, Chicago, Ill., June 2, 1909.
Children	Elizabeth Orton, June 25, 1910.
Occupation	Public Utilities Business.
Address	(home) 308 Vine Ave., Highland Park, Ill. (business) Room 1300, 72 West Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

After college I enlisted with the forces of the American Express Company, supply department, in Chicago. After a year of hard work in overalls, I was given a change of scene, and went into the foreign exchange department. After another year of selling exchange, foreign remittances, traveler's checks, etc., I left the American Express Company for a better position with Lyon & Healy, a large music house in Chicago. Not liking this work, I resigned after about 14 months. Within a short time I had taken a position as Purchasing Agent with the North Shore Electric Company. That concern has grown enormously, along with other public utility ventures, and is now known as the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, of which I am still Purchasing Agent.

Address	(home) 24 Orchard St., Belmont, Mass. (business) 79 North St., Boston, Mass.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

On leaving college I became an electrical engineer with the Western Electric Company in New York City, for three years. I then spent a year as an electric engineer under The Engineer Corps of the Army in Washington, D. C. In 1909, I became an engineering salesman for the Western Electric Company, and remained working for them in Boston till 1913. I then opened an office of my own as an Electrical Engineer at 79 North Street, Boston, where I operate a small factory, making electrical specialties. I have been interested in the Massachusetts Naval Militia, and have served as engineer officer on U. S. S. Chicago and U. S. S. Rodgers, the former a cruiser and the later a torpedo boat.

as assistant surveyor, or "swamper." After a few months of this work I entered the geological department of the same company. In 1911, I was made chief geologist of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Co., and, with brief leaves of absence, have held this position ever since. My work here has been partly planning development and prospecting work in the mines in Bisbee, and partly the examination and development of new mines in the Southwestern United States and in Northwestern Mexico. In connection with this work I have travelled over practically all of the western states. The most interesting part of this work was the development of the Ajo copper district in Southwestern Arizona for the New Cornelia Copper Co., a subsidiary of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Co.

At intervals I have done examination or exploration work for other companies, among them the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., Aztec Exploration Co., United Verde Extension Mining Co., Elenita Dev. Co., and others. For the last eight months I have had a fine trip in the Andes of Bolivia and Chile, examining copper and tin mines. Address	(home) 86 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass. (business) 40 Water St., Boston, Mass.

On leaving college in the spring of 1905, I started work in the corporation department of Stone and Webster, later becoming secretary to Mr. Guy E. Tripp, and with him traveling through the western and southern part of the United States, in connection with the companies under his control. In 1907, I left Stone and Webster to become treasurer of the Boston Traveler, an evening newspaper. When this property was sold in 1910, I entered the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., and left there a year later to enter the employ of the National Shawmut Bank with which I have been connected since then.

Address	(home) 727 East 45th St., Savannah, Ga. (business) 106 East Bay St., Savannah, Ga.

From August, 1903, to July, 1905, I was in the cotton mill business at Utica, N. Y.; from July, 1905, to January, 1906, I was secretary to Mr. Robert C. Preeya, at Albany, N. Y.; from January, 1906 to February, 1909, I engaged in street railway work in Utica and Syracuse, N. Y.; from February, 1909, to January, 1915, I was doing street railway work with Stone and Webster, at Savannah, Ga. In January, 1915, became a cotton broker at Savannah, Ga. Until moving South early in 1909, I often visited Cambridge and kept in fairly close touch with Harvard and Harvard men of my time. Since then I have been to Cambridge but once, at our Triennial, and then for only one short, quick day. Through my non-reisident membership in the Harvard Club of New York, however, I have been able to see and hear of many old friends. It is indeed a Mecca to us, exiles.

For some years in Savannah, I was one of two Harvard men. On one occasion the manager of the Harvard Glee Club wrote to a friend of his, a Yale man, inquiring if there were any Harvard men in Savannah to whom he could write in regard to bringing down the Harvard Glee Club — my name was given. I have yet to hear from the Glee Club manager. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Savannah Golf Club.

Occupation	Assistant in Experimental Therapeutics, Johns Hopkins University.
Address	(home) 227 West Monument St., Baltimore, Md. (business) Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, Md.

On leaving college I entered the Harvard Medical School. In my fourth year there I entered the Massachusetts General Hospital as medical house officer, and then finished my fourth year in the school, taking my degree in 1911. After this I went to Germany where I worked in Pharmacology for two years at the University of Würzburg, assisting in the second year. During this time I found the Germans extremely kind and thoughtful, and I learned to like, and respect them immensely. I then went on to London for several months and studied in the Pharmacological Laboratory of University College, London University, and also in the London Hospital. On my return I took the position of Assistant Medical Resident Physician at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Boston, for one year. I am at present doing research and teaching work in Experimental Therapeutics, Johns Hopkins University, where I have been this past year. Degrees	A.B., 1905; M.D., 1908.
Unmarried
Occupation	Physician.
Address	36 Pleasant St., Woburn, Mass.

I completed the required number of courses in college in 1904, and in the fall entered upon my work at the Harvard Medical School, then in the old building on Exeter and Boylston streets. Four years of good hard work followed and I graduated in 1908 cum laude. In the Medical School I was a member of the Boylston Medical Society, the Phi Rho Sigma Fraternity, and the Alpha Omega Alpha Fraternity, an honorary medical society bearing the same relation to the medical school that the Phi Beta Kappa does to the college. During the summers my time was taken up with hospital work at the various hospitals in Boston.

In July, 1908 I began my 18 months service at the City Hospital in Worcester, Mass., a hospital which I had chosen for the reason that the course there gave one a more varied experience.

Upon my graduation there in February, 1910, I started in practice in Woburn, Mass., with my father, who had been practicing there for 11 years. Since then I have been located there with him, and have had plenty to do. I have been on the surgical staff of the Choate Memorial Hospital, on the Medical Board and the Training School Committee.

I have had little time for interests outside of medicine, save occasional attendance at baseball and football games, and a rare snatch of tennis. I do get away once in a while for a trip to New York, or Washington, Atlantic City, or on the Maine coast and in 1913 my vacation consisted of a trip to Denver which was a real treat.

At the present I am editor of the Journal of the Phi Rho Sigma Fraternity and also Vice President of the national fraternity, an organization of 26 chapters in the various medical schools. I am also doing special work in cutaneous diseases and have an appointment at the Boston Dispensary in the Department of Dermatology. Publication: One or two short

Immediately after graduation I went West in company with Whitcomb Field and, after a stay in the Canadian Rockies, I parted with him at Portland, Oregon, and went to Berkeley, California, where I was ordained minister of the First Unitarian Church. The following April occurred the great earthquake and I served as an officer of the Berkeley Relief Society and, in consequence, I became one of the founders of the Berkeley Charity Organization Society, of which I was Secretary for three years. In October I married Lita Schlesinger of Oakland, California, and the following July our daughter, Jane Lathrop, was born. While in Berkeley I served on the editorial board of the Pacific Unitarian, to which I made contributions. I gave a course of lectures in New Testament Theology at the Pacific Unitarian School for the Ministry. Was a member of the Harvard Club in San Francisco and the Faculty Club in Berkeley. In December, 1910, I accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Unitarian Congregational Society (Church of the Saviour) of Brooklyn, New York, where I was installed in March, 1911. As minister of this church I am responsible not only for the church itself but a Mission Chapel among Protestant immigrants and a Social Settlement owned and run by the church. I have been acting likewise as Trustee of the Meadville Theological School and a director of the Unitarian Conference of the Middle States and Canada. I have served as one of the editors of the new liturgy for use in Unitarian churches, known as "Congregational Worship." I last spring delivered three lectures at Meadville Theological School on Pastoral Theology. Member: Long Island Harvard Club, New York Harvard Club, The Heights Casino, The Brooklyn City Club.

After leaving Harvard in 1905, I was employed as teacher of History in the New Brunswick (N. J.) High School. I was in that position for two years from 1905 to 1907. In the fall of 1907, I became a teacher of History in the Salem (Ohio) High School and worked in that capacity two years. In 1909 I was elected Principal of the Salem High School in which position I have since been employed. We have a growing, expanding school with prospects in the very near future of a new up to date building now under construction, with equipment for all lines of secondary school work.

In June, 1909, I was married to Miss Blanche Christine Hart of New Brunswick, N. J. We are pleasantly located and find life full of good things.

Occupation	Export and Import Commission Merchant.
Address	(home) Caldwell, N. J. (business) 64 Wall St., New York, N. Y.

I went into business with my father immediately on leaving college in 1904. 1907 was secretary and treasurer of the Leaycraft Trading Company, importers and exporters to and from the West Indies, Africa, Australia, and New Zealand. I made several foreign trips on business, one of which resulted in the expedition to raise or explore an old Spanish wreck from which, or near which $8,000 in gold coin had previously been found.

This expedition sailed September, 1908, in the old cup defender, "Mayflower," which as a schooner yacht had made several voyages to San Domingo. The expedition was wrecked in a 100 mile hurricane south of Bermuda, but the crew partly composed of Harvard graduates, and partly of seamen was rescued. The wreck was located in a second expedition, but the location made it impossible to explore except at great expense.

1908, married. 1913, president of the Leaycraft Trading Company after my father's death. 1914, consolidated business with another old export and import house, Frame & Co., of London and New York. I am now in charge of the New York business which is operating under the name of Frame Leaycraft & Co., 64 Wall St., N. Y. Member: Delphic Club, Hasty Pudding, Institute of 1770, Harvard Club, N. Y.

After getting a degree of S. B., in 1905, I spent the summer trying to get a job. My line of work was teaching, but for a while there did not seem to be much doing in this line. I finally located at Plymouth, Mass., as an assistant in the high school of that place. The next year I transferred my affections to the island of Martha's Vineyard, where I held the position of high school principal. The next year I varied my experience by jumping to Ashfield, Mass., for the purpose of becoming the principal of Sanderson Academy, an institution held in great esteem by Charles Eliot Norton. I remained in this position for three years. Then a craving for the old stamping ground assailed me, so back I went to Harvard for an A. M., which I managed to secure in June, 1911. The following fall I came to Keene, N. H., to take the position of sub-master in the State Normal School. I am still in Keene trying to hold down this position. During my service here I found that I had left my heart in Massachusetts, so in the fall of 1913 reclaimed it by getting married. In February of 1915, my son Robert Warren was born. This brings my record up to date, I believe. Member: Founder of K. Δ. Φ. Fraternity, State Normal School, Bridgewater Mass., Φ Δ. K. After I had stowed away my cap and gown in the cedar chest and carefully surveyed a disgustingly pre-occupied and in-different world, I concluded to confer upon the Atlantic Monthly the honor of inscribing my name on its pay roll. I was connected with the advertising department of that estimable and august journal for one year That association, although pleasant and respectable, was not sufficiently nourishing. Accordingly, in the year of grace and panic, 1907, I took up the gentlemanly calling of selling bonds. Early in 1908, lured by a salary more nearly approaching munificence, I deserted "Athens" for "Babylon"; left the shaded walks of philosophers and poets for the exotic environ of the metropolis; in short, forsook the town of culture and bean-pots for the city of lime-light and lobsters.

Again I found myself in the fascinating field of "attracting attention, arousing interest and inducing action," called advertising. In this field I have continued to work practically ever since, with the exception of a couple of years as secretary of a public service corporation. My present designation is Eastern Sales Manager of the Niagara Lithograph Co., 209 W. 38th St., New York. Our blessings have not all been little ones, but these little ones are the greatest of all.

From 1905 to 1907 I was at Hopedale, Mass., with The Draper Company. I then went to the Arlington Mills, Lawrence, Mass., where I stayed until 1909. The following year I spent in the employ of the I. E. Palmer Co., Middletown, Connecticut. And since 1910 I have been with the Riverside Mills in Augusta, Georgia.

I have made a special study of mechanical engineering as it applies to textile manufacturing, both as regards construction and operation. The first five years of my work were mainly formative, but since coming south, I have had an excellent opportunity to put many ideas into operation with very good success. We have made extensive additions, and have lowered the cost of production in most departments. I am now working on an extensive efficiency and "Safety First" campaign. Address	(home) 33 Concord Ave., Cambridge, Mass. (business) Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

The summer of 1905 I spent tutoring a boy and travelling with his family in Europe. For the following two years I was a master at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., where I taught English and other subjects. I tutored boys at Newport during both summers of 1906 and 1907.

In the spring of 1907 I was awarded a travelling fellowship in the Harvard Graduate School for the purpose of studying music in Europe. From October, 1907, to June, 1909, I lived in Berlin studying piano with Mme. Varette Ter-Stepanoff and composition with Philipp Rüfer.

During the year 1909-10 I was Instructor of Music at Brown University where I taught Harmony and History of Music. I also gave piano recitals in Providence and Cambridge.

I left Providence in 1910 to accept a position as Professor of Piano at Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas. In 1911, I accepted a position as Assistant Professor of Piano and Theory at the University of Wisconsin, where I taught for the three years 1911 to 1914. My activities at Madison also included the giving of piano recitals and lecture-recitals. During 1913-14 I was President of the Wisconsin Music Teachers' Association. I have been appointed associate professor in the department of music in Smith College for the year 1915-16.

After graduating at Harvard he took the post graduate course in Architecture, subsequently was connected for a time with the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and for several years past has been studying in Italy; at present giving courses in the American Academy in Rome and much interested in the Library of the Academy as associate librarian.

"The American Academy in Rome, Annual Report, 1914," says:—"Mr. Lothrop, formerly assistant in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and a member of the Classical School during the year 1911-1912, has been chiefly occupied during the past year with the Renaissance painters of Central Italy working under the personal supervision of Commendatore Adolfo Venturi, and has closely followed the latter's lectures, both at the American Academy and at the University of Rome, supplementing those lectures by means of visits to the monuments in question. It is his purpose to make a detailed study of the Peruginisque masters of the Quattrocento, and, through photographing the still unpublished frescoes and other works in the provincial districts of Umbria, to define with some precision the personalities of the lesser known artists whose works are frequently confused with their greater contemporaries. To aid in this work he has found it necesasry to collect a large number of photographs, already amounting to several thousand, which will eventually form an important branch of the Library of the Academy. Mr. Lothrop published in the Nation of April 17, 1913, a short account of Professor Venturi's recent attributions to Raphael of certain frescoes in the Cambio at Perugia, and he has also prepared an appreciation both of the latest volumn of Professor Venturi's "Storia dell'Arte Italiana" and of his work as a critic in the field of Italian painting. He is at present engaged in preparing a monograph on the Umbrian painter Bartolomeo Caporali for the purpose of demonstrating that the latter is the real author of several works still attributed to Fiorenzo di Lorenzo. Professor Venturi very kindly consented to Mr. Lothrop's translating into English a short manual on Italian Art, as yet unpublished in the Italian language. The English version is to appear in the near future."

Worked on survey of Merrimac River for U. S. Navy Dept., in the fall of 1902, then went with Farnum & Murray of Boston on survey work on electric car lines around Lowell, Mass., and on a survey of Androscoggin River, Me., for locations for dam sites. The last work was from December, 1902, until June, 1903, then I went with the U. S. Government again on surveys of Manchester, Beverly and Salem Harbors until fall. The winter of 1903 and 1904 was very dull in engineering lines, so I did anything that came to hand. But in the spring of 1904 I went to work with Mr. H. P. Wires, C. E., on private surveying around Cape Ann, Mass. Until August, 1904, when I went with the Park Commission (Metropolitan) in Boston. I worked there until 1906, on both surveys and construction work, which included the Revere Beach Boulevard and Mystic River Parkway. Leaving there I went with the New York Water Board at White Plains, N. Y., and worked six months on Stadia surveying and final locations work. Leaving there in March, 1907, I went with the Topographical Bureau, Borough of Meens. I am now working for them on all kinds of Topographical work.

Have had no office of honor or trust as there seemed to be a scarcity when I came on the scene. I have had a good chance to see several branches of engineering, and the development of the largest Borough of Greater New York, from the Plane table work to the finished monumented street systems, and in some parts of the Borough of a wonderful development of property. In addition to my editorial work I was a member of the Youngstown civil service commission from January 1, 1910, to July 1, 1914. I organized the work of the commission under the first and also under the present civil service laws of Ohio, wrote and enforced its rules, and examined about fifteen hundred candidates for city positions in order to select the best men for appointment and promotion. The commission has now fallen into the hands of politicians, but there are signs that the people will protest at the election this year. As I went into the work for the opportunity it offered to know men, my time was not lost. Now I feel the need of further study and thought, especially along lines laid down by Professor Irving Babbitt in his Rousseau and Romanticism courses. Experience has borne out my conviction that these two courses set up a more fruitful conception of life and more serviceable standards than any others which I took in Cambridge. Occupation Minister and Teacher
Address (home) 106 Houghton St., Worcester, Mass.
(business) Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass.

During the academic year 1905-1906 I served as assistant secretary in the Student Department of the Y. M. C. A., under the International Committee. I visited 113 colleges and other institutions of learning in 23 states, in the interests of Bible study among students. In the fall of 1906 I entered Union Theological Seminary, New York, as a Middler and graduated magna cum laude in May, 1908. As I had taken my A. B. in 1904, I divided my Senior year at Harvard between the Divinity School and the graduate department and so was able to enter Union with advanced standing. While in the seminary I did mission and Boys' Club work and part of the time taught Bible at Riverview Academy, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

February 1, 1908, I became pastor of the Tremont Baptist Church, Borough of the Bronx, New York City, and was ordained there May 15, 1908. While there we built an upper story to the church, which cost $35,000 and the new portion was dedicated without interest bearing debt. I took part in a number of religious and social service activities. The Fall after graduation I enlisted in Company I, Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., and served almost five years. Owing to a run down physical condition I left New York, July 1, 1913, and in October became Acting Pastor of the First Congregational Church, Suffield, Conn. I had a happy year and "came back" physically. Beside the church work I had charge of Boy Scouts, helped on various social service activities and did considerable farming on a small scale. November 1, I became school minister at Worcester Academy. I teach required and voluntary Bible classes, preach in the school and outside and have oversight of the Student Christian Association.

I am looking forward to the time when I can own a farm on which to live in the summer, and eventually for all the year. Meantime, I am enjoying the work here and the opportunity to see my room mate, Douglas Cook, frequently.

After graduation I took a short trip abroad, visiting England, France and Switzerland. Upon my return home I entered the employ of Estabrook & Co., bankers, where I remained for about four years. At the end of that time I again went abroad for a sojourn of six months, touring Europe more thoroughly than the previous time. The most interesting part of my trip to me was two or three weeks of mountain climbing in Switzerland and the Tyrol. Shortly after my return home my travelling began again, but in a different direction this time. From the deck of an excursion steamer the beauties and wonders of Panama, Caracas and the islands of the West Indies unfolded themselves before me. This trip ended with a visit to Nassau and Palm Beach. Almost immediately upon my return to Boston I found myself engaged as a salesman in the wholesale coal business. In consequence with this business I took two very interesting trips; one to the coal mines in West Virginia, and the other to Hampton Roads and back on board the collier "Melrose." At the beginning of this stage in my life I married Miss Junia Russell of Cambridge, and shortly after removed my residence to Dedham. Three years later I made another change in business, and am now engaged as assistant treasurer of the Boston Wharf Company, a real estate and storage concern. WILLIAM CLARENCE MATTHEWS

Born	Selma, Ala, January 7, 1877.
Parents	William Henry Matthews, Elizabeth Abigail Jones.
School	Phillips Andover Academy, Andover, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1904.
Degrees	LL.B. (Boston University), 1907.

Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 4 Franklin St., Neponset, Mass. (business) 551 Old South Building, Boston, Mass.

At the beginning of my Senior year, I entered the University Law School, after first having obtained a leave of absence for one year from college. At the close of my Senior year I did not receive my degree, because there stood against me in the college office an entrance condition in plane geometry. Since I am a three year man the college will not excuse this condition and grant the degree even though I have seventeen (17) courses to my credit. I make this explanation because many classmates have asked me why I did not receive my degree.

During the two years I pursued my law studies at the Boston University Law School, I was athletic Instructor at Noble & Greenough School where it was my pleasure to instruct a number of boys who later became famous at Harvard. Among the number was "Bob" Storer, Leverett Saltonstall, Homer Sweetser and Fred Bradlee. During this same period I was connected with the law firm of Sweeney and Wilson. In April of 1908 I was appointed an athletic instructor in the schools of the City of Boston and was assigned to Dorchester High and Boston Latin School. I had the honor of starting "Mat" Logan as a quarter back during the year I was instructor at Boston Latin School. I remained athletic instructor in the schools until the fall of 1913, when I resigned because of increased duties in the United States Attorney's office. Attorney General Wickersham, by direction of President Taft, appointed me special Assistant United States Attorney in April of 1912, to fill the vacancy made by the

After leaving college, I spent two years in a worsted mill making cloth for men's wear, spending some time in each department. In the summer of 1907, I had my only taste of foreign travel, taking a trip down the St. Lawrence with the Boston Commandery. The next two winters I studied at the Philadelphia Textile School and in the second year succeeded in winning the John S. Carruth prize. After completing the course there, I entered the employ of the Standish Worsted Company of Plymouth, and in 1912 was made Treasurer and Superintendent.

On October 7, 1911, I married Marion Alden Mason (Wellesley, 1910) of Cambridge, and we immediately started on a motor trip to Washington, D. C., and return.

I was elected president of the Plymouth Maine Association in 1911, and have been secretary for the last two years.

LEWIS MERIAM

Born	Salem, Mass., October 5, 1883.
Parents	Horatio Cook Meriam, Edith Worcester Meriam.
School	Bridgewater High School, Bridgewater, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A.B. 1905; A.M. 1906; L.B. (George Washington Law) 1909.
Married	Pink Wilson, Washington, D.C., August 25, 1909.
Children	Adele Stuart, October 11, 1914.
Occupation	Statistician, U. S. Government Civil Service.
Address	(home) Washington St., Kensington, Md. (business) U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

In November, 1905, I was appointed an editorial and statistical assistant in the United States Census Bureau as the result of passing a competitive examination. I remained in the Census Bureau until August, 1912, when I resigned to become assistant chief of the newly created Children's Bureau, then in the Department of Commerce and Labor, now in the Department of Labor. During these years, almost a decade, I have served a rigorous apprenticeship in practical statistics and I have had my share of administrative work. In the last year or two I have been called upon occasionally to assist in the publicity work of the Bureau and I have written and spoken about it.

One in the classified civil service is not permitted to indulge in political activity and I have restrained myself. I am, however, deeply interested in political developments and in local affairs. I am the secretary of the Monday Evening Club of Washington, an organization of persons interested in the social welfare of the city, and I have taken an active part in one or two important movements in our little town.

Prior to my marriage I spent my leisure time in attending evening law classes. After my marriage, Mrs. Meriam and I came out to the little town of Kensington, eleven miles from Washington, where I spend my leisure in agricultural pursuits, and of late in watching the baby. Publications:

Unmarried
Occupation	Manufacturer (Treasurer of Wm.S. Merrell Chemical Co.)
Address	(home) 20 The Navarre, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, O. (business) Fifth and Pike St., Cincinnati, O.

I spent the summer of 1905 camping in Yellowstone Park, later visiting the Portland Fair. Returned to Cincinnati in September and entered into business with the Wm. S. Merrell Chemical Company, pharmaceutical manufacturers. This is the oldest concern in Cincinnati, having been established by my grandfather in 1828. In the summer of 1907, I took my second, and, up-to-date, my last trip to Yellowstone Park, spending six weeks camping and fishing. My return trip was by way of San Francisco, where I spent six weeks on business, returning via Los Angeles. Have made only one return pilgrimage to Cambridge, in 1906, but have met a number of classmen at the Associated Harvard Club meetings from year to year. The only other variations from the daily grind have been business trips, ranging from Duluth Unfortunately, in some ways, I could not be in Cambridge during our Senior year, but having finished my work for the degree I left at the end of the Junior year and went to Groton School, where I taught for two years. I learned a lot myself and enjoyed it a great deal, being converted to the idea that it is a valuable experience for any man, whatever may be his future plans, to teach for a little while. I then entered the Harvard Medical School in the fall of 1906, graduating in 1910. These four years were full of the hardest work I had ever seen, or imagined possible. I found many 1905 men in the school, but practically all of them were one or two years ahead of me. I then entered the Massachusetts General Hospital as a surgical house-officer, remaining there one year.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

The regular service was sixteen months, but as the man ahead of me dropped out, I had to be pushed ahead, though the gain in time did not make up for the loss in experience.

On leaving the hospital in August, 1911, I became an assistant to Dr. Maurice Richardson, with whom I was till the time of his death in 1912. I then became associated with Dr. Franklin G. Balch in the practice of surgery, and have been with him ever since. In 1914, I was appointed assistant-surgeon to out-patients at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and assistant surgeon at the Robert B. Brigham Hospital. I am also consulting surgeon to the House of the Good Samaritan in Brookline. Publication: Two short articles in The Boston Medical and Surgical Journal. During my senior year and the three years following I studied at the Harvard Medical School. Before entering into the practice of medicine I was assistant to Dr. Joseph H. Pratt of Boston in his clinical and research work for one year, and medical interne at the Boston City Hospital for thirteen months. Still another preparation for my profession—I was married August 16, 1910, at Dorchester, Mass., to Rose Lena Hurvitz. Here we have been since, and we have done well. The life of a general practitioner of medicine is often strenuous and trying, but it abounds in opportunity for useful service. I have served for two and a half years as district physician for the Boston Dispensary, in South and East Boston, in Roxbury, and in Charlestown. I am physician at the Boston Mt. Sinai Hospital and at the Jewish Home for Aged, and assistant physician at the Boston Consumptives' Hospital. I am assistant in Harmatology at the Tufts College Medical School, and Medical examiner for the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. Of late, I have been fairly active in the Zionist movement,—a movement which aims for the renationalization of the Jews, and to create for them a publicly legally assured home in Palestine. In September, 1904, I went to the Eternal City to study for the priesthood. There I resided at the North American College for four years taking courses in philosophy, theology and canon law at the Roman Academy and the University of Propaganda. On June 12, 1908, I was ordained in the Basilica of St. John Lateran's, by Cardinal Respighi. During the summer months of these years travelling through the various countries of Continental Europe was a welcome diversion from seminary routine as well as an antidote to my American provincialism. Since my return home I have been stationed at St. Francis de Sales church, Boston.

years, during which time I was studying law in the office of Davis & Holliston of this city. During the summer of 1907, I took a job as watchman for a lumber camp of the Oliver Iron Mining Co., at Payne, Minn., and with my wife stayed in the woods all summer. In spare time I was reading law, especially the statutes of Minnesota. In the Fall, I entered the University of Minnesota as senior. In October, 1907, I was taken down with typhoid fever which prevented my doing any studying before the succeeding January, but, nevertheless, I passed all examinations in the law course and was graduated with the LL. B. degree on June 11, 1908. I was then admitted to practice before the Supreme Bench and began law work with the firm of Davis & Holliston. I stayed with this firm and its successor, Mr. Davis until, owing to the ill health of Mr. Davis necessitating his practical withdrawal from business, I started in practicing alone on May 1, 1913. I am meeting with reasonable success, getting a good reputation, especially for brief writing, and have won several cases in Supreme Court, and am keeping busy. I own my own home, and am interested in my "home garden" vegetables and flowers. I endeavor to take an active part in all neighborhood activities for social and material improvement. I am superintendent of a union Sunday School and am working toward making Duluth one of the cleanest and best cities in every respect in the world. CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

I spent the first four years after leaving college as a student at the Harvard Medical School. A few weeks after graduating from the Medical School I began to serve as house officer on the West Medical Service of the Massachusetts General Hospital. The internship lasted sixteen months. At the end of this period, I went to Vienna and then Berlin to continue the study of internal medicine. I remained abroad about nine months and then went directly to Cincinnati to act as assistant to Dr. Fred Forchheimer, who was then the foremost practitioner in the community and professor of medicine at the local medical school. It soon became apparent to me that Cincinnati medical ideas and ideals diverged so widely from the course which I had laid out for myself, that I became very unhappy and began to long for Boston, feeling that there I could work towards my goal in the way which I had so carefully planned. Finally, after a year and a half I did return to Boston; and I have felt every day since that this was the wisest move I ever made. I shortly became an Assistant Visiting Physician at the Mass. General Hospital and a member of the teaching staff at the Harvard Medical School. It had been my fervent desire to devote my best energies to medical research and teaching. My Boston friends understood the point of view perfectly. The rest has been easy. Publication: A number of short papers on medical subjects. Member: American Society for the Advancement of Clinical Investigation, American Medical Association, Massachusetts Medical Society, Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Fraternity, Harvard Alumni Association.

For three years after graduation I was engaged in business in New York City. In September, 1908, I entered General Theological Seminary, and upon completing the regular course of study there, came at once to work in the Missionary District of Tokyo. The experience of learning this language has a humorous side, but the humorous aspects are gradually eclipsed by the severe necessity of getting to the point where addresses may be provocative of thought rather than of laughter. I finished up the prescribed Language Examination in April, 1914. Together with the study of the language, I was occupied in teaching, secular and religious, in St. Paul's School, Tokyo, and progressively in Japanese Mission Work in Tokyo and vicinity. On May 1, 1914, I took up residence in Hirosaki at the northern end of the main island of the Empire, and undertook "the real thing," straight, pure and simple evangelistic work among the uncontaminated, the great unwashed, the as οἱ πολλοὶ MacArthur used to say. The ideas they have, and those they haven't, with regard to Christianity, are refreshing to one with a sense of humor.

The matter and method of teaching Christianity here is so different from at home, where even atheists and agnostics have, by birth, a Christian consciousness, that one has to remould one's ways. I am still in the process, "green" as can be, but I hope to gain more wisdom and power with continued endeavor.

It's serious work, and we need your help greatly, in prayer, gifts, and cheery messages from time to time. Don't forget it. But at the same time be sure that here in far-off Amoori

The year following graduation I devoted to the study of interior decoration at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, Mass. In June, 1906, I sailed for Liverpool having won the Charles A. Cummings' Travelling scholarship. I spent the summer abroad giving considerable study to the cathedral country northwest of Paris, which has lately been so devastated by the German army. Having visited England, France, and Italy, I returned to America late in October. From 1907 to 1910 I was employed in the office of Little & Browne, architects, 70 Kilby street, Boston. During 1909-1910 I also became head of the department of Decorative Art in the Lowell Textile School. Later I was employed by Francis Bacon, 2a Park St., but I left in the summer of 1911, owing to trouble with my eyes which has prevented my steady daily employment in the field of art ever since. My father died on Feb. 14th, 1912 (he was of the well known Harvard Class of '60). Having taken more or less interest in the stock market and finance during my college days I took up the study of stock brokerage business and am now to be found at 59 Congress St., Boston, Mass. My private life has been of little interest. Serious illness in the family has more or less affected my life

My life since leaving college has been spent chiefly in the realization of my ambition for the practice of medicine. Despite an unavoidable chain of rather adverse circumstances, through some perserverance on my part and more leniency and patience on that of those higher up, I have at last reached the highway of my ambition. However mediocre my attainments I at least have sought them by adherence to a legitimate and recognized standard. My greatest reward for what little I have so far accomplished is the privilege of going on. However, to any brave youth who might chance to emulate this method let me drop a brief word of advice, an old saw yet especially emphasized by my experience: "Don't try to do two things at once." Drop one for a time if only to take it up later, and let the pet one be the last.

I entered the chemical department of the University of Maine Experimental Station, at Orono, Me., in October, 1905. The chief problem with which I was concerned here was "the digestibility and nutritive value of corn meal" as an article of diet. Four students of the University of Maine, varying in weight, height, health and appetites, were used as subjects in this work. The experiments were carried on at ten week periods, during which time the men were required to eat all of their meals in the laboratory. The corn meal was prepared in various ways, such as johnny-cake, hoe-cake, etc., and a record of the exact amount of all the ingredients used in preparation. One week, a simple diet would be served the men three times a day, consisting of johnny-cake, butter, milk and coffee, with the addition of preserved fruit for "supper." The next week the diet was compounded by the addition of hamburg steak for "dinner." The third week the diet was simple again, the corn meal being served in another form, etc. Careful record was kept of the amount of food consumed by each man and analyses were made of all food used and on all excretion. The experiments were successful and have been published.

In May and June of 1906, the University of Maine conducted two "Farming Special" educational trips, with which I was invited as one of the lecturers. These trips were carried on for the purpose of educating the farmers of Maine with modern methods for the cultivation of the soil, of the growing of crops, testing of seeds, care of cattle, etc. Several baggage cars of the Maine Central and Bangor & Aroostook railroads were fitted up with exhibits illustrating these problems, and at the various railroad stations the lectures were given covering a period of thirty-three days.

In August, 1906, I received a position with the Massachusetts State Board of Health, as an analyst in the food and drug laboratory. The work here consists of the chemical examination of foods and drugs on the Massachusetts market. Examinations are also made of poisons and habit-forming drugs. From 1906 to 1910 I have taught chemistry (qualitative analysis) in the Roxbury, Mass., Evening High School.

In collaboration with Mr. H. C. Lythgoe, Director of this Department, I have written the following articles: "The Composition of Tincture of Ginger," and "Rate of Decomposition of Sweet Spirits of Nitre". I have also written "Tests for Distinguishing Between Raw and Pasteurized Milk and Certain Reactions for Detecting Old Milk," "A Study of the Copper Sulphate Method" for detecting added

After two years in business in this country I travelled to the Orient in company with a New York business man. Joining with others, leaders in liberal thought, we endeavored to stimulate interest in Universal Peace, a Universal Auxiliary Language and other universal objects such as a Universal Coinage, Universal Government, World-wide economic organization and commercial development, Universal Religion. Our aim was to awaken in the people a realization of the oneness of religion and the fundamental oneness of humanity. Most of the time was spent in various cities and towns in India and Burma. We came in touch with people of many racial groups and religious affiliations and wherever they had thrown aside the fetters of caste and of prejudice we found profound interest. Returning I gave several addresses on these subjects in London, Eng., and since the summer of 1907 I have discussed these matters before audiences in many of the cities and towns in the United States.

In 1908 I was in Chicago during the first Taft campaign, being Assistant Campaign Manager of the National Republican College League and Managing Editor of the National College Republican, a paper published during the campaign. From 1908 to 1910 I was located in Boston working in the interest of the Boston 1915 movement, the Twentieth Century Magazine, the weekly known as the Boston Common, and for a short time for the Boston Chamber of Commerce. From 1910 to 1914 I was a Special Agent of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, making especially a study of social and educational conditions in various parts of Massachusetts.

I am now interested in an educational plan being worked out here (Dublin, N. H.), which aspires to give a universal education. Based upon a spiritual foundation, training will be given in every field of the fields of knowledge, according to the desire and capacity of the student.

In April, 1915, I spoke at the International Bahai Congress held under the auspices of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, on the following subjects: The Equality of Men and Women, Universal Education, Universal Language. The Teachings of Baha'ollah and of his son Abdul Baha Abbas was the basis of these discourses. The influence of these teachings is great and wherever they have penetrated they have had a marked effect upon the people, allaying distrust and hatred and bringing about understanding and love, both in the Orient and the Occident.

Since I do not believe that war and bloodshed will cease as a result of the application of external and superficial remedies, I am interested in this plan which deals with the roots and causes of differences among the people of the world, and offers a remedy that reaches the foundations of life.

I have been connected with several societies for the promotion of liberal thought and for the spread of knowledge and am still an active member in some of them. I have been for two years a Trustee and the Secretary of the Green Acre Fellowship in Eliot, Maine. This is an open forum for the investigation of Truth. I am a member of the Executive Board of the Cheshire County Cow Test Association and its Secretary and Treasurer. Publication: 1907, in May issues of Akhbar Saudagar-Bombay, India, articles regarding experiences in India; October and November, 1908, editorials and articles in The National College Republican,

During my term at college, I continued active newspaper reportorial work (which began in 1897), and upon leaving college devoted myself exclusively to the duties of political editor of the Boston Post, until the Fall of 1904, when, in order to obtain time for law studies, I gave up daily newspaper work, and joined the staff of the Republic (a weekly), as associate editor, and enrolled at Boston University Law School. While at college, and in connection with newspaper reportorial duties, I became interested in municipal, state and national politics. In January, 1906, I temporarily abandoned law, and also newspaper work, to accept the position of secretary to the Mayor of Boston, which position I resigned during the summer of 1906 to resume law studies. During the two following school years, I divided my time between study and politics, receiving the degree of LL.B. in 1908, and holding several positions of prominence in the Councils of the Democratic party. Following my admission to the Bar, I began practice at 53 State Street, Boston, being associated with my brothers, Joseph F. O'Connell, '96, and then a member of Congress; and James E. O'Connell, '02. I took a post-graduate course at Boston University Law School and in 1910 received the degree of LL.M. and in

The summer after our graduation, i.e. the summer of 1905, I was senior councillor at Mowglis Camp for Young Boys, Bridgewater, N. H., for the second season. That fall I became a master at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and had a very enjoyable year there. The summer of 1906, I spent at Charlevoix, Mich., with the rest of our family. In 1906-1907, I enjoyed another pleasant year at St. Paul's, and spent the summer of 1907, for the third season, as senior councillor at the Mowglis. Yielding to the lure of the far West, I went out to Thatcher School, Nordhoff, Cal., where I enjoyed the teaching and life very much but not enough to stay so far West more than the one school year. The following summer, that of 1908, I spent in tutoring a boy at Walpole, N. H. In the fall of 1908, I secured a position as master at Noble's School, Boston, Mass., where I taught very happily for four years. I spent the summer of 1909 at home, in Fort Wayne, Ind., and then in 1910, wishing a more active and out-of-door summer, I became senior councillor at Camp Wyanoke for Boys, Wolfboro, N. H., and have liked it so much that I have been there every summer since and shall be there this coming summer. In the school year 1912-1913, I helped start Hamdon Hall, a country-day school for boys just outside of New Haven, Conn. While on a camping trip to Squam Lake, N. H., during the summer of 1913, I met Dr. Huntington, and that fall I became a master at Cloyne House School, Newport, R. I., where I am now teaching.

Thus you see that all my time, winter and summer, is taken up in the supervision and teaching of boys, and it is a profession I thoroughly enjoy. Most of all do I enjoy my summers at camp for there one has all the pleasures of association with the young and none of the drudgery of the school-room, one lives in the open air and becomes a boy again

Having finished the work required for graduation by the end of the Junior year, I left Cambridge and re-entered the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania in the second year class, having had one year of medicine previous to coming to Harvard. I returned to Cambridge for Commencement in June, 1905, and that summer took a trip through the West with Albert W. Rice, 1905, and my cousin, Sam R. Outerbridge, '98. The summer of 1906, I spent working in the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, with a brief trip abroad in September. Graduating in medicine in 1907, I spent that summer also in the Pennsylvania Hospital, then went to Canada for a month, and somehow contracted typhoid. To recuperate, I took a month's trip through the West Indies, visiting most of the Lesser Antilles, and getting as far down as Demerara (British Guiana). On returning in January, 1908, I entered the University Hospital, Philadelphia, as interne, and remained there uninterruptedly, with the exception of a short trip to Jamaica in March, 1909, until August, 1909. My term of service being then finished, I went abroad, spending that winter in Berlin, studying pathology, surgery and gynecology. In the spring of 1910, I went down to Vienna, and continued practically the same studies. In May of that year, I took a short trip with a Johns Hopkins man down the Dalmatian Coast and into Montenegro. In August, Herbert Welsh, '04, came over, and we spent a delightful month walking and climbing in the Tyrol and Switzerland. After spending the fall in Vienna, I returned to Berlin for a month and reached home the day after Christmas, 1910. Since that time I have been plugging away attempting to establish myself in practice in Philadelphia, specializing in gynecology and abdominal surgery. Parts of two summers have been very pleasantly spent in tramping and camping in the White Mountains with Herbert Welsh, and also F. M. Rivinus, '04. I have done a little teaching in Surgical Pathology and Operative Surgery in the University of Pennsylvania, and am associated as assistant with two surgeons. I now hold the following positions, no one of which amount to a great deal but which supposedly may hold out hopes for the future: Assistant Instructor in Surgical Pathology and Assistant in Gynecological Pathology in the University of Pennsylvania, Assistant Gynecologist to the Methodist Hospital, Obstetrician to the Maternity Hospital, Out-Patient Surgeon to the Gynecean Hospital, Philadelphia. The principal events of my life from 1905 to 1911 are set forth in the Second Class Report, and won't stand boiling down again. In 1911 I started in for myself in the practice of law, and formed a partnership with Matthew Hale, '03. Within a year we enlarged the firm to Hale, Oveson & Kendall, with offices at 15 State St., Boston. The combination seems to have been successful in concealing my weak points from our clients.

A trip out West, and two trips abroad on business, represent the most of my travels during the past four years, though one December I did go down to the mountains of So. Carolina to sling a little ink and shoot a few ducks—a bit of mixed business and pleasure. About three years ago I bought a small farm of forty acres at Southborough, Mass. as a diversion and relaxation from business; it is probably the most sensible thing I've done since I dropped Greek B and took up Geology 4. Last year I was elected one of the Selectmen of Southborough, and this year they made me Chairman of the Board; I now feel the part that John Bowditch looks.

As for other offices of honor or trust, I was Director of The Boston Journal for a year or so; I am Treasurer and Director of the New England Co-operative Society, which does a considerable business in a half dozen stores and markets in New England; I am Director of the Cosmopolitan Trust Co., one of the medium sized banks of Boston; and a few Trusteeships help to steady the fluctuating income from my law practice — which is a lucky thing for the farm. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Boston City Club, Boston Chamber of Commerce, Bar Association of City of Boston, and the Southboro Grange.

Since leaving Williams College with the glorious class of '01, I hied me down to Cambridge for a higher education in the art of running Parishes, as great Bishops, such as Brooks and Lawrence, or even little Deans, like Hodges could show me how to run them. 'Twas then I took some courses at the University, paid my dues and found myself enrolled as a member of great 1905. But while you were graduating and escorting a girl or two about the yard I was sweating my young life away on the East Side of old N.Y., with Dr. Rainsford as my Chief, and by way of relief from Tenament House stair climbing I would dash off to the cooling breezes of Rockaway Park—not lonely trips were these—two hundred women and children always went with me, always. In the winter great sermons were preached at St. George's sometimes. I used to preach there, too. After four summers in New York I was given a tract of land in Northern Minnesota—some 23,000 square miles—to develop spiritually, i.e. the inhabitants thereof. There were fewer inhabitants than there were square miles. I scratched the surface here and there during my four years hard labor there and he needs must be a skillful reaper to enjoy the joys of harvest there. I came back East and found me out a wife. Our first child was born on the bleak north shore of Lake Superior. Brought my wife and baby back with me, but I left $10,000 out there on the bank. Since then I have heard that the waves have washed it away. Then I tried to run a small parish in Gardner, along with a President of the Senate of a Commonwealth. After three years of trying the State and church dissolved partnership. I came to Fall River. Now I am ministering to a very happy flock of English folk. They hear my sermons, and yet they receive me into their homes and pay me a salary. Judge ye, if my ten years out have led to success? Yes, and I have a son, too, who will be along about the Class of '34. Gad Zooks! Member: Sigma Phi, F. and A. M.

School	Central High School, Philadelphia, Pa.
Years in College	1901-1904.
Degrees	A.B., 1904 (1905); Ph.D., (University of Pittsburg), 1908; Certificate (University of London), 1909.
Married	Dora Hunt, Birkenhead, England, Jan. 1, 1909; (died Nov. 13, 1909); Josephine Alexandra Turner Homans, New York, N. Y., June 25, 1910.
Occupation	Teacher.
Address	(home) 2141 North Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa. (business) Northeast High School, Philadelphia, Pa.

Having secured my degree in 1904, I spent my senior year working for the Philadelphia Public Ledger; then three years in Pittsburg, dividing my time between a theological school and the University. They gave me a beautiful hood, a portrait of which got me on the line with other celebrities in last year's show at the Philadelphia Academy, and the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. I had married in England before getting the degree, and I went over there to live. But my wife died after we had settled in Birkenhead a few months, and I returned to Philadelphia. Having decided that my "call" to the ministry had been a false alarm I secured a position in the Northeast High School, and have been there ever since, teaching English. Except for giving two or three public lectures every winter I do nothing to reflect glory on the class. My present wife, who was Josephine Turner of Norfolk, and later Josephine Homans of New York, is the only famous member of my household. My great ambition, just at present, is to do a golf course, any old course, in eighty. I like teaching partly because it gives me a chance to play all summer in Northern France. I have crossed the Atlantic some forty odd times and hope to make it a century before the next ten year book appears. Ten years ago in England I was dissuaded from going into the moving picture business. This year I tried it as a side line to teaching and I warn all 1905 men to beware; they also are ten years too late.

In June, 1904, I had completed the work required for the degree of A.B. I did not take my degree at that time, however, but returned in June, 1905, to take it with the class and enjoy the class day and commencement celebrations.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

In September, 1904, I took up the third year's work in mechanical engineering at M. I. T., receiving credit for the first two years' work on account of work I had covered in courses in the Lawrence Scientific School. During the summer of 1905, I worked in one of the shops of the American Locomotive Co., in Schenectady, N. Y. In the fall of 1905, I continued my work at M. I. T., receiving the degree of S. B. in mechanical engineering in June, 1906. From September, 1906, until May, 1907, I was an assistant in the Mechanical Engineering Laboratories of M. I. T. In May, 1907, I took a position as foreman of the testing department with the Trenton Iron Company of Trenton, N. J. This led up to the position of assistant superintendent, which position I held with this company from 1908 until November, 1911. At that time there was a change in the organization, and I was made superintendent. In January, 1913, the name was changed to The American Steel & Wire Company Trenton Works. I continued as superintendent, which position I still hold. Member: Harvard Alumni Association, Alumni Association of Mass. Inst. of Technology, Harvard Club of Philadelphia, Technology Club of Philadelphia, Engineers Club of Trenton, Trenton Chamber of Commerce, $\Sigma A E$ Fraternity.

department of The National Cash Register Co., as a clerk for six months. Became assistant in the advertising department of the N. C. R. Co. in February, 1904. Served here for four months when I was given charge of the National Cash Register exhibits in St. Louis. Held this position during the exposition. From January 1, 1905 to May 1, 1905, I sold cash registers in Chicago. Left the selling field to take charge of N. C. R. exhibits at Portland, Oregon. At close of the exposition I came back to the N. C. R. factory where I remained in the capacity of assistant manager in advertising department of the N. C. R. until 1909. Left Dayton in January, 1909, to take charge of the Patterson-Gibbs Co. of Chicago, at that time owned by my brother and Mr. E. D. Gibbs. Bought out my brother and Gibbs in fall of 1910, and have been owner and manager since. The business is a good one with even better prospects. Publication: "Unusual Pictures," a book on advertising art. Member: Advertising Club, Chicago, Ohio Society, Chicago.

PHILIP MERRILL PATTERSON

Born	Saco, Me., Nov. 22, 1881.
Parents	Alfred Patterson, Sarah Frances Jordan.
School	Arlington High School, Arlington, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	S.B., 1905.

Occupation	Salesman and Electrical Engineer.
Address	(home) Windsor Park, Walbrook, Baltimore, Md. (business) 1104 Union Trust Building, Baltimore, Md.

Immediately after graduating in 1905 I went to Pittsburg, Pa., and served as apprentice in the shops of the Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co. for two years. E. C. Stone, '04, came there too, so we roomed together and had some interesting and valuable experiences. There were over 300 other college men there for the same purpose, i. e., to work as mechanics in the shop for the sake of the instruction and experience. These other college men came from Yale,

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

Cornell, Michigan, California, etc., in fact nearly all American colleges and many foreign colleges were represented, which gave me an opportunity to learn something about other colleges and make some good friends. We had pretty rough experiences, mixed in with good times, all mighty pleasant to recall. The next five and one half years I worked as salesman in the Boston office of the Westinghouse Electric Co., then one and one half years for Fairbanks, Morse and Co., in New York and Springfield, Mass., and now I am with the Holtzer Cabot Electric Co. of Boston.

As I was anxious to get ahead in my profession, I allowed myself little time for diversions of any kind, with the exception of music of which I am very fond, and as the years slipped by, and I continued to travel about on the road, it began to look as though I had become a confirmed "bach". Fate often changes a man's life with surprising quickness, and it has been so with me. Happening to meet a girl whom I used to know when in college, I realized right away that she was the one for me.

Shortly after our marriage, I was sent to Baltimore to represent the Holtzer Cabot Electric Co. there. We found an unusually beautiful place in Walbrook, Md., where we have settled down and are very happy. I am fortunate in having a position with a firm that I have the utmost confidence in, and enjoy being associated with. So the prospect for enjoying some of the "durable satisfactions of life," is good. Member: Association of Harvard Engineers (Charter member).

Married	Kate Cheesman Riggs, New York City, N. Y., April 29, 1915.
Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	165 Broadway, New York City, N. Y.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

In the autumn of 1905 I became a master at St. Paul's School at Concord, New Hampshire, where I remained for four years. The life and work there I enjoyed and it was with a great deal of regret that I finally made up my mind that if I remained in it permanently I would certainly find myself in middle life dissatisfied in having irretrievably renounced the interests and rewards of an active career in more expansive surroundings. But recognizing that such was the fact I entered the law school of Columbia University in the autumn of 1909, and was graduated there in May, 1912. While in the law school I lived at the University and thought and saw little outside of the law school. I was for two years a member of the editorial board of the Columbia Law Review, and this work and my courses filled my whole time.

In July, 1912, I entered the office of Lord, Day and Lord at 49 Wall street, and in November of that year was admitted to the New York Bar. I remained with Lord, Day and Lord, until May, 1913, when I left there to enter the office of Gordon, Gordon, at 165 Broadway, where I still am.

My work and experience with Lord, Day and Lord were, I believe, mutually most satisfactory, and I left there solely because of future considerations. My association with Gordon, Gordon has been and is a most satisfactory and agreeable one, from my standpoint at least.

HARVEY CHASE PERRY

Born	Westerly, R. I., April 9, 1881.
Parents	Charles Perry, Clara Vickery Foster Perry.
School	Westtown Boarding School, Westtown, Pa.
Years in College	1901-1903.
Married	Lydia Trimble Sharpless, Haverford, Pa., Jan. 14, 1911.
Children	Edith Sharpless, Feb. 5, 1913; Charles, Jr., Sept. 29, 1914.
Occupation	Merchant.
Address	(home) 8 Margin St., Westerly, R. I. (business) 27 West Broad St., Westerly, R. I.

After leaving college in 1903 I entered the Washington Trust Company of Westerly, R. I. as receiving teller. In October, 1909, I resigned to become secretary and treasurer of the C. W. Campbell Company, a grain house doing a local retail and wholesale business on the New Haven Road east of New London. In spite of war prices for grain and the Government corporation tax law I am still sticking to that job.

In the winter and spring of 1907 I travelled in Egypt, Palestine, Greece and Italy, learning, as I progressed, to speak fluently the language of each country, until, upon reaching England I was unable to make myself understood in any tongue. The only place that received me with acclaim was Cairo where the dragomen confused me with Perry, 1906, who had climbed the Sphinx for them the year before.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

I began the celebration of our Sexennial year by marrying. Before I was married I had owned for four years a twenty-three foot sloop in which I cruised the New England coast. Since marrying we own a tiny Swampscott dory, but we also own a back yard full of saplings and two children—one of them just launched.

I am interested in cows, thinking it fitting to have proper milk for my own and my neighbors' children. Have built a barn thoroughly up-to-date, and begun with three Ayre-shire cows possessing advanced registry inheritance. According to my books have produced milk for about twenty-five cents a quart.

I have served as president of the Public Playground Association of Westerly, also twice as president of the Citizens' No-License Committee. Member: Harvard Club of Rhode Island, Colonial Club of Westerly.

Occupation	Architect.
Address	(home) 135 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. (business) 122 Ames Building, 1 Court St., Boston, Mass.

Two years at Tech followed graduation. They resulted in a degree, and such preparation in architecture that I was enabled to pass at once such examinations as were required for admission at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. The years spent in Paris were a great source of pleasure and instructive profit, and also resulted in a degree. My summers were spent, two at home and two in England, the last in Paris and France in general. One summer in England was shared by my little family with Alvah Crocker and his.

Since returning home I have interested myself in the architectural instruction of the even younger generation, though my time seems very limited for the purpose. I am a designer in the office of Shepley-Rutan & Coolidge, architects; director of design at the Boston Architectural Club, and a member of the permanent jury at the Mass. Institute of Technology. Member: Tennis and Racquet Club, Boston, Exchange Club, Boston, Norfolk Hunt Club, Medfield, Fraternity of Delta Psi (Technology), Phi Delta Psi Club, Harvard, Institute $\Delta K E$, Harvard, Hasty Pudding Club, Harvard, Sphinx Club, Harvard.

Occupation	Wholesaler or Jobber in Confectionery.
Address	(home) 31 Edward St., Newport, R. I.

After I left college in June, 1905, I visited the home of Mr Henry Stephens at Romeo, Michigan. In October, he left to enter the University of Heidelberg, while I secured a position with the Michigan Telephone Co., and later worked for the Detroit Edison Co. My father's health failed him at the beginning of April, 1906, so I took charge of his business. I am still selling sweets, as a wholesale confectioner. I attended the class reunions of 1908, and 1911 and have also

After leaving college I went into hydro-electric engineering at Niagara Falls, N. Y., staying there for two years. Then I was engaged in the same work at Schaghticoke and Johnsonville, N. Y., Williamsburg, Ky., Columbia, S. C., Little Falls, N. Y., and several other small places. I left this work in 1909 for a short trip abroad (met the "Baron" in several places) and upon my return I worked with The U.S. Light & Heating Co., at Niagara Falls, for two years, and then went to the Ontario Power Co., N. F., Ont., as purchasing agent for two years. This year I started in business for myself, electric supplies and contracting. Member: Niagara Club, Niagara Falls, N. Y., N. F. From October 1, 1905, to January 1, 1906 I was with William P. Bonbright & Co., stock brokers in Wall street. Then I entered the employ of Grinnell, Willis & Co., and in 1907 was made manager of their export business of bleached cotton goods. I made a short trip to Cuba for them in 1907. In June, 1912, I left New York for a business trip around the world, to investigate markets for American cotton goods. I spent eleven months in the Philippine Islands from July,

1912 to June, 1913, when I went to Australia for a three months' trip, visiting the cities of Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide. Returning to Manila for the month of October, 1913, I then went to China, spending six weeks in Shanghai and proceeded north to Nanking, up the Yangste River to Hankow, thence to Pekin and Tientsin and back to Shanghai and Hongkong, arriving again in Manila, P. I. in January, 1914. Leaving the latter place in February, I went to Singapore, Batavia, Java, Aden, Arabia, through the Suez Canal, landing finally at Genoa, Italy. Business in Europe took me to Zurich, Switzerland, Berlin, Hamburg, London, Manchester and Glasgow and I returned to New York in May, 1914. The entire trip took me within a few weeks of two years to accomplish. In September, 1914, I was again asked to go to the tropics in the Far East, but declined to accept the proposition. I resigned my position with Grinnell, Willis & Co., at that time. Since then I have been unoccupied. Address	(home) 134 Continental Ave., Forest Hills, New York, N. Y. (business) 51 East 42nd St. New York, N. Y.

In the fall of 1905 I took a position with a Harvard Landscape Architect, named Oglesbey Paul in Philadelphia, having specialized in landscape architecture. I spent a pleasant and a profitable year at this work, living all the while at the Bryn Maur campus. During this time I designed several large gardens and supervised the development of several large estates. I designed an iron gate to a garden house on the estate of Rudolph Ellis that received some commendation. From this work I went to Norfolk, Va., to take charge of the landscape development work of the Jamestown exposition. When this work was about completed I resigned and opened an office in Norfolk. I was given many commissions for the improvement of State grounds and of private grounds such as that of the Baldwin Security Co., etc. After the Exposition work I was retained by various land companies in Norfolk, Richmond, Petersburg, Wilmington, N. C., etc. This was the beginning of my specialized effort along town planning lines. I came to New York in the spring of 1908, to carry out a small commission for the McKnight, Realty Co. Later on in the year I moved my office to New York and have practiced ever since with my headquarters there.

I was delegated by "The Boston 1915" organization to attend the English housing and town planning Council Meeting in 1909, and reported in full to them in a report called "The English housing example." This indirectly led to the work for the Boston Dwelling House Co., which I won in competition with Olmsted Bros. My plan being adjudged more original and proven to be $55,000 less expensive. This improvement is called Woodbourne, and is located at Forest Hills, Boston. Bob Winsor was treasurer of the company. but that didn't make a bit of difference. I couldn't get a cent more than was due me. I spent somewhat over a year in designing a ten thousand acre town on the South Shore of Long Island, called Tangier. For the same company I designed the largest electric sign that had, at that time, ever been put up. It was located on the building at the intersection of Broadway, 33rd St., and Sixth Ave. I was called to Cleveland to advise the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce on a policy for creating a municipal model community, my recommendation being accepted in toto action, however, having been delayed on account of financial conditions.

I was one of the organizers of the National Service Planning Conference, and have on three occasions addressed their annual meetings. I am at present engaged in the creating of a model community at Narbutt, Pa., and one at Halesite Huntington, Long Island. During the term 1905-06, 1906-07, I attended the University of Pennsylvania Law School completing my law course with the class of 1907. In the fall of 1910 I entered the graduate school of the University of Pennsylvania and obtained a degree of Master of Arts in June, 1911. The following year I continued my work in the graduate school working for the Ph.D. degree. February 12, 1912, I was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and since then have been in active practice. JOHN ABRAM POWELSON

Born	Middletown, N. Y., Nov. 18, 1883.
Parents	Abram Van Nest Powelson, Adeline Palen Powelson.
School	Middletown High School, Middletown, N. Y.
Years in College	1901-1904.

Occupation	Certified Public Accountant.
Address	(home) 235 Waverly Ave., Syracuse, N. Y. (business) 415 Deltay Building, Syracuse, N. Y.

I left college in June, 1904, receiving my degree as of 1905. For a year I was "editor" of the Middletown Press. At the expiration of my agreement in October, 1905, I spurned a handsome raise of four dollars a week to try my luck in New York. I had been promised a job on the Evening Sun, but said promise, like some others I encountered later, was not fulfilled when I expected. I did not "land" until Christmas time. In the meantime I had to live, and did so by picking up odd assignments at the office of the City News Association at two dollars per. My faith in a college education began to waver. I remained on the Evening Sun about a year, when I became convinced that I could make more money in business, and money was an object in spite of my ideals. So I accepted a position with the Old Dominion Steam Ship Co., in the auditor's office for smaller pay. The salary I had not inquired in the belief to do so would prejudice the "boss" against me, and my future would be spoiled. This was jolt three. After a year and a half there I became convinced that progress had to be earned, and was not received as a divine dispensation. So I took up accounting at New York University five nights a week. In August, 1908, I was fortunate in connecting with Haskins & Sells C. P. A. C. of New York, and remained with them six years, receiving my certificate of C. P. A. from the State in June, 1910. In the meantime, I lived with three of my High School friends in an apartment in New York part of the time, and travelled the rest.

On March 1, 1914, I came to Syracuse, attached to the staff of F. H. Hurdman of 55 Liberty St. I am living a quiet bachelors life, with one roommate, associated with me in my work in an apartment house overlooking the city of Syracuse.

In the ten years I struggled with the cold world I have changed considerably. I fear some of my old friends would not know me now, but I still cling to some of the early ideals we learned. To those friends and acquaintances of 1901 to 1904 who seem by fate to have gone completely and forever out of my life, I send as it were from another world my greetings. Or am I only getting old! Member: Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Club of Syracuse, University Club of Syracuse, New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

During the school year 1905-1906 I acted as a teacher at De Koren Hall, a private boys' school. In 1906 after returning to my former home at Salem, Massachusetts, and to Commencement when I received a postponed A. M., I proceeded in August to Europe where I made my longest visit in Berlin, and did some translation work. December, 1906, and most of January, 1907, were spent in voyaging from London to Japan through the Suez Canal via Port Said (Cairo), Suez, Colombo, Singapore, Hong Kong and Kobe to Yokohama, where I secured the position of business manager of the Japan Daily Advertiser, at that time and I believe still, the only American daily newspaper in the Orient outside of the Philippines. In June, 1907, I was commissioned American Deputy Consul General at Yokohama, which commission I held until December. By my experience in the "Fourth Estate" and the Consular Service, together with the work for the U.S. Treasury Department, and not forgetting the Harvard Club of Japan, with a membership largely composed of Japanese Alumni of national prominence in their own country and beyond, I had opportunity for contact with people and events not possible for the usual visitor to Japan.

Among many events of interest I assisted in receiving the "Taft party of 1907" headed by ex-president Taft, then Secretary of State and issued consular clearances, etc., for practically every American trans Pacific ship eastward (except those from Manila) from August to November, and an ascent to the summit of Fujiyama. At this time besides that in the Harvard Club, I held membership in the Eigo Kwai, Tokyo, the United Clubs Yokohama and the Yokohama Cricket and Athletic Club. Resigning and returning to the United States in December, 1907, I engaged in unimportant publicity work until June, 1908, when I first entered what appears to be my life work of Investment Banking in the capacity of assistant to W. W. Seymour, who as an individual and by corporate associations operated in public service corporations, standing timber and other fields.

December 1, 1909, I resigned and entered business upon my own account as an investment broker, dealing in bonds and mortgages. In 1910 my business expanded into H. P. Pratt & Co., which bought and sold securities for its own account. In September, 1911, Mr. M. G. Henry, having for a number of years engaged in similar business in Seattle, became associated with me. The firm of Henry-Pratt & Co., was formed and experienced a healthy growth.

I have made four trips to Massachusetts, visiting cities in about twenty-five states en route and one trip to Europe. Roughly speaking I have been travelling about one-third of the time since 1910.

The following are offices which I have held: president, Tacoma Home Construction Co., 1910-1913; president Yakima Highlands Co., 1914; treasurer Washington Mortgage & Security Co., 1913-1915; treasurer, The Wenas-Yakima Corporation, 1915; treasurer, Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club, 1913; secretary, Harvard Club of Tacoma, 1908 (organized) 1913; trustee, various incident to business of Henry Pratt & Co.

My favorite exercise is golf and I have a number of times represented the Tacoma Country and Golf Club as a member of its golf team.

I live in a region and community delightful in every respect, to which I shall be glad at all times to welcome any who have the right to subscribe themselves with that open sesame "to the hearts of its possessors Harvard 1905." Publication: About one-third of the editorials in "Japan Daily Advertiser" from February, 1907, to November, 1907, Yokohama, Japan. Member: Tacoma Country and Golf Club, Rotary Club of Tacoma, Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club, Harvard Club of Tacoma.

In the fall of 1908, I began the practice of the law in Worcester, Mass., having been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar the previous year. In the summer of 1908, before starting in to practice, I went abroad with Sidney Stone and we had a most enjoyable trip together, spending the greater part of our time in Germany and Switzerland. For a year I was associated with the law firm of Choate, Hall and Stewart in their Worcester office, and in the fall of 1909, I came to Boston and became associated with the firm of Brandeis, Dunbar and Nutter. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Harvard Club of New York, Union Boat Club, Oakley Country Club, Massachusetts Bar Association, Bar Association of the City of Boston.

Upon leaving college in June, 1905, I immediately went to the White Mountains, where I spent the summer, and returning in the fall, entered the banking house of Little, Hunt & Co., Milk St., Boston. I remained with them for the space of a year, but finding that the work did not appeal strongly to me, left to enter the employ of Uncle Sam, and was assigned to the office of the Depot Quartermaster of the United States Army, Boston District, where I remained for a year and a half, later transferring to the Navy Yard at Charlestown. Six years ago, I received the appointment as Student Aid to the Curator of Ethnology, United States National Museum, Washington, D. C., and entered upon my duties as classifier of Esquimo and South Sea Island collections in March, 1909. I found very useful, in fact necessary the courses in anthropology which I had taken at Peabody Museum. My eyes giving out at this interesting point of my career, I was obliged to look around for a position where I should not be restricted to desk work and to study so much, and was offered the position as inspector of Sisal Fibre for the firm of Henry W. Peabody & Co., Boston, in their Merida, Yucatan office. I have been here now five years and a half.

Unfortunately I have not been able to attend the triennial or the sexennial, National Guard duty preventing in the first case, and residence in Mexico in the latter. I doubt very much whether or not I can attend the great affair this year, but if I cannot I wish you all every success, and you may well believe that my interest in the old class of 1905 never wavers from its true affection. Member: Harvard Clubs of Boston and Washington, D. C., Park Street Club, Boston, Kappa Sigma Alumni Association, Harvard Musical Union, Pierian Sodality Alumni Association, Quinta Club of Merida, Yucatan, and Collaboration in Ethnology, U.S.N.M.

Resigned from Class of 1905, in October, 1902, to accept an appointment as cadet in the United States Revenue Cutter Service as the result of a competitive nation-wide examination. Was sworn in on October 23, 1902, and reported at the Revenue Cutter Service Academy at South Baltimore, Md., on November 3, 1902.

After having completed the prescribed course of study and foreign cruises, was graduated in May, 1905, and ordered to duty on cruising vessels. On October 23, 1905, was commissioned a Third Lieutenant. On September 15, 1906, after usual examination, was commissioned a Second Lieutenant. At this date, January 21, 1915, my commission as First Lieutenant is before the United States Senate for confirmation.

In the years 1905, 1910, 1911, 1912, and 1913, was attached to the Revenue Cutter Gresham stationed at New London, Conn., and Boston, Mass., and did duty at the Yale-Harvard Regattas on the Thames River, Conn.

During the thirteen years of my service I have seen duty on all parts of both seaboard of the United States and in Alaskan waters.

At the present time I command the Revenue Cutter Arcata, stationed at Port Townsend, Washington, where in addition to the usual duties of the Service, I am aiding in the enforcement of the President's proclamation of neutrality in the present great European War. My first year out of college was spent as instructor in various tongues at Summer Academy, South Byfield, Mass. I did not return to teach the year following, but instead went to work with Adams & Co., Bankers, in their Boston office, remaining with them for seven years. Then I went with the Hood Rubber Co., in the hope of going to Singapore to buy rubber. The Singapore office however was closed some months after I joined the company, and my chances of circling the earth came to naught. After about a year's service with the Hood Co., both in the purchasing and tire selling departments, I concluded that my services would be more valuable, and I should be more satisfied, if I entered some work more to my liking. Social service work had appealed to me somewhat in college, and also since leaving. It seemed to offer the opportunity I wanted. I am now with the Roxbury Neighborhood House, in the South End of Boston. In addition to my own work, I am acting as secretary for the Roxbury Committee appointed to alleviate the distress in this district due to lack of work. I continued in the employ of certain New York law barons as salaried attorney until an attack of acute appendicitis overtook me in April, 1912. Though operated upon at once, general peritonitis set in, and I had a narrow squeek. During my six months convalescence I decided to try law instructing, and Dean Thayer was good enough to put me in the way of a place at Tulane University at New Orleans, which institution turned out not nearly so "fresh-water" as I, in my New York provincialism, supposed. The depths and varieties of my ignorances have determined me to return to Cambridge next year as a candidate for the new graduate law degree; and if I have the luck to get it I expect to settle into law professoring as a permanent thing. I left college in February, 1906, and the latter part of that month in company with a classmate journeyed to Seattle, Wash. We spent about two weeks looking over the ground for business after which time I continued my trip southward along the Pacific coast — pleasure bent and the last of April found me down in old Mexico at Agnascalientes where I visited one of my classmates who was in the employ of the American Smelting Refining and Mining Cos., smelting until the middle of May. Starting homeward by way of El Paso, Tex., and Albuquerque, N. Mex., and then by the Santa Fe my trip was completed by the first week in June. In September I again went to Seattle and spent the greater part of four months in getting a start for the lumber business but the depression of 1907, put an end to any idea of following this line up and I returned east again in January, of that year.

I then secured a position with Downes & Co., bankers and brokers of Boston which position I held until the closing of the stock exchange the last of July, 1914. (Shortly after securing my position with Downes & Co., I had the pleasure of a trip to Europe with some friends, covering a period of about three months). Owing to a comparatively small office force my brokerage position gave me a good opportunity to learn the business thoroughly and before I left had worked up to a position of trust.

I was without a position until September when through the Harvard Alumni Appointment Office I secured a position

Leaving Harvard University in 1904, I went back to the University of Delft, Holland, and received my degree of Civil Engineer in June 1908. Then entered the banking business and worked for two years in the Twentsche Bank, at Enschede and Amsterdam. Was nominated under secretary of the Board of Direction of the Colonial Institute in May, 1910. After two years I gave this up and devoted myself entirely to play-writing and literature. Visited America for the second time in 1911, crossing for the sexennial of my beloved "flower-bed of '05." In September, 1913, I was nominated secretary-member of the Board of Direction of the Royal Dutch Theater, and became at the same time the dramatic leader and literary adviser of that institute, being this still. In 1914 I became a member of the Amsterdam Committee of the Dutch Boy Scout Organization. Plays: De Stormvogel (The Stormbird) (acted in 1906) translated into American by Arthur Davison Ficke, printed in the spring number of the Poet Lore, 1913; "Agnes Lente" (acted in 1908); De groote ontdekking (The Great Discovering) (acted in 1910); De gordel van Hippolyta (The Girdle of Hippolyta) (acted in 1911); "Freuleken" (The little baroness) (acted in 1911) (translated into German by Else Otten); De Sterksten (The stronger ones) (translated in German) (acted in 1912); Lentewolken (Spring-clouds) (acted in 1914). Address	(home) 64 Howard Parkway, New Rochelle, N. Y. (business) 50 Church St., New York, N. Y.

On leaving college in 1905, I went South for my health, and, combining business with pleasure went to the Tennessee Copper Co., at Copperhill, Tenn. While there I assisted in experiments on the waste gases from the smelter, the result of our experiments being the installation of a large sulphuric acid plant. The gases so affected my health that I was forced to return to the mountains. On recovering my health I took various clerical positions until I finally secured a position as inspector with the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Co. While there I secured a position as inspector with the Western Electric Co., of New York, and there was transferred to the chemical laboratory as assistant to the chemist. In the spring of 1906, they reduced their force and I "walked the plank." I then learned the publishing business, and changed from that in 1908, to the transportation business in which I have been ever since. During my last year in college I specialized in electrical engineering subjects and after graduation returned to Harvard to study that profession. After a short vacation, I obtained employment with the General Electric Co., at the Lynn factory. Here I worked about a year on the students course, being transferred from one department to another every month or so. After this I was foreman of the special testing department for a year, assistant engineer in the transformer department five months, and draftsman for another five months. In November, 1909, I entered the motor engineering department as assistant designing engineer on alternating current motors, which position I have since held.

I have just obtained a five months leave of absence which I intend to spend in rest and sight-seeing in the West, — this little story being written in a California orange grove. Associate Member: American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

I spent my senior year in the Law School as did others of our class and received my degree of LL.B., in 1907. The receipt of that degree I had looked upon as a consummation devoutly to be wished, and now that I had it I wasn't altogether free from a secret regret in not being able to further commune with that learned and profound body of men which the catalogue calls the Faculty. The catalogue uses up considerable space in setting forth the names and achievements of this aforesaid body of men but we, the members of the school knew them as "Pop" Gray, "Wamby," "Joey," "Jerry," Bruce, etc., and we did not hesitate to disagree with any of them when we could hit upon an idea (often got from a text book) that we could pit against them with some show of reason, and of course they were always wrong. My recollection is I took my degree from the cellar of Memorial Hall. I was now ready to conquer the world. I journeyed to York, Pa., armed with my diploma and waltzed up Market Street to the office of a well established and honorable firm of lawyers. Would they take an attorney into their office? Yes, they thought they would not be disturbed too much by my presence so I hung my hat on a nail, I worked early and late and as a result, would you believe it? I was admitted to the Supreme Court before I was admitted to the County Court. (This is the procedure of all successful applicants). In a short while I knew more law than the members of the firm. That firm is still there. I'm not.

About that time I met another Solon of the law who, restless as myself, wished to emancipate himself from the obscurity of his position with a firm of lawyers, and who, like myself, desired to rise to eminent heights. We did. We arose to the top floor of the highest sky scraper in the city and by gilt window signs proclaimed our eminence. For two long, fitful, feverish years we maintained this eminence — a difficult feat at times for we were compelled to walk up numerous flights of stairs when the elevator was not running. One day the telephone bell jingled. I was wanted at the district attorney's office right away. Heavens! I hadn't been even guilty of acquitting a criminal! Would I be the assistant district attorney? I'd think it over. Result: I was the assistant. I was shortly retired to private life again because of the chief's term of office expiring. I then struck out boldly into the political stream, and in 1910, I managed to capture and crawl on board the good ship known as "Nomination for the State Legislature." In this I cruised about for some months getting everything ship shape for the "Election." I had fitted up my ship with all the munitions of war that I could think of value in the coming conflict, and as I surveyed her I thought, "Aye, Aye, Sir. She's in ship shape." So with unbounded confidence in victory I glided forth to the conflict. But on the day of battle, early in November, there was a mighty rough sea. I pitched and rolled. Some of the crew deserted, and after floundering around I finally ran afoul of some malignant "rocks," commonly known in these seas as Republican Booze Money. My good ship with what was left of the crew was sunk.

I found my way back to my law offices. One day my associate feverishly informed me that he was about to increase his expenses in the shape of a life partner and that office expenses had to be cut down. So the eminence he had attained dropped two floors. I still held the fort battling bravely on till I encountered a magazine article. I grappled with it. The article won and I folded my tent and silently stole away to Southern climes and the cotton fields of North Carolina. I bought 1100 acres of cut over pine land on the Norfolk Southern Railroad about six miles from the plantation of our esteemed acquaintance and classmate, Roger Derby, and began clearing for the plowshare. For almost two years I lived and worked in this land of niggers and cotton—farming both. I established a store, built some houses, barn, etc., succeeded in getting a station from the Norfolk Southern, induced the United States government to give me a postoffice and appoint me Postmaster, and for want of a better name called the whole conglomeration "Rubyatt, N. C." During these two years my saddle horse, "Willie" was in my waking hours my constant companion. There wasn't a road within twenty miles that we had not hit at one time or another. This constant exercise soon restored a somewhat physically run down constitution to the best of health, which I have continued to enjoy ever since.

Late in the summer of 1913 I sold my farming outfit, rented to others what land I had cleared, and with "Willie" started from Rubyatt to York, a distance of over 500 miles. We traversed the mountains of North Carolina, came up the Valley of Virginia and the Shenandoah Valley, and after some twelve days arrived at York, having had one of the most delightful trips I have ever experienced.

Again I went back to the law, entered politics and my political ship was wrecked on the Booze Rocks. The political bee is dead. I desire to be just a plain lawyer tending to business as it comes. Yes, I'm making a living, thank you, and am keeping a little wad in bank to come back to Cambridge in June, the Lord willing, to see the rest of the Rash that broke out in 1905. I spent the two years from 1905-1907 in the Landscape architectural department at Harvard. In July, 1907, I started work in an office in New York, and in the same month of the following year I became a partner in that office under the firm name of Saltus & Sanger at 9 East 41st St., New York City. After two years the partnership was dissolved and I then opened up our office at 25 West 42d Street. In July, 1910, I went to Porto Rico to make plans for the development of the city of San Juan which were accepted the following year. In 1911 my business had grown so that I moved to a large office, and this May I have moved again. RECORDS OF THE CLASS

The year after graduating from college I spent in the Graduate School, specializing in physics and mathematics, and received the M. A. degree. I then assisted Professor G. N. Lewis in the Research Laboratory of Physical Chemistry of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in some Free Energy experiments, studying and attending the various seminars held in the laboratory.

Having decided to enter into technical work I next accepted a position in the Wood Utilization Laboratory of the U. S. Forest Service in Washington, D. C. Here I made a special study of the National Zoological Park, the Washington negro, the Pennsylvania Avenue trailer cars and that surprising creation, the American Congressman. I relinquished my duties in the service to fill the position of assistant manager of a cyanide plant in Perth Amboy, N. J. Here I learned to make cyanide out of heat, men and other chemicals. Exceeding all other facts in importance, however, is that in Perth Amboy, I met my wife.

After leaving the "tropics" of New Jersey I carried through a research on the internal resistance of storage cells with Dr. H. W. Morse in the Jefferson Physical Laboratory. I then devoted about a year in a private laboratory, in association with Dr. Morse, to devising methods of attack upon potash feldspar, with the result that we envolved three methods of treatment, one of which we patented. This method we believe to be most efficient and promising commercially of any that has been worked out, yielding potassium in water-soluble form and important by-products.

I next broadened my horizon by appearing in the plains of North Dakota as a member of the chemical staff of the Agricultural College and Experiment Station. I had teaching and station work both for the state and federal governments. Here I experienced the novelty of being called a Professor. While the scientific outlook there was not brilliant, the friends we made in Fargo more than repaid us for the long journey.

A short visit to a cousin's cattle ranch in Montana, which has been an unending source of joyful recollection, awakened our enthusiasm for that life, but, finally, under the inspiration of the Agricultural College, we decided to try farming in the East. The result was a farm of some one hundred and eighty-six acres in Startham, N. H., which we still have, but are sorry to feel we ought to sell. Friends desiring to engage in polite conversation should taboo such topics as hired men (particularly managers), adolescent Plymouth Rocks, between the ages of two and eight months, impertinent and acrobatic cows, and herbivorous monsters, such as the gypsy, brown-tail and tent caterpillars.

A larger sphere of usefulness now occupies my time and much of my wife's: I am assisting my father in conducting the Sargent School for Physical Education for girls. I cannot help thinking my path has been a little like a course in life: from inorganic chemistry I passed to organic with the study of plant products, then, in agriculture, came plants themselves, and animals and man, now "superman" (with apologies to show). Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A.B. , 1905.
Married	Lotta Remoer Bradbury, New York City, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1908.
Children	George Bradbury, Dec. 1, 1909; Katherine Marion, June, 5, 1913; William Anthony, 3rd., June 5, 1913 (died June 9, 1913).
Occupation	Certified Public Accountant.
Address	(home) 189 Rawson Road, Brookline, Mass. (bsiness) 110 State St., Boston, Mass.

After leaving college I entered the Auditor's office of the New York Central R. R. in New York City in the capacity of clerk. I remained there eight months, and then entered the Bank of Long Island of Long Island City, New York, where I stayed several years—later being transferred to some of the other branches of the same bank on Long Island. Shortly after my marriage in 1908, I became interested in accounting, and after two years of that work in New York, I came to Boston in the fall of 1910, first in the employ of Harvey S. Chase & Co., and later with Clinton H. Scovell & Co., with which firm I have been associated since. In the spring of 1906 I went to Athens, as a member of the American Olympic Team. I did not cover myself with glory on that trip, and later tried to redeem myself by representing the New York Athletic Club in various meets, but soon concluded that it would be advisable to retire rather than be "fired" out.

GUILFORD DARBY SCHOLL

Born	Reading, Pa., Jan. 21, 1879.
Parents	William Henry Scholl, Rebecca Klahr Miller.
School	Boys' High School, Reading, Pa.
Years in College	1901-1906.
Degrees	S.B., 1905 (1906).
Married	Emma Jane Bullock, Detroit, Mich., Dec. 31, 1911.
Occupation	Copper Metallurgist.
Address	(home) 138 West Douglas St., Reading, Pa. (business) Chrome, N. J.

Graduating in 1906, I went to New Hampshire as a chemist and mill foreman for a small lead-zinc mining and milling proposition at West Ossipee. It was like the "pot of gold" at the ends of the rainbow, only the allurements in this case was silver in the lead-zinc ore. By the time the mill was put into running order, the funds and enthusiasm of the owner had fallen so far below par that the enterprise suddenly came to a halt. It was rather a good thing for the mill, otherwise the self-respecting machinery would have gone to rack and ruin of sheer disgust at the returns. In January, 1907, I was employed by the U. S. Metals Refining Co., as research student in the electrolytic copper refinery at Chrome, N. J. I passed through the Refinery and Power Departments to the Smelter where I served successively as converter, blast furnace and general foreman. For one year I had charge of the smelter on the night shift of 13 hours and for another year I shared this honor with a colleague on 8 hour shifts. Long continued night work and trouble with my eyes led me to resign this position in December, 1909.

As an inspector in the car equipment department of the Hudson & Manhattan R. R., I worked on the train floor of the Hudson Terminal for the first six months of 1910.

From June, 1910 to April, 1911, I was successively junior editor on the staff of the Engineering & Mining Journal, New York; foreman of a demonstrating shop of an oxyacetylene welding company; and erecting engineer for a chemical distillation expert in Boston.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

In April, 1911, I went to Detroit as an engineer in the Research Department of the General Motors Company. I remained in Detroit until within a month before Mrs. Scholl and I left for Australia, where I was sent on a year's contract to reorganize the refining practice at the Electrolytic Refining & Smelting Company's plant at Port Kembla, N. S. W. We crossed the Pacific from San Francisco on the "Tahiti" of the Union line, experiencing a fine voyage all the way. We reached Sydney the 24th of June, and after a few days sight seeing went to Port Kembla, where I put in a very hard year's work. We returned by way of the Suez canal, stopping off at Melbourne, Adelaide, Freemantle and Perth in Australia, Colombo on Ceylon, Suez and Port Said, where we were held four days pending developments in the European war. We finally reached England in August, 1914, to find all passage across the Atlantic taken six weeks ahead. We arrived in New York the middle of October last year.

It is surprising that John Alfred Scott has not sent in something for the class report because he called upon the Editor recently to deny that he was dead. His death notice appeared in the Harvard Graduates' Magazine, as follows: "John Alfred Scott died at Tientsin, China, on May 24, 1914. He was born at Roxbury, Mass., September 20, 1882. After graduating in 1905 he attended the Harvard Law School, for a year, going then to the Boston University Law School, where he took his LL.B. in 1908. He practiced law in Boston. On May 19, 1906, he married at Boston, Catherine G. Stephenson."

Sometime later after his corresponding jokingly with Sam Hinckley about the notice, Scott came in to say that not only was he not dead, but that when he did die he would not pick out a place like Tientsin, China. The editor wishes to remark that Scott is not so very much alive after all, because in spite of repeated requests to write something clever for this report, he has given us no response.

From 1911, the time of the last report, I continued in the ship-wrecking and submarine diving business for some time, and was engaged in dynamiting vessels wrecked in navigable waters for the government, and during winter months I built foundations for bridges and wharves.

In the fall of 1911 I went to England to secure apparatus for deep-sea diving to a depth greater than had yet been attained in this country. I spent the winter in Paris where I leased an apartment and kept house, and then spent the spring on the Riviera. Before returning I toured the cities of Northern Italy.

The following winter I retired from the wrecking business and resumed the practice of law, which is not only much less exciting, but also less nerve-racking.

In the summer of 1914 I joined Troop C, First Mass. Cavalry. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Cavalry Club.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

My last examination finished in June, 1904, I took a brief vacation and returned to Boston, July 11th, a student in the shops of the New England Telegraph and Telephone Company. Here I remained for about six months, when transferred to the Operating Department, and soon after landed in Augusta, Me., a chief operator. In April, 1905, I left the employ of the telephone company, and moved to New York City, here making a fresh start in the business of banking. For about two years this proved a most fortunate connection. Then came a change, in financial control; and before another two years had elapsed my resignation became in order. On March 1st, 1909, I made my first attempt as a salesman, covering Long Island and Hudson Valley territory for the Confectionery Department of Borden's Condensed Milk Company. From this position, I resigned on the 11th of October following to accept a more promising one as purchasing agent for Eaton, Crane & Pike Company, Pittsfield, Mass. In this capacity, I remained till September 15th last, when I came again to New York City, where I now engaged in the insurance field; and where I expect to remain.

While in Pittsfield, I was secretary and treasurer of the Harvard Club of Berkshire, March, 1912 to September, 1914. Member: Harvard Club of Berkshire, Berkshire County, Mass.

that I worked as timekeeper for Holbrook, Cabot and Rollins Corp., while that company was constructing the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad bridge across the Connecticut River at Lyme, Connecticut. That lasted about a year, and I then worked on the New York Sun for two years as a reporter. In 1908, I gave up the job and returned to Boston, and in 1909 started in with Houghton, Mifflin Co., in the advertising department. Two years later I came to Chicago and started in the advertising business for myself under the name, Shaw Advertising Co. Address	North Conway, N. H.

I received my degree from the Medical School in June, 1910, and spent the summer in practice, as my father's assistant, in North Conway, N. H. The fall and winter I spent as house officer in the Boston Relief Station and as pathological interne at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York. In the spring of 1911, I began my regular surgical service at the Boston City Hospital, which was completed in November, 1912. From this time I have been in active practice with Dr. G. H. B. Shedd at North Conway. As much as is possible in a country community I have limited my work to surgery. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Local Medical Societies.

The momentum of happy undergraduate days tended to delay the thought of entering the arena of work and so, Dick Moot, being similarly affected, joined forces with me for a trip abroad — a summer so full of genuine pleasure that now, ten years later, it has the vividness of a yesterday. Such, as we all know, is the effect of being with one genial gent whose initials are R. D. M. On my return I took a position in Dayton, Ohio, at the Platt Iron Works, and for three years worked first in the foundry (where no eight hour law seemed to have been heard of, far less promulgated, and 6.30 a. m. to 6 p. m. was the schedule); then in the machine shop, assembling hydraulic pumps, air compressors and Corliss engine pumps; and finally in the office departments — time and payroll, cost and accounting. After completing this second "undergraduate" course, very rewarding in experience if not in golden yen, I came back to my native heath for a year in the purchasing department of The Liquid Carbonic Co., manufacturers and distributors on an enormous scale of the various items which go to make a "10-cent soda" so palatable,—from the marble fountain via the crushed fruit and charged water to the very chair one sits upon while partaking thereof. In May, 1909, the wheel of fortune again spun and when it stopped I found myself in the real estate firm of Gordon Strong & Co., managers of a large group of Chicago business properties. Strange to relate, the earlier days of observing how the other half lived (and made pumps) proved of real value in intelligently (?) understanding the mechanical equipment of a modern office building; and even (by association of ideas) the knowledge of certain phases of the soda water business made the negotiating of leases with drug store barons and Greek candy-shop kings a bit more pleasurable. The Wheel has not again turned, and so since 1909 I have been thus engaged. Combined with this work, has been a directorship of three years in the North West State Bank, and, of a shorter period, the same duty on the board of the Edgewater State Bank,—both local institutions. The whirl and bustle of it all has been rather constant, but not so much so that The Call of the Soil has been unheard. With a group of friends — two of them loyal Harvard men (Clem Meier will remember well the night at the New York Associated Harvard Clubs party, one of them was formerly made an honorary member of 1905) — a little syndicate was formed to take up, irrigate and develop about eight hundred acres of sage brush along the Snake River Valley in Idaho. Now most of the land is cleared, and some four hundred acres are planted in prunes and apples. Many suggestions — excellent ones — have come of late from "Farmer" Bob Leatherbee, who finds problems pertaining to the systematic and efficient running of a big farm no mere layman's task.

However, many an hour may have been brightened by ladies fair during these years, there have been no crossed wires, Directly after leaving college, I engaged in economic research work for corporations. Then I acted as special investigator for United States Government until spring of 1909. Following resignation from government service, I undertook efficiency work for educational institutions and business concerns in south and west. In connection with this work, I was in 1912 and 1913, successively advertising manager, sales manager and president of a wholesale hardware house in Chicago. Meantime I became interested in trade paper publishing, and today in addition to retaining interest in hardware business, I am president of the Merrill Publishing Co., which controls "The National Banker," "Bonds and Mortgages," "Cotton Goods Trade Journal," "Studies of the States," and other financial and trade publications.

In 1913, I removed from Chicago to Boston, where my Ever since graduation in 1905, I have been engaged in the arduous task of teaching the younger generation as much as I know — oftentimes more than I know. My first attempts were as principal of the High School in North Dartmouth, Mass, where I stayed one year. Illness kept me out of active service for six months. Then I taught two terms in the Southbridge, (Mass.) High School. From there I went to Clinton, Conn., where I taught the classics and history in the Morgan School for two years. I consider my stay there highly successful, for I induced the best girl in Clinton to agree to change her name, the wedding taking place July 5, 1910.

In the summer of 1909, I returned to Harvard to study chemistry in the Summer School. In September of that year I took the position of principal of the High School in Pittsfield, N. H., which I held for three years. In 1912, I was elected principal of the Newmarket High School, Newmarket, N. H., and that is where our secretary's blank report finds me. For five years after leaving college I worked as a white slave for the New York Central Lines, — the only compensation I received worth speaking of was a free trip through the Canadian Rockies to the Seattle fair in 1909, coming back through the States. The last five years I have spent as a broker, selling commercial paper for Bond and Goodwin, bankers.

I took a trip in 1913, to the West Indies, Panama Canal and Venezuela, going across the Isthmus to Panama City. I have taken several shooting trips in the South after quail, both in North and South Carolina, and one winter I played polo in Camden, S. C. I have done some shooting in Maine and other places but the best trip I have had was in 1914, when I went out to the Jackson's Hole country in Wyoming after elk, getting two good heads, which is all the law allows. I found the bear elusive.

My chief recreation has been polo. I have played six years with both the Squadron A and Portchester Polo Clubs.

I have almost completed ten years in the National Guard of New York State, at present holding the exalted rank of Sergeant in Squadron A, Cavalry, N.G. N. Y. I think my greatest achievement has been to qualify as an expert rifleman under the new Federal requirements.

My ambition in college was toward a literary career, — have I not been successful? There is still hope, — I am not yet married, — but I can see the noose hanging overhead! I had some trouble answering that "Occupation" question, for while many are interested in solving the problems we are at work on, which are big enough to keep an army occupied, the occupation has no dignified name, and of course one's occupation must be dignified. "Farmer Smith" some call it, but the more real farmers I meet, the more I realize the knowledge of many sciences and the long practical experience a man must have to deserve the title. But there are lessons in organization which other industries have learned, which we have found applicable to farming and it is these that we are working on. In other words, we are developing an organization to make effective in farming, many of the principals of efficient management so highly developed in other industries.

On leaving college in the spring of 1904, Fred Collins, '04 (then circulation manager of "Outing"), gave me a job in his department, writing "blurbs" about the wonderful "red blood" articles about to appear in that magazine. I remember his letter inquiring, "Would you be willing to accept twelve dollars a week." It came just as I was about to abandon hope of securing a living wage by accepting three dollars a week from a well known Boston publishing house. It was the call of gold that took me to New York. A group of Harvard men were living on slender stipends and exalted hopes in a German boarding house on Stuyvesant Square, and I bunked in with them. Often we fell into "ten year hence" conversations in which dreams of the future held sway until the landlady called up from below, "Ach Herr Schmidt es ist schon ein Uhr, und Herr Ybarra, sie grollen so!" Well — the "ten years hence" and here we all are doing things quite different from any we imagined.

"Outing" moved its plant to Deposit, New York, a small town, half an inch north of the upper right hand corner of

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

Pennsylvania. A month or two of this was enough. You will know what it was like from the fact that in no conceivable way could more than four dollars and a half be spent in a week; four dollars covered board and lodging, twenty-five cents covered laundry, no matter now much or how little, leaving twenty-five cents to be riotously spent on maple sugar. My room was decorated with the picture of two horses visibly alarmed at an approaching thunder storm, and the embossed calendar of a local manufacturer of caskets, who was keeping company with the daughter of the house.

Hence a return to New York, where I spent the next five years with the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, first in the Mortgage Department, then in the Trust Department, then back as Assistant Manager of the Mortgage Department, and finally as Assistant Manager of their branch bank at 73rd Street and Broadway. The signing of checks running to a million a week has a temporary fascination, but soon palls. Finally I accepted a position with the engineering firm of Ford, Bacon and Davis, in charge of their Financial and New Business Departments. This took me to their New Orleans office, from which as a center I travelled many thousands of miles from Florida to Montana, looking into land drainage and irrigation projects, opportunities to purchase public utility properties, oil, natural gas, water power and other enterprises. In New Orleans I was taken in hand by nature's noblest handiwork, A. Derby. Needless to add I had a good time as all must who enter so hospitable a community under the auspices of one of the "Flowerbed of 1905". (Surely you haven't forgotten Roelvink at our Freshman dinner). During this year I was married as per statistics herewith. We had hardly settled down when I was transferred back to the New York office, taking charge of the firm's advertising as well as the purchase and sale of securities and the examination of new business.

Spare time for two years was devoted to the study of means for introducing business methods into agriculture and in the fall of 1913, I took over The Farmer's Bureau at 150 Nassau Street, New York. Here our aim is to take off the farm all those functions which can be done more effectively in a central office than on widely separated farms, such as the selection of farm managers and workers, the keeping of farm cost accounts, the supervising of farm operation by trained agriculturists and the purchase of farm supplies.

This is a broad field, and would like to exchange ideas with all 1905 men interested in it. Publication: "The Value of Advance Planning" (in farming), "The Field", August 1914. Member: The Heights Casino (Brooklyn), University Glee Club, New York (Retired Active), New York Harvard Club, Monmouth County Farmers' Exchange.

Occupation	Surgeon.
Address	309 Marlborough St., Boston, Mass.

In June, 1908, I graduated from the Harvard Medical School, having been secretary of my class during the preceding four years. Our class was the first to hold Class Day exercises at the Medical School.

In July, 1908, I entered the Massachusetts General Hospital as Surgical Interne, and spent sixteen months in that capacity under Drs. Maurice Richardson, Franklin Balch, George Brewster, Hugh Cabot and Fred Murphy.

After finishing this service, I was married to Ruth Lenore Davey of East Orange, New Jersey. We spent four months abroad, traveling in Northern Africa, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, France and England, and returned to Boston in the spring of 1910. At first I assisted Dr. Franklin Balch in his private practice, but early in 1911 I gave that up to go into Genito-urinary surgery, under Dr. Hugh Cabot. Shortly afterwards, August, 1911 — a department of Genito-urinary Surgery was organized at the Massachusetts General Hospital, in which I was given an appointment as surgeon to Out-patients. That position I still hold.

Like most of the younger medical men in Boston, I have done some original work, written some medical papers, taught anatomy at the medical school and surgery at the hospital. In 1912-13, I was secretary of the Aesculapian Club. I have two small daughters and a red automobile, and feel that so far life has treated me at least as well as I deserve. School	Columbia University.
Years in College	1905.
Degrees	S.B., 1905; M.S., (Yale) 1906; Ph.D. (George Washington), 1907.
Unmarried
Occupation	Research Chemist, Consulting Chemist, Inventor.
Address	(home) Homewood, Pittsburg, Pa. (business) 7440 Finance St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

After leaving Harvard, I took up Post Graduate work at Yale University during the term 1905-1906, and received the degree of Master of Science. During the year I also received the degree of Master of Electricity from the Bliss Electrical School, Washington, District of Columbia. During the year 1906-1907, I was in attendance at George Washington University, and there received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

In the summer of 1907, I entered the United States Geological Survey, in charge of the explosive investigations then undertaken. In 1910, upon the formation of the United States Bureau of Mines, I took charge of the chemical investigations of explosives being carried out by it, my headquarters being in Pittsburg. Between 1910 and 1912, I was principally engaged in research work in connection with explosives, but also had charge of the chemical testing of explosives supplies for the Panama Canal, and similar lines, and had charge of branch laboratories located in several parts of the country, convenient to points at which dynamite and other high explosives were being manufactured on government contracts.

In January, 1912, while serving as Chemist in Charge, Explosives Laboratory, United States Bureau of Mines, I resigned from the government service. On February 1, 1912, I was appointed Consulting Chemist, United States Bureau of Mines, which position I held until September 11, 1912, when my resignation handed in some weeks earlier, was finally accepted.

During the years from 1907 to 1912, I carried out many investigations of high explosives, and the results of my investigations were published in the form of a dozen or so separate pamphlets, by the United States Bureau of Mines. The most interesting of these lines of work were those in which I determined the boiling point of nitroglycerin, the influence of heat and pressure on the rate of burning of time fuse, and the influence of stemming or tamping, in increasing the efficiency of explosives. I also prepared reports on the thermochemistry of explosives, the analysis of black powder and dynamite, and other related lines.

From 1913 to date, I have been engaged in research investigations connected with petroleum technology. During these years I have published a number of papers dealing with liquefied natural gas products, the preparation of synthetic crude oil and the obtaining of gasoline from same.

At the present time I have a research laboratory in Pittsburgh, Pa., where I am engaged in the study of a number of industrial lines connected with the efficient utilization of petroleum products. The two years following graduation I spent in completing my course in the Harvard Law School, from which I graduated in June, 1907. In October, 1907, I entered the employ of the law firm of Parsons, Closson and McIlvaine, at 52 William Street, New York City, having been admitted to practice in New York in the preceding April.

I continued with that firm until September, 1911, when I accepted an offer from the newly appointed American Minister to The Netherlands and Luxemburg to go with him to The Hague in the capacity of diplomatic private secretary.

I remained at The Hague until May, 1912, when I resigned my position there to resume the practice of law in New York. While at The Hague I found time to make frequent visits to other parts of Holland. I also visited Luxemburg several times, and spent some time in Paris and London before returning home.

On my return to New York, I resumed my work in the office of Parsons, Closson and McIlvaine, with whom I am still associated. Member: Harvard Club of New York City, Bar Association of the City of New York, New York Southern Society.

My life since leaving college may be briefly summarized in the dual role of school teacher and graduate student at a university. 1905-6, teacher of Latin and General History at Cheltenham Academy where I wore a military uniform and plenty of gold braid; 1906-February, 1910, teacher of Latin and Greek, Camden, New Jersey, High School; February, 1910-1911, teacher of Latin, Stuyvesant High School, New York City; 1911-12, teacher of Latin, Greek and Chemistry, Short Hills Private School, New Jersey.

1906-10, graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania. 1910-11, graduate student at Columbia University. Summer school student University of Pennsylvania, 1911. In 1908 I got the M. A. degree and in 1912 the degree of Ph.D. in the major subject of Educational History and first minor of Psychology. 1912-15, teacher of Psychology and General Methods of Pedagogy in the State Normal School, Millersville, Pa. My bachelor quarters consist of two rooms on the third floor of the dormitory and a large bay window. A Quaker school teacher occasionally invites me to eat of specially prepared baked beans and Boston brown bread, but I can't seem to get either a position or the money wherewith to enter the blessed state of matrimony.

In December, 1912, I published in the Pedagogical Seminary an eighteen page article entitled: "A Critique of High School Latin", in which I sharply condemned the present method of Latin study. In two issues of the Classical Weekly of the following March or April Prof. Lodge from the high scorn of his throne at Columbia paid his respects to my article in no very complimentary terms. Sometimes I am not sure whether the degree of Ph.D. means Doctor of Philosophy or Damn Phool! Of late the medical bee has buzzed in my bonnet, but lack of funds, I suppose, will prevent me from ever adding the degree of M.D. to my collection of other degrees.

Years in College	1901-1904.
Degrees	A.B., 1905.
Unmarried
Occupation	Civil Engineer.
Died	Aug., 1911, at Philippine Islands.

After completing the requirements for his A. B., Charles Ambrose Stevens spent several years in the Philippines where he was employed on engineering work by the Bureau of Public Works and by the Manila Railway Company, Limited. Later he returned to Harvard and spent two years studying engineering subjects at the Graduate School of Applied Science. In July, 1911, he again entered the Philippine service and at the time of his death was in charge of an engineering party engaged on one of the great public works that will prove enduring monuments to American control in the Philippines.

Charles Ambrose Stevens was born in Bridgton, Maine, on June 28, 1882. He was a boy of sturdy, loyal disposition and of a fine courageous spirit, with which he later developed a quick and accurate mind. In the public schools of his native town these qualities singled him out distinctly and in the keener competition at the Cambridge Latin School kept him well to the front in his class.

He entered college in 1901. While not one to make friends very quickly or to be sought out for his rare gifts or attainments, he had great power of binding his friends very closely to him. His habits of hard study — he finished in three years in days when that was not easy — did not produce a "grind." With him it was merely a concentration that at other times he employed as successfully in wholesome diversion, good fellowship, and service to others.

In life after college the same qualities distinguished him. As an engineer he was successful from the start. He inspired at once the confidence of his superiors and uniformly proved that he deserved it. Consequently he was in full charge of sections of important projects more often than is usual with young engineers. His subordinates were as appreciative as his superiors. He earned their loyalty by a sense of even justice and a swift sure sympathy that sprang from the warmest of hearts. He died in the Philippines in August, 1911, and was mourned as sincerely by his Filipino as by his American friends.

Of him it could truthfully be said that no one was the worse for having known him and none knew him well without being helped and gladdened by his friendship.

Assistant Engineer of Track Elevation at Chicago, Ill. Realizing that I could never own that system I left and went south where I engaged in concrete construction. This was a nice change, but not being able to reconcile myself to the spirit of "Leave it to George" that prevailed there, I came north to dear old Cincinnati — The Queen of the West. Here I opened an architect's office with my younger brother, Robert Wood Stewart, '08. In this venture we have neither starved or got rich, but as professionals never do, I guess I ought not kick. Then, too, the work is enhancing, for between Picture Show Theatres, Schools, Old Folks Homes and laying out the walks of a church yard or grave yard, you may judge that I have covered all from the cradle to the grave. In fact we are specialists in any line of work that any one may stop in to see about. Class of 1905-08 especially invited to come. Member: F. & A. M., R. A. M., K. After two years study in Boston at the Eric Pope School of Art (an excellent institution which has since ceased to exist), and two years more of apprenticeship in the School of Hard Knocks, as an independent would-be artist, attempting to hoist my indifferent productions upon a still more indifferent public, I felt bold enough to invade on unknown territory and establish a studio in Lowell, Massachusetts, the birth place of Whistler, and the early home of a more recent etcher of note, but not remarkable otherwise as a shrine of the arts.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

And here I have remained ever since (that was in 1907) having induced the advertising portion of the community and even now and then, an individual with less commercial views of art, to assist in my support. And of late, since a New Hampshire girl undertook to share with me the hazards of an artist's life, and since I have entered more or less into the life of the community and confidence has increased, I reached out over the continent in search of a broader field, especially as a designer of book plates, for people who like that sort of thing. This ends the story to date, for I have not as yet emerged very far from that Freshman-like obscurity which once thickly enveloped me, and which still dims my outlines. Member: Pentucket Lodge, A. On leaving college after graduation in 1905 I entered the Boston University Law School. Passed my Massachusetts bar examinations in December, 1907, and was admitted to the Bar, February, 1908, obtaining the degree of J. B. from Boston University in that year. Having obtained leave of absence in February, 1908, I spent some eight months in European travel. Returning that autumn I entered the law office of the late Judge Charles Day Adams, but after a year of practice I determined to abandon the legal profession and to devote myself to a study of international politics and world affairs in general. To fit myself to become duly qualified as an expert in these lines I entered the Harvard Graduate School in the autumn of 1909, obtaining the degrees of A. M. in 1910 and Ph.D. in February, 1914. This period included trips to Europe, the West Indies, etc., for special study, particularly a year spent abroad from 1912-13, mostly devoted to research in the French government archives at Paris in preparation of my Ph.D. thesis, "The French Revolution in San Domingo." This has since been published by Houghton, Mifflin & Company (November, 1914). Having finished my preparation with my acquirement of my Ph.D. degree, I began contributing to various magazines. The European war naturally opened new possibilities to the scope of my work, and besides magazine articles I have contributed special articles to newspapers and have done considerable public speaking on the European war and allied subjects. Publication: Books, "The French Revolution in San Domingo," (Houghton, Mifflin & Company, Boston, 1914); Magazine Articles—See files, since early 1914, of Atlantic Monthly, New Republic, North American Review, Review of Reviews. Newspaper Articles—See files since outbreak of European War, of Boston Globe and Transcript. Member: Harvard Club of Boston.

After leaving college, as already reported in the last report, I went to the Harvard Law School. After completing my course there in June, 1908, during which I was fortunate enough to have the opportunity to serve on the board of the Harvard Law Review, the last year as Editor-in-Chief, I went abroad for a short trip with Albert W. Rice, 1905, spending most of the time in Switzerland. Returning from the trip, I entered the office of Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, attorneys, in Boston, and remained with them for two years, until the summer of 1910. My experience there did not differ from that of other young lawyers in large offices. From Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, I went into the office of Fish, Richardson, Herrick & Neave, attorneys, of Boston, where I worked as the personal assistant of Mr. Frederick P. Fish. A large portion of my work there was patent law. I left that employment in March, 1913, to take charge of the Legal Department of Willett, Sears & Co., at 60 Federal Street, Boston, where I still am. Willett, Sears & Co. own and operate a number of industrial corporations and it is my duty to handle, to the extent of my abilities, the legal work arising in connection with their interests.

I have found little time for anything of interest or importance outside my regular professional work. In a small way I have been interested in politics in my own district in the city, and have served several years on the Ward Eleven Republican Committee, of which I am now Secretary. Member: Harvard Club, of Boston, Harvard Travelers Club, Oakley Country Club.

After leaving college I went through the Harvard Law School, graduating in 1907. Since then I have practiced law, either by myself or in law offices, in New York City. However, ending last December, I spent a year practicing law in Arizona. I had hoped that the climate would arrest my growing deafness. Finding it did not I returned, for if I have to be deaf I would rather be deaf in New York than in Arizona. This last remark is not to be construed as an adverse criticism of the latter state as I spent a very interesting and enjoyable year there.

Born	Canterbury, Eng., March 17, 1884.

Years in College	1901-1905.
Unmarried
Occupation	Architect.
Died	Oct. 18, 1913, at Boston, Mass.

Sturgis was born in Canterbury, England, on March 17th, 1884. He died at his father's house in Boston on October 18th, 1913, instantaneously, and without warning, of cerebral hemorrhage. Sturgis' early years were spent in Boston. He went first to Noble & Greenough's School. At the age of twelve he was sent to St. Paul's School at Concord, New Hampshire, where he remained for five years, entering college with his class in the autumn of 1901. He never was a student in the ordinary sense. The regular curriculum was quite generally treated as a necessary evil of life to be heeded no more than could be helped, and it was more the natural receptiveness of his mind and the knowledge acquired in his own way, than concentration along prescribed lines, that enabled Sturgis to fulfil the requirements for entering college. But this does not mean that he was idle. He was always and most effectively educating himself in his own way. His literary taste and gift appeared when he was a small boy, and later he became a regular contributor to the school literary paper, and ultimately was one of its editors-in-chief. So, in college, he was an editor of the Lampoon and of the Monthly.

In school Sturgis was a member of the choir, except for a short time while his voice was changing, and was always enthusiastic in its work. He was a member also of one of the school literary societies, as in college he belonged to the Signet and the O. K. It was during Sophomore year that Sturgis was active in getting up a party which, during the summer of 1902, chartered a fishing schooner in Newfoundland and worked it down the Labrador Coast as far as Cape Mugford. This was the first of a series of expeditions to Labrador, and other places, which evidenced in Sturgis the love of travel, which at all times urged him to be up and away, and made it his dream some time to circle the globe in his own way, without fixed plan, leisurely, in fo'castle and steerage, off the beaten track.

Shortly after leaving college Sturgis entered his father's office as an architectural draughtsman, and thenceforth, with certain interruptions, was connected with that office. He went to San Francisco with a number of draughtsmen from Boston, at the time of the great earthquake there, and was put in charge of the placing of these draughtsmen in positions in San Francisco. He was himself employed as a draughtsman there for over a year, but finally returned to Boston.

One summer he crossed and re-crossed the ocean as a cattlehand. The summer of 1905, saw him in Labrador with Dr. Grenfell's mission, with which he was always thereafter in close touch, and to which he gave much of his energy and interest, and thence he made his way to Gibraltar in a Welch fisherman, returning to New York from Gibraltar. In the year 1911, he was a member of an archeological expedition to Cyrene, in North Africa. The year of 1911 and 1912 saw him in Keokuk, Iowa, working on the great dam there, being constructed across the Mississippi. The summers of 1912 and 1913 were again spent off the Newfoundland and Labrador coast, whence he returned to Boston in October, 1913, reaching home some five days prior to his death, which came without a moment's warning.

For a number of years prior to his death Sturgis was subject to attacks of headaches, accompanied often by chills, and these attacks increased, as time went on, in frequency and acuteness. They were never of long duration — twenty hours or so at the utmost — but were excruciatingly painful, and rendered it extremely difficult and discouraging, if not impossible, for him to pursue systematically any exacting occupation. Repeated attempts to identify the cause or nature of the trouble were futile, and it was only after death that a diagnosis could be made.

To say a word beyond mere narrative about a member of the class who is dead cannot be out of place. Sturgis' mind was active and receptive, and the range of its grasp extensive. But in the main it turned to what is artistic and literary. His contributions to the Lampoon were exclusively drawings, and his cleverness in this direction is shown by the results he obtained with crayons, using photographs often as an outline of the ice-dotted Labrador seas. He was fond of music, and knew far more of it than one could well account for from any apparent study of the subject. His ingenuity in certain ways was quite surprising.

Perhaps Sturgis' best characteristic was the understanding sympathy he was able to have for other people's thoughts and troubles. He was a great student of psychology in an inductive way, and something of a reader on the subject. His insight and sympathy were most true, and, as he grew older, increasingly ready. Many will remember his social charm and tact, and a few knew how well and gladly, and on occasions how successfully, he used these qualities, to be of assistance to persons in real need of it. These same traits made it possible for him to live on terms of friendliness and ease with all sorts of people, outside the particular social group to which he belonged — the laborer on the Keokuk dam, the Labrador fisherman, and the steerage on an ocean liner. And through these qualities well used he was able to be serviceable, and so perhaps to have lived a life more worth while than most whose lives have been longer and, far more conspicuous and successful.

After leaving college, I went to the Harvard Law School, graduating therefrom in 1907. I then began practicing law in the office of Hill, Barlow & Homans, Boston, where I remained until July 1, 1911. At that time I became a member of the firm of Streeter, Demond & Woodworth, Concord, N. H. and on January 1, 1912, the firm name was changed to Streeter, Demond, Woodworth and Sulloway.

A large part of my practice is devoted to preparing and trying cases. It takes me all over the state, so that when it takes the shape of a case involving a large part of Mr. Monadnock, with our classmate, Phil. Faulkner on the other side, we enjoy the luxury of earning fees and tramping over the mountain looking for old brush fences, etc. In other words, the country practice has the city one beaten by miles.

My chief form of amusement still is tennis. In 1906, 1909 and 1911 I was defeated in the Challenge Round of the Massachusetts State Championships and in 1907 in the finals. In 1908, 1909 and 1911 I was Massachusetts State Doubles Champion with Beals C. Wright, but was defeated in the finals with D. P. Rhodes in 1910. Since I removed to New Hampshire my tennis activities have been restricted, but in 1912 I won the Buzzards Bay Championship at Marion, defeating Nat. Niles, Massachusetts State Champion in the finals, and in 1913 while on my honeymoon at Virginia Hot Springs was runner-up in both singles and doubles.

I am a director of the Concord & Claremont Railroad and a member of the New Hampshire Ballot Law Commission.

There is little enough in the ordinary teachers' life that one wishes to see in print. After reading the glowing account of "Farmer" Derby's life and work it seems as though there was still less of interest.

Ten years on the fighting line, and still alive! Something to be "glad for." I have been working on the railroad all the way from Lowell and Andover to Albany, teaching a little physics here and a little chemistry there. Just at present I am doing both in Worcester. I can't seem to get far from Cambridge, yet I have seen Cambridge so seldom that I am going to make a special effort to attend the June festivities. Member: AΦΣ.

Thence to Philadelphia, where I put in a year reporting for the Philadelphia North American. Early in 1907 found me on the move again. Washington knew me for a brief two months as a newspaper man and then Cincinnati called. Cincinnati newspaper work held me three months and then, in a spirit of foolhardy adventure, I undertook to manage a pro-negro paper in a Kentucky mountain town whose boundaries were made known by the eloquent sign, "Nigger, read and run." Needless to say, my career in this town was not dull if it was short. In the chill dawn of a September morning, I left the scene of my labors and have never seen it since. Neither have I seen the clothes I left behind.

A week later found me free-lancing it in Cincinnati, without steady work, but with enough ideas to enable me to provide two or three meals a day with the money special articles brought. Early in 1908, Cleveland drew me and there I tarried two months. Thence to Chicago and St. Paul. At this time the panic of 1907-08 was being felt pretty keenly so, a chance offering, I went to the Philippines as a government school teacher. My contract called for a two year stay, a year of which was spent in Ilog, one of the southernmost towns of the island of Negros, some of whose villages even then looked on a white man as an abnormal creature, one rarely seen and most sincerely to be feared. I count that year as one of the most interesting of my life. The second year of my government service found me in Casigwean, Sorsogon, a much more enlightened town of the island of Luzon, and consequently far less agreeable because of politics and the constant intrigue.

In 1910, at the end of my contract, I left the government service and became a reporter on the Manila Times. In a few months, I was made City Editor and early in 1913, I became associate editor of the paper. A year later I was made vice-president of the company and its general manager. Member: University Club of Manila, Harvard Club of the Philippines, Manila Ad Club, Manila City Club, Manila Merchants' Association, Pen and Pencil Club of Philadelphia, Cincinnati Press Club.

A rather ordinary life has been my lot, that of the regular plugging of a bond salesman, to get some stranger's scalp through the sale of a few bonds or shares of stock. Regularly about July or August my clients get peeved at the sight of me, so I always beat it for some distant clime. One summer I had a taste of England, another I was through the south, another I was up and down the Pacific coast and so on.

By regular attendance to our class lunches, and this year having the lazy man's job on the class smoker committee, I have gained a friendship among my classmates which I would not care to sever.

I am still a beardless youth, who foxes the trot every evening and participates in all athletics to the envy of the 1914 man. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton.

I have not done anything particularly interesting since leaving Harvard, have resided principally at 11 Park Lane,

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

London, W. The only events I can think of were, first going to Messina directly after the earthquake as interpreter in English, French and Italian, where we got quite into the midst of things and saw some horrible scenes. At the beginning of the war I was in London and did some work for about a week for the Foreign Office, had a good inside view and heard and saw some very interesting and important things, the Servian "Papers," before they were published, or even translated, etc. I expect to return to England about June 1st, my address is always 11, Park Lane, London, W.

I have spent the winters since I left Cambridge, with the exception of two, in Rome, most interesting and amusing. In London at the beginning of the war I organized and managed a special "Foreign Relief Committee" to help Americans stranded on the continent, to get home, meet each other, etc., etc. Wrote personally letters and sent telegrams to every Ambassador, Consul-General, and many consuls, also personal friends requesting list of names of Americans, etc., etc. In this work I was most ably assisted by two Harvard men, also three friends from Oxford, the crew of us, between all, speaking English, French, Italian, German, Spanish, Danish, Russian, Rumanian, besides several Oriental languages, which, however, did not come into play, but all the others did. Since leaving college of my junior year, in 1903-4, my business career was, in its early stages, more or less interrupted and varied. Being first employed by the Bell Telephone Company of Baltimore, Maryland, I remained there until the following June when I went to Europe for a few months of travel. On my return in the fall I entered the brokerage business being employed in the various departments of one of the leading brokerage houses of Boston, where I advanced to be what is called "a customer's man." I intended buying a seat on the Boston Stock Exchange in the spring of 1907, for the purpose of starting a brokerage firm of my own. Having, however, an opportunity of going abroad again to take part in The International Sonder Class races at Kiel, Germany, and at San Sebastien, Spain, held under the auspices of the Yacht Club of Marblehead, I dismissed temporarily all thought of business. On my return in the late fall I decided to give up the brokerage idea on account of financial conditions, personal and general at that time, and entered for myself the Real Estate and Insurance business, which occupation I have enjoyed ever since, with offices at No. 35 Congress Street, Boston, and a branch office at Cohasset, where I specialize more or less seashore and country properties, especially for the summer part of my business. Aside from business I am sorry to say I have nothing of any particular interest or excitement to report. My father's death on June 10th, 1909, was an irreparable loss to me. About two years ago I built a bungalow in Dover, Massachusetts, where I have a small farm of about ten acres. As all signs on the horizon seem to indicate I expect to be committed for life as a country bachelor. Although not strictly a farmer as yet, I am "handy" with the axe. On graduation, in 1905, I entered the Steam Turbine Department of the General Electric Company, at Schenectady, New York, and after six months went into their Electrical Testing Department.

In April, 1907, accepted position as salesman with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, handling gas engines and gas-electric power and lighting sets.

The college year of 1908-09 was spent as Instructor in Mechanical Engineering at Harvard and on research work.

In July, 1909, entered the service of the New York Central and Hudson River R. R. Co., at West Albany shops, New York. In the spring and summer of 1910 was engaged on

On finding that I should be unable to return to college in the summer of 1903 I secured the best job I could get, which was a clerical position with the Cambria Steel Company at Johnstown, Pa. I worked there until May, 1905, when I associated myself with another man of about my own age and launched into lumber. Our wholesale company lasted about one year. I then secured a position with Wm. Whitmer and Sons, Philadelphia, in their Pittsburg office, where I stayed several years. During this time I ran the office and also went out on selling trips, but my work was chiefly the buying of lumber, which took me to the lumber producing districts of the country from Michigan and Minnesota to Texas and the Gulf. I left them in August, 1911 and spent a year with another wholesale concern of Pittsburg. In August, 1912, I took charge of one of the big Pittsburgh yards, in the interests of a bank that had overloaned them. Unfortunately it was an undertaker and not a doctor that was required, and I was the unwilling victim for that unpopular job. I left there in May, 1913, and spent a year with the Whitmer people, leaving there in June, 1914, to come with the Babcock Lumber Company as city salesman.

In 1907, I married a Johnstown girl and in 1911 we built us a house in Ben Avon, where we still reside.

The pursuit of the elusive dollar takes all my time, but I steal a little now and then to get acquainted with my family. I find great pleasure in the work of the Harvard Club of Western Pennsylvania, in which I am as active as I can possibly find time to be. Member: Harvard Club of Western Pennsylvania.

I finished my course at college after the mid-year examinations in 1905 and the following March was fortunate enough to secure a job as tutor to a young Boston boy. With him and his family I went to Europe and travelled in Italy and Switzerland for about six months, returning by way of Paris. That summer I spent with the boy and his family in Magnolia, and then came west to St. Paul to take up railroad work in the Great Northern railroad. I was discouraged to find that my ultimate destination was not St. Paul but Superior, Wisconsin, and I spent a year and a half in that dreary spot working in the railroad freight office. From Superior I was sent to Breckenridge, Minnesota, compared to which Superior is a paradise and a metropolis. After three months work there I decided to give up railroading and went East again in June, 1907. That summer I spent at Biddeford Pool, Maine, enjoying my last real loaf at the seashore and trying to find work around Boston. For some reason the West still lured me and in the autumn I went to South Milwaukee and put in three weeks of hard work as a machinist's helper in The Bucyrus Company. Those few weeks convinced me that I had not found the work I wanted and I gave up the experiment. Having a chance to get work in the West Publishing Company of St. Paul I moved to St. Paul in November, 1907, and have lived there ever since. From the start I have been in the Sales Department of the company doing office work. The West Publishing Company is the largest law publishing house in this country, in fact, in the world, and I found that a knowledge of law was essential. Accordingly I took a law course at a night school in St. Paul, and after three years work became a member of the bar of Minnesota, but do not use my certificate to practice. For four years after leaving college I was in the general stationery business at Plattsburgh, New York. During this time I was married. In the fall of 1909, I decided to study medicine and accordingly moved to Ann Arbor, where I entered the Medical Department of the University of Michigan. I remained there two years and then went to Philadelphia, graduating from the Jefferson Medical College in 1913. After spending a year in hospital work in Philadelphia, I returned to Plattsburgh where I have been in general practice since September 1, 1914.

Very eventful were the years 1911-12 to me. I finished my divinity course and picked up my nearly-gathered-in Harvard M.A. together. In planning for China, the leaving seemed easier after I lost my father in September. I tasted work at Grace Church and Chapel in New York, and was on the point of sailing when I became engaged to be married. By way of England, France and Italy,— a flying trip — and via Suez to Shanghai, as by a time table arriving with the calm after the Revolution. Distressing news had been cabled to greet me at Changsha. My fiancee was left alone by the sudden death of her mother. According to promise I had to return to America at once. After a six-weeks' dip into Chinese grammar, and with my grammar under my arm, I completed the circuit of the world in seven months, via San Francisco. A hasty marriage, hasty packing, and in due course Mrs. Tyng was being introduced to the West, to the Pacific, and to China.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

The Chaplaincy of St. John's Hankow (the English congregation) fell to me my first year in addition to Chinese study. A sturdy daughter was born in the Vicarage. What I hope is my life-work followed — as missionary-in-charge at Changsha. This city of 250,000 is capital of one of the proudest of the 18 provinces, mother of soldiers and statesman. Beautifully situated it lies on a one half mile wide river among the hills, in a rich country. On a line with Tampa, Fla., hot as fire in summer and chilly beyond words in the winter — and sometimes it seems as though the rain would never stop. But we are happy here beyond the ending of a good novel. Here are Yale-in-China and some other missions to keep us good company. We have a splendid staff of Chinese helpers, about fifteen (priest, a catechist or two, Biblewoman, and eight or ten teachers). There are some two hundred children in our primary and grammar school and some two hundred people in the congregation — all a fast growing work. We are completing a fine granite church to seat six hundred or more. The territory dependent on Changsha is about the size of Massachusetts, with many first and second class cities which we are just beginning to enter as out-stations.

The work is much like that of a parish at home — only more preaching, more visiting, and more teaching. We have three or four meetings and services a day and many Bible classes. Now that I preach a bit the Chinese language has a growing lure. Harder than German 4 — but such a rythm! A new world oratory already stirs behind the veil here, in this nation born actors with their singing language. I believe that all the fabled visions of Cathay from the days of Marco Polo are going to be realized —and better — in that substantial fashion in which a good marriage exceeds the best novel. Publications: Only small articles for "Spirit of Missions" as i. e. "Changing Changsha," "A Worker Found." Member: Hankow Harvard Club.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

I left college in June, 1903, and spent that summer at Long Island, reaching the happy age of twenty-one November of the same year. In January, I went to Egypt and Italy, returning in May and spending another summer at Long Island. In March, 1906, I went to Europe visiting Italy, France, Switzerland and England and again in 1907 I went to England to visit my uncle. I took another short trip over to my uncle's in April, 1910, returning in June and going to Maine for the summer. That fall I entered the Bond House of E. H. Rollins & Sons. In October, 1913, I was obliged on account of my health to give up business, so I sold my house and then went to Southern France and to Switzerland. On my return I had to undergo an operation for appendicitis. I am now located for the winter in Salem and am looking for a country place where I hope to make a specialty of poultry. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Salem Club, Salem Golf Club.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

On January, 1905, the Faculty of Harvard University was good enough to grant me a degree, and armed with this I started to New York. With such a weapon at my command it was easy to get a suitable job and I commenced work almost at once as a shipping clerk in The Fairbanks Company. The value of a college education became apparent almost immediately, so that in the short space of two years I felt in a position to look around for a help mate. Having found one that suited me, I showed her my degree, stated that it was the Alpha and Omega of household tifs, the balm to all troubles and the key that locks and unlocks the tortures of many. She believed me, we were married in November, 1907. At the end of five years I reached the position of Department Manager, but in 1913, owing to ill health, was forced to resign my position and retire to farm life at Tuxedo. I am still in the country and incidentally helping to bring up two small athletes. Member: Union Club, New York City, Metropolitan Club, New York City, Harvard Club, New York City, Hobby Club, New York City, Tuxedo Club, Tuxedo Park, Spee Club, Cambridge, Mass., St. Nicholas Society, New York City.

ALBERT GOODNOW WAITE

Born	Worcester, Mass., April 7, 1882.
Parents	Albert Harrison Waite, Helen Emerson Morse Waite.
School	Classical High School, Worcester, Mass.
Years in College	1901-1905.

Unmarried
Occupation	Manufacturer Wire and Wire Products, with the Wright Wire Co., Worcester, Mass.
Address	(home) 16 Cedar St., Worcester, Mass. (business) 69 Hammond St., Worcester, Mass.

After taking my degree of A. B. in June, 1905, I returned to my home in Worcester, and about a month later started on an extensive trip through the United States, which took me from coast to coast, and as far north as Alaska. Having

"seen my own country first", I returned to Worcester and on October 1st, 1905, started work in overalls in the factory of the Spencer Wire Co., in Worcester.

After a brief apprenticeship in various departments of the mill, I was made assistant manager of a department operated under the name of the New England Anchor Fence Company, for the manufacture and erection of wire and iron fencing. Sometime later I was appointed manager of this department and continued in charge until the fall of 1909. By this time I had acquired a wide experience in the various details of a manufacturing business, and leaving the Spencer Wire Company I took a position with the Wright Wire Company, also of Worcester, as manager of their Excelsior Rust Proof Fence Department.

Since that time I have been in full charge of this department and have succeeded in largely increasing its activities and expanding its business. My work makes me the general manager of this department which has been run practically as a separate business, including charge of production, selling, construction work and advertising. Recently I have become advertising manager of the Wright Wire Company, in charge of their publicity work, and have been obliged to give up some of the details of the fence work. Since starting in this business I have had the pleasure of increasing it seven times over, and making each year a new high record of sales even during the panic years of 1907 and 1914, which indicates a steady progress.

I am a member of the Republican City Committee of Worcester and try to do my share of work in the interest of good government, but have never sought election to office.

I am a member of the corporation of the Worcester County Institution for Savings and the Worcester Five Cents Savings Bank.

In addition to my degree of A. B., which I earned in three years and did not take until June, 1905, I earned a degree of A. M. in my senior year and took it in June, 1906. Member: Worcester Club, Tatnuck Country Club, Worcester Automobile Club, Worcester Rotary Club, Worcester Publicity

Unmarried
Occupation	Lawyer.
Address	(home) 419 Andover St., Lowell, Mass. (business) 411 Sun Building, Lowell, Mass.

After graduation I spent most of the year following teaching in the High school at Lowell, Mass. In the fall of 1906, I returned to Cambridge and entered the Law School but was obliged on account of illness to give up work in December. In the fall of 1907 I returned to the Law School and completed the course, graduating in 1910. After graduation I was connected for a short time with V. J. Loring, Esq., of Boston, and also with the Boston Legal Aid Society. I then became associated with George H. Brown, Esq., in the Tremont Building, Boston, where I remained until January 1st of that year when I removed to Lowell and set up an independent practice with Harold A. Varnum, Esq.

I have nothing particular to report other than that I enjoy the practice of law and am making some progress, although as yet I am neither rich nor married. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Lowell Harvard Club, Masons.

Entered Harvard in the fall of 1905 to take research work in Chemistry, also assistant in Chemistry and Captain of the Varsity Shooting Team. Remained in college only two weeks when I accepted a position with Cooper Wells & Co., Hosiery Manufacturers of St. Joseph, Mich. Spent until January 1, 1906, in Tennessee quail hunting, when I went to Laconia, N. H., in the interests of my employers, learning what I could about a knitting machine manufactured there by the Geo. D. Mayo Machine Company. Left Laconia in April and entered a manufacturing business in Greenfield, Tenn. In May, 1910, I sold out there and moved to California accepting a position as Superintendent of the Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company, which position I still hold. Am also interested in a company in Los Angeles manufacturing flavoring extracts and am Secretary and Treasurer of the United Tuna Packers, Incorporated.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

After being obliged to leave college, began work as instrument man, under H. E. Blake, C. E., on location and construction of six miles of electric street railway from North Adams to Adams, Mass. This work included transit and level work in connection with the original surveys for location of tracks and right-of-way, original measurement and monthly and final estimates of earth and rock work, layout of bridges and culverts and drawing of final location plans. In August, 1904, began work with Mr. J. H. Emigh, C. E., in general engineering practice and remained with him about one year. On September, 1905, I entered the employ of the Boston & Maine R.R., as transitman and had charge of party on construction of schemes for abolition of Grade Crossings involving the construction of two plate girder bridges, one with concrete abutments and the other being built with granite dimension stones and limestone backing. In connection with these schemes there was in one case a cut under the tracks of the Fitchburg Division of the Boston and Maine R. R., and in the other a fill over the tracks, the raising and moving of a through truss highway bridge over a river, the moving of a stone railroad station, new location of street railway tracks and the building of necessary approaches to the station, freight houses, etc. I have also charge of preliminary survey for abolition of grade crossing in Troy, New York, as well as maintenance of way work of lesser importance.

On January 1, 1907, I accepted a position as assistant engineer under Mr. W. G. Smith, C. E., of Waterbury, Conn., in charge of construction of ten miles of inter-urban electric street railway from Waterbury to Woodbury, Conn. On this work I designed several reinforced concrete slab culverts ranging from four to fifteen feet clear span, abutments for three deck plate girder bridges and several smaller culverts and small I. beam bridges. Had entire supervision of the construction including grading, building of bridges and culverts, erection of sub-station and waiting rooms and track work. In the fall of 1908 I engaged in private practice until July, 1909, when I was appointed assistant engineer for the City of North Adams, Mass. I left North Adams in August,

In the spring of 1906, I went to Italy, and then to France (The list of places would have no interest for any one). I followed the summer courses for foreigners at the University of Grenoble. In 1907 I went back to America. Since then I have alternated between America and Europe, at first a year here, a year there, but gradually coming to spend more and more time abroad. I have lived a good deal in Paris, but of late years I have been rather more in Italy. At present I rent a very pleasant villa near Florence, some ten minutes walk above the Viale des Colli. I have written two books, "Pages from the Book of Paris" (a volume of essays) and "Gerald Northrop" (a novel); also a few short things (stories and an essay) for magazines, but so very few as not to deserve mention. Publications: "Pages from the Book of Paris" (Houghton Mifflin, 1910), "Gerald Northrop" (Duffield, 1914). Member: The Harvard Club of New York.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

In the fall of 1904, I began my work in the architectural department of the Lawrence Scientific School. Toward the end of my course I transferred to the Graduate School of Applied Science from which I received the degree of Master in Architecture in 1907. In July of that year I went to work for Andrew Jaques and Rantoul in Boston where I spent nearly four years. During this period I acquired a great deal of useful information. My work consisted mainly of making detail and working drawings for houses, dormitories, armories and office buildings. In March, 1911, I was loaned to the office of Cram, Goodhue and Ferguson (the firm name is now Cram and Ferguson Mr. Goodhue having retired in 1913) and am still with them. The work here has been much larger consisting of college and church buildings. Two of the buildings upon which I have worked are the Graduate College at Princeton and the Second Church in Boston. In 1906, I spent the summer travelling in England and Normandy. I again went abroad in 1911, during which trip I visited England, France, Switzerland and Northern Spain. In 1913, I took a short trip to Bermuda.

For the last three years I have served on the Legislative Committee of the Boston Society of Architects during which time I have been forced to read over several hundred bills each year and have come to pity the poor representatives who have to pass foolish legislation. At present I am auditor of the Boston Architectural Club and a member of the House Committee of the Corinthian Yacht Club. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Boston Art Club, Corinthian Yacht Club, Boston Society of Architects, Boston Architectural Club, Boston Lacrosse Club.

After the summer of 1905 as motor boat engineer at Battle Harbor, Labrador, and green hand at Dr. Grenfell's hospital, I came back thoroughly infected with Northern wanderlust, admiration for Dr. Grenfell and a liking and appreciation of the Newfoundland type of outdoor white man who can compass the industrial activities of a small town, in a single family, and build a better boat with an axe and a whip-saw than I could with a whole machine shop. Except for a relapse to Labrador in the summer of 1907, my progress through the Medical School was normal and I got my M.D. in June, 1909, in spite of sleeping through several lectures. I held the office of Class Secretary three years, and was elected Marshal on graduation. Beginning in July, 1909, I served sixteen months as a surgical house officer at the Massachusetts General Hospital. Then for medical experience I went to New York and fell into a short term position at Bellevue Hospital, first on the tubercular wards and then on the men's alcoholic ward, a lack of interest in deciding whether the patient just brought in by the police was simply drunk or comatose from some other disease. Surfieted with working for the scum of Europe and degenerates of our own cities, in the spring of 1911 I started for a year in Newfoundland, where Anglo-Saxons still grow profusely. My classmate, Dr. H. P. Greeley, and his wife came along at the same time. While they stayed at the Pilley's Island Iron Mine in the middle of the East Coast of Newfoundland, I went on to my old stamping ground at Battle Harbor Hospital where I spent the summer as assistant surgeon. In the fall I returned to Pilley's Island, where Greeley was improvising a hospital in an old miners' boarding house of fourteen rooms and no plumbing.

It was a rough looking shack, but after a few weeks work with whitewash, wall paper and paint, and installing spare outfits from the northern hospitals, we had the essential equipment for treating the most urgent cases. It was the only hospital that had ever been within ninety miles of the place, and we were the only physicians in a radius of forty miles of coast and island settlements, so we had a busy winter. Until January most of our outside calls were made in small boats or sometimes on the mail steamers that ran irregularly twice a week. From January to May, ice closed navigation and we travelled by foot on snowshoes, or by dog team. Almost every day came the problem of fitting the refined conventional methods of practice that we had learned in the cities, to the pioneer conditions of our patients. The versatile ship-yard blacksmiths made orthopedic apparatus that was ponderous but efficient; friends and relatives of patients would tramp down the soft snow for miles to break a road for quick transportation to the hospital; crews would row thirty miles in a day for help; and stubby fisherman's hands often held the ether cone for operations in the remoter settlements. And though the people are poor, they paid enough in fees to cover all current expenses. It was the best year of my life.

But in the spring of 1912, I regretfully came back, unsatiated, and having tasted too much activity and responsibility to stand and wait for a city practice. But I hoped to find some place in the United States where I would not be a professional atavism. And then she, who was Margaret Gleason, stopped refusing to marry me. So I fluttered around the coast of Maine, looking for a place to build our nest, and presently came to roost in Castine. Practice came along fairly well and in May, 1913, we were married. After that I began to take a few surgical patients in the spare rooms of our house, and operated in the dining room. Then we rented a large house which we have since bought and fitted up a six-bed hospital. The menace of fat prosperity comes nearer to us here than in Newfoundland, by the combined efforts of Mr. Ford and the road builders, and the need for my unspecialized training is less acute. Still it sometimes happens that youth and fitness become an asset rather than a liability in the practice here; and the fruits of our diversified experience in the North are not all dead stock in this market.

The only position of honor and trust that I now hold is that of Assistant Chief of the Castine Fire Department by heck.

Come up and let me take you out for a run with our old mashene.

On leaving college, I entered the bond department of Hayden, Stone & Company, staying with them just one year. I then entered my father's business, Charles Weil & Company and learned the commercial paper business. At his death in the fall of 1906, I formed a co-partnership with J. Walter Farrell and my brother, Sumner S. Weil, and the business has since been conducted under the name of Weil, Farrell & Company. I am a director of the Cosmopolitan Trust Company of Boston.

Having finished college work in June, 1904, I started in the cotton business under very discouraging salary conditions in September of that year. It seemed that no one needed a bright young (?) man fresh from college. After working five years in various parts of Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi I became a partner of Lehman, Weil and Company of Montgomery, until the firm dissolved in 1912, when I entered into the present partnership with my brother, under the firm name of L. W. Weil & Company, at Montgomery, Alabama, all the while engaged in the cotton business.

In 1911 I returned to Cambridge for the Sexennial Reunion, and "the time of my life."

I am not married, and there seems to be little hope.

Any 1905 men who happen to find themselves in this part of the country will be greeted with welcome and a glad hand. Member: Rotary Club of Montgomery, Alabama, Standard Club of Montgomery, Alabama, Woodley Country Club of Montgomery, Alabama, B. P. O. Elks, Opelika, Alabama.

After leaving college I became a member of the editorial staff of the New York Herald. Ill health compelled me to give up my job and I spent some time in the southern states.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

Later I joined the staff of the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald. At present I am editorially connected with the Hastings Banner. I have travelled extensively during the last six years. I was in Mexico City just before the Diaz administration was overthrown. During the following year the plague in Manchuria compelled me to give up a trip to the Oriental countries. I then decided to reach Central America by crossing the mountains of southern Mexico. The revolution compelled me to change my plans so I visited some of the wonders of the southwest. I found most attractive the deserts, the Pueblo Indians and the ruined cities. I spent considerable time among all of them. I was present when Madero captured Juarez and declined an opportunity to join his army in which several Harvard men were serving with distinction. My next journey, one year later, took me into the Selkirk mountains of British Columbia, where I discovered the joys of solitude among the high glaciers.

During my travels I met Harvard men everywhere. Any one who meets them will declare a myth the "Harvard indifference" of which we formerly heard in Cambridge.

My spare time is spent in motoring or canoeing.

In 1912, I entered politics by becoming Republican candidate for the House of Representatives in the Michigan Legislature. As one half of the Republican party's members in Barry county voted for the Bull Moose party's candidate, I lacked one hundred and eighteen votes of being elected. Though I had in the fall of 1914 opponents from the Democratic, Progressive, Socialist and Prohibition parties, I was successful after a strenuous campaign. My plurality was nearly seven hundred. I shall strive for re-election in 1916. Publications: Historical monograph in "Michigan Historical Collections," 1912, "The Indians and Trading Posts in the Northwest of Barry Co." Member: Barry County Pioneer Society, Michigan Historical Society, Harvard Club in Michigan, Hastings Lodge, No. 52, F. & A. M., The Drama League.

Shortly after leaving college I went to New York where I lived for about a year and a half, working in a brokerage office, and for a manufacturing concern. In June, 1907, I went to Seattle, Washington, where I lived until October, 1908, doing whatever came to hand to make a living. Then I took an examination for a commission in the United States Marine Corps, and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in January, 1909. The year 1909 I was at the Marine Officers' School, Port Royal, South Carolina. Then I went to the Marine Barracks, Washington, D. C., for duty, January to June, 1910; then to the United States Steamer "Delaware," until the latter part of September, 1910; then to the Marine Barracks, Navy Yard, Philadelphia, until the latter part of July, 1911; then to the Navy Yard, Bremerton, Washington, until March 15th, 1912; then to United States Steamer "Helena", on the Yangtze River, China, for ten months, then to the Navy Yard, Olongapo, P. I., for ten months; then to the American Legation Guard, Peking, China, for ten months; and then to the Marine Barracks, at the Exposition, San Diego, California, where I am now stationed.

The Marines are supposed to be, and are, the first of our military-naval forces to reach the field of action when Uncle Sam waves the Big Stick, but it has been my misfortune always to be stationed a thousand or more miles away from where there was any fighting going on. Thus, I was in China during both the Nicaragua and Vera Cruz incidents. As a plain citizen, I have heard in my native State more shots

As soon as I left college in June, 1905, I went to work in my father's cotton business, in one branch or another of which I have worked ever since. In July, 1906, I went to New York, and in August, 1907, to Texas, where I stayed until February, 1908. In February, 1908, I went to Liverpool for seven or eight months, getting engaged in New York en route. I returned in September, 1908, and was married in New York, November 7, 1908, and again set sail for Texas where I stayed until March, 1909. In March I again went to Liverpool for a short time, returning in June to New York, where I stayed until February, 1911, spending the summer in Islip, Long Island. In the spring of 1912 I returned to Boston where I have lived ever since. In 1913 I took a trip during

After Commencement I spent the summer visiting in various parts of this country and in the fall entered the employ of the United Shoe Machinery Company at their Beverly factory, and after remaining there two years went to the Boston office where I have been since that time. During the past ten years I have witnessed a great number of ceremonies at which members of this illustrious class have taken up the bonds of matrimony, but that condition as yet has not fallen to my lot. Nevertheless the Bachelor Association sometimes gets a certain amount of enjoyment out of life and with outdoor recreation and an annual trip to the woods, this member has been able to keep reasonably healthy. Some of the happiest remembrances of the recreation variety have been the well-attended meetings of our class during Commencement times in the past ten years, and may the spirit be continued, the attendance not decreased, and the events scheduled annually! It has been my good fortune to have played in a ball game against some other class aspirants practically in every event and as yet we have not been defeated. Walter Camp says that in life as in college few men get on until they get the proper men to back them. So it is probably the proper backing that I lack in order to qualify for our secretary's note to include "among other facts, any offices of honor or trust which you have held". No, I am driving a Ford and working on a salary peddling electricity. I stuck to pure engineering with the Western Electric Company in Chicago until three years ago, and then had a hunch that an engineer might make a little more money and be not quite so narrow minded in a field where there are not so many engineers. So I have been selling power in St. Paul, in Southern Indiana and now in Indianapolis. Now Indianapolis has a Harvard Club which sessions on Friday for lunch at one of the hotels. You are invited when you are in our town.

CLASS OF 1905 — THIRD REPORT

After receiving the degree of S. B. in 1905, I returned to Cambridge the next year and took the degree of Mining Engineer in 1906. The following year I was appointed Assistant in Mining and Metallurgy, but finally left Cambridge in June, 1907. That summer I was engaged in geological field work for the Cleveland-Cliff Iron Company, near Ishpeming, as I had been during the previous two summers, but in the fall went to the Copper Country and spent the winter working underground and obtaining experience in practical mining in the mines of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Company. I spent several months the next spring (1908) looking after diamond drilling for coal in Greene Co., Pennsylvania, and in August went to Missouri to get some more experience in mining and milling with the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company. I worked underground and in the concentrating mills until January, 1909, when I went to a coal mine near Fairmont, West Virginia, to represent the consulting engineer in an installation of new equipment, boiler house, tipple, office building, etc. About the time that this work was completed I was offered the position of Chief Geologist of the Cleveland-Cliff Iron Company, at Ishpeming, Michigan, and went to Ishpeming in July, 1909, where I have been located since. In connection with exploratory work I became interested in surveying drill-holes and assisted in perfecting the Maas Patent Drill-Hole Compass, which is probably the only instrument ever used successfully in this country for determining the direction of deflection of drill-holes underground. I am now agent for this device, in addition to my duties with the Cleveland-Cliff Iron Company. Publications: Sundry articles on Mine Valuation, Diamond Drill Exploration, Drill Hole Surveying, and various geological and engineering problems. Member: Lake Superior Mining Institute, American Institute of Mining Engineers.

My first three years after graduation were spent right in Cambridge or to be more specific, right in Boylston Hall, trying to make up for what I might have done in college had I but made my choice of a profession earlier. Along with my chemical courses and research work, I "assisted" for two of these years. My summers were all pleasantly spent; in 1907, I travelled abroad with A. H. Damon, 1904.

In the fall of 1908, I took the first job which came my way, and found myself with the Eastern Laboratory of the E. I. Dupont du Nemours Powder Company, quartered at Chester, Pennsylvania. After a good-sized explosion, which occurred there in January, 1909, I decided that this line of business was rather precarious, and began to look around for another and better position. I soon obtained one with the General Electric Company at Pittsfield and here I have been ever since. For the four years beginning in April, 1909, I was with the Heating Device Department, first as a chemist and then in charge of all the testing—electrical and physical as well as chemical. The general experience gained there has been and will be of great value to me. In the summer of 1913, I was transferred to the Laboratory Department and since then have been doing research work and general testing on Lightning Arresters.

In every way I have found Pittsfield a very pleasant place to live in. It is the center of many wonderful automobile rides, it has a fine Country Club, where one can amuse him-

After spending the summer of 1905 dreaming of setting the world afire with my degree of "A. B.", I returned to Boston and searched for employment; whereupon I found much to my surprise, that A. B., merely meant "At Bat." Having found out that I was not entirely prepared by Harvard College to manage a "Million dollar Corporation," I took off my coat, and went at the cotton goods game, hand and fist. My principal occupation the first six months was to see that the waste-paper baskets were full, and that the corners of the office held their allotted amount of dust.

I was then graduated to the stock, and allowed to handle customers that only came in to get samples, and wouldn't buy if you gave them the goods, and promised to take them back if they did not sell. Here my college education came into play, and by mixing in a little Chem. I, Anthropology 3, Semetic 2, and Phil. 5, I managed to make a few sales.

After two years of slavery I was promoted salesman, and in another year was made manager of the New England Agency.

I am still at it. Always trying to make this year's sales beat last years. Driving men to sell anything to increase sales, even the paper on the walls. When business is good I play a little golf, when business is bad I play damn little golf.

One sure thing I have found out, Sherman was right about war, but he never was in business under a Democratic regime, with all Europe in a turmoil, and the whole crowd of moneyed Republicans holding onto the Kale with both fists, waiting for the next election; or he (the aforesaid Sherman) would have said—"well, what's the use, its a good day for golf, when I get out there I can think of a worse one than HELL." Occupation	Manufacturing.
Address	Gardner, Mass.

For the past ten years my chief endeavors have been centered around a determined effort to hold down my job as President of the Central Oil & Gas Stove Company, located here in Gardner, Massachusetts. Other activities, both of business and politics, have added variety to that which in itself has proved to be a most interesting occupation; for instance, the letters which reach our office and from the women all over this country of ours, constitute an exhibit which is at once instructive and educational. You see its this way — our principal article of manufacture is the blue flame oil cooking stove, of which in most cases the American housewife is the ultimate user. If she likes her oil stove she is inclined to tell her friends and neighbors, and even the manufacturer; if she does not like her oil stove — but why mention such things?

In addition to being President and Director in the above-named corporation I am President of the Meals Printing Company, a manufacturing printing establishment in Gardner, a Trustee both of the Wilder Associates and the Gardner Associates, a Director of the First National Bank of Gardner, and of the recently formed Chaiertown Co-operative Bank.

Sorrow fills my heart that I am unable to tabulate any books or plays which I have written. My only literary accomplishments being some editorials in a local paper in which some of us were interested for a time, Several of these found their way into the Boston Globe, the Springfield Republican and even the New York Sun. (The Hearst papers took no notice of me whatsoever.)

As for music, I have learned to play the Victrola very acceptably, while as regularly as Christmas and Easter come 'round I am asked to play 'cello. So one or two new strings are put on, as may be required, the bridge straightened up and the bow given a liberal application of rosin. This done I churchward hie, and play an obligato or two for the lady soprano. There's one thing about my 'cello playing; the less I practice, the better I play. I don't understand it. I hope sometime that I can find time to play a church organ, but its a little too much of a good thing at present. However, I am substitute organist for pretty near every church in town, and in the following out of this policy I've had some peculiar experiences. A short time ago I substituted at the Episcopal church and take it from me, the toughest football game you ever saw demands no more energy than does the playing of an Episcopal organ, if you're not familiar with the Episcopal service. At the present time I am organist for the Commandery and the Chapter. I have been and am very much interested in Masonry and have the honor to be one of the Past High Priests of Gardner Chapter, Royal Arch Masons.

I am still classed among the heavyweights, and if anyone should ask you, 270 isn't far out of the way. Be that as it may, I Fox-Trot beautifully, while those who know say that I do the One Step with grace and abandon.

In ten years I have had my share of sorrows, disappointments and burdens, but on the other side of the balance sheet will be found my share of joys, opportunities and rewards. In other words, I have nothing of which to complain in that which Life has thus far passed out to me. George Williamson,

Born	London, Eng., Sept. 26, 1883.
Parents	Charles James Williamson, Martha Laura Long.
School	St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A.B., 1905.
Married	Hilda Isabel Gordon, Montreal, Can., Nov. 9, 1910.
Died	Nov. 12, 1914, Fourth Clearing Hospital, Belgium.

The two following press dispatches dated London, November 24, 1914, announced the death of George Williamson:

"The first graduate of an American college to be a victim of the war is Lieutenant George Williamson, who belonged to the Duke of Wellington's Regiment. Mr. Williamson's name is in today's casualty list as among those dying from the result of wounds. He was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1905. Lieutenant George Williamson came from Montreal, which accounts for the fact that he fought in the ranks of the British Army. After leaving Harvard, Lieutenant Williamson went to Christ College, Oxford University, where he matriculated. He remained in that institution only a short time, going to the Inner Temple in London to prepare to be a barrister. He was admitted to the bar in 1910 and was practicing at the time the war broke out. Lieutenant Williamson was married."

"Death won in a grim race when George Williamson, one-time Harvard man, since Lieutenant in the Duke of Wellington's Regiment, died 'from wounds' in England or France. For at the time of his death his wife and daughter were on the Atlantic, aboard the steamer Baltic racing to the bedside of her wounded husband.

This was the news from Montreal today. Williamson was graduated from Harvard in 1905; and his friends in Boston and hereabouts read today for the first time of his two months' heroic fighting in the trenches, his wound at last, and now his death.

News of his wound had come a week ago, and Mrs. Williamson, who is a daughter of J. Alexander Gordon of Montreal left at once for New York, where she caught the fast liner Baltic for England. Her desperate hope was that she might see her husband before he died; for his wound was known to be serious. She sailed from New York Wednesday, and would thus land in England perhaps two days after her husband's death.

Lieutenant Williamson died in the Fourth Clearing Hospital. He was a reservist, and had been in Montreal four years when the call came that took him to England. He was twenty-nine years old, a member of the firm of Smith, Markey, Skinner, Pugsley & Hyde of No. 179 St. James Street, Montreal, and one of the best known young men in the city."

S. N. H. says of him: "George Williamson was the first Harvard man to be killed in the European war. His splendid behavior under fire and heroic end may best be described by quoting directly from a letter that the Secretary has received from England. 'George arrived in England in August in response to a summons by telegram and went at once to the training camp of his regiment (the Duke of Wellington's West Riding Regiment, in which he was a lieutenant). The first battalion was in India and the second had gone to France with the expeditionary force. George did about a fortnight's training with the Reserve Battalion and went out with a draft on September 8. This was just after the retreat from Mons had ended and the Allies had resumed the offensive. George was all through the battles of the Aisne and on the Marne and wrote several very cheery letters to his family at this time. Officers of his battalion who have since come home, including his captain, bore testimony to his splendid behavior during this trying time when they were constantly under shell fire, and he apparently was exactly the same as ever, cracking jokes and cheering his men by his bearing. When the regiment arrived on the present lines, George, according to his captain, who has since also been wounded and has come home, greatly distinguished himself on one occasion when the trench his section were holding was attacked with the bayonet and George's lot succeeded in throwing back the enemy after desperate hand-to-hand fighting. On November 8, George's company advanced in the early morning to relieve the defenders of a certain trench. George's section were on the left of the company and advanced along the outside edge of a wood. The enemy had worked around farther to the left and opened fire with machine guns, enfilading George's men. These latter took cover in the wood as fast as they could and George might easily have saved himself by doing the same. Instead, however, he stepped out of the wood and took a good look round to make certain all his men had got safely to cover and thereupon was hit five times all down the left side, including one in the lung. He kept going, however, long enough to get his men safely into the trench, and then actually walked along it to the centre and reported himself wounded to the captain. He had to sit till nightfall in the trench and then was moved seventeen miles in a motor ambulance to a hospital. He and the doctors all thought he would recover and he wrote on the tenth to his mother giving the date of his probable arrival in England, and making light of his wounds. On the night of the eleventh, he grew rapidly worse and died early the following morning. He was buried near by and his grave is marked.' (His death took place in the Fourth Clearing Hospital, and he was buried somewhere in Belgium). In college Williamson was a member of the cricket team and an editor of the Advocate. His clubs were the Fly, D. K. E., Institute of 1770, Hasty Pudding and Polo. After graduation he studied law in London and eventually returned to America to practice law in Montreal. On November 9, 1910, in Montreal, Canada, he married Hilda Isabel Gordon, who survives him with one child, Hazel, born August 12, 1911. Although he knew only a comparatively few men in his Class, his friends valued highly the warmth of his friendship, the independence of his character, and the brilliancy of his intellect. The Class is proud to have lost in such heroic fashion the first Harvard man to fall in the Great European conflict."

I spent most of the summer, after leaving college in 1905, in travel abroad, and took one year in the Harvard Law School. In August, 1906, I entered the banking office of Kidder, Peabody and Company, Boston, and have worked there ever since. In February and March, 1911, I took a trip to Southern California, with my father, mother and sister, returning by way of Seattle and the Great Northern Railroad. It was my first Western experience, and opened my eyes to the wonders of my own country. In the spring of 1913, I took a trip through Colorado with one of my brothers. We went into the mountains with a guide from Glenwood Springs and again I was much impressed with the things I saw.

My summers are spent in Boston as a rule, with a week end visit to my family at Cataumet on Buzzards Bay. My two brothers are at Harvard; my sister is at Bryn Mawr College, and my chief interest away from the office, is in them. These last few years, I have been living college life all over again. This experience has been added to by an amateur orchestra which I formed two years ago, and which is made up almost entirely of men now in college. Associations of this kind are certainly most pleasant, and tend to keep me from that sense of old age which our Decennial would otherwise suggest. Address	(home) 19 Ocean Ave., Swampscott, Mass. (business) Boston, Mass.

When I left college I started in the advertising department of the Boston Herald, leaving about a year later on account of change of management and policy. I then entered the automobile business as a salesman, remaining with the branch I was connected with until its dissolution. For the next year or so I assisted my father in various ways, and managed his estate as executor after his death.

After the settlement of the estate, I joined a large shoe manufacturing company, working up to the position of Office Superintendent.

I was connected with the Coast Artillery, Corps M. V. M., for ten years, going through the different grades from private to Captain, and holding the position of Corps Adjutant when I resigned in 1912. Member: Harvard Club of Boston, Boston City Club, Neighborhood Club of Phillips Beach.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

Left College at the end of the freshman year to become associated with the cigar-manufacturing firm of Yocum Brothers.

The year 1903 I spent working in cigar factories and studying tobacco on the island of Cuba. During 1911 and 1912 I spent some time studying and buying Sumatra tobacco in Amsterdam, Holland. This gave me an excellent opportunity to make frequent side trips through England, France and Germany. Member: Harvard Club of New York, Wyomissing Club, Reading, Pa.

Charles de Young.

Born	San Francisco, Cal., June 30, 1881.
Parents	Michael Henry de Young, Katherine Deane.
School	Belmont School, near San Mateo, Cal.
Years in College	1901-1905.
Degrees	A. B., 1905.
Unmarried
Occupation	Journalist.
Died	September 17, 1914.

After graduation Charles de Young at once embarked upon the career marked out for him by his father and to which he was strongly inclined by inheritance and his natural inclination. He had travelled a great deal in early life and had resided in Europe several years during which he acquired a knowledge of French and German. While abroad he attended the College de Ste Croix in Paris and later he studied in a day school in Berlin. That perhaps accounts for the fact that he betrayed an eagerness to get into harness at once on his return to San Francisco from Harvard. His father, who had pronounced opinions respecting the desirability of thoroughness, interposed no obstacles and started him at the bottom of the ladder, placing him at the counter in the publication office. Here he was called upon to accept advertisements, receive subscriptions and to perform other duties assigned to clerks. His period of probation might have been much longer had it not been for the great catastrophe which overtook San Francisco in 1906. Charles might have gone on for several years serving an apprenticeship in every department of the San Francisco Chronicle, had not the calamity presented the opportunity which he promptly seized of making a short cut to the position which he was fitting himself to fill. Concurrently, with the visitation the Chronicle lost its business manager, and his duties were promptly assumed by the ambitious young man. In the disorganized condition of affairs which endured for some days, he acted with such promptness and decision, and was so helpful in the work of putting the paper on its feet that his father, the sole proprietor of the paper, abandoned his earlier plan and put him in charge of the publishing department.

Although his time was largely occupied by business details he developed a lively interest in the conduct of the editorial end of the paper. He was in close touch at all times with the editor, and was constantly endeavoring to obtain a comprehensive view of the problems which called for editorial treatment; but his most pronounced inclination was for the news side of the publication he expected to have the direction of at some future time. He was gifted with that perception of what constitutes news which only the born newspaper man possesses, and those who knew with what decision and promptness he could act predicted that he would become a great editor.

His work was not confined to the administration of the affairs of the paper. He took an active part in civic affairs and used his highly developed talent for organization in promoting schemes for the benefit of his fellow citizens. He was one of the Directors of the Panama Pacific International Exposition and spared much of his time in assisting to promote that great project.

Socially he was a great favorite. His genial disposition endeared him to all of his associates. He had the remarkable faculty of knowing men, and probably had a more intimate knowledge of the two hundred and fifty or more employees of the paper than any one else about the establishment.

RECORDS OF THE CLASS

His untimely death which cut short what promised to be a brilliant career was caused by an attack of typhoid fever contracted it is supposed by drinking water from a disused hydrant at a country resort. He died on the 17th of September, 1914, after a short illness, lamented by all who knew him, and his death was generally recognized by the American press as a loss to journalism.
